

Q. That is both Mr. Favel, who died and his widow are Treaty Indians?

A. Yes, taking Treaty?

Q. What improvements have they made on the place?

A. There was no improvements at all, just a garden, potatoe field.

Q. Did they build any house there or did they live in the house which was there?

A. They moved off the old building and are putting up a new house near the road.

Q. On the road? A. Yes, they are living on it.

Q. What is that worth, that last house that they built?

A. It could not be worth more than $100.

Q. Then the whole improvements would not be worth more than $100?

A. There is nothing, just a little fence and a garden that is all.

Q. Did Prince make any improvements on the lot before he sold it?

A. Oh, yes, he had some potatoe field.

Q. Was there a house on it?

A. Oh, there was a house at the time Prince had it.

Q. Did he live in that house himself?

A. Yes, before he sold it and after he sold it.

Q. He was living in that house at the time of the transfer?

A. Oh, yes.

Mr. Heap-

Q. Did he have any part of the lot gardened or fenced?

A. Yes, there is some potatoe field.

Q. Acre, half an acre?

A. I think there must be more than an acre.

Q. And he did that, he was farming that at the time of the transfer?

A. Oh, yes.
