PRAISE FOR PERCY BROWN.

The Globe: A great deal of the credit for maintaining general public interest in cycling in Charham is due to Mr. Percy Brown, the affable manager of Atkinson & Rispin's cycle emporium. Himself a fast un, his ambition is to develop speed in the novices, particularly the youngsters who are devoted to the wheel, and so well is he succeeding that there are a score of young riders, his proteges, in Chatham who are fast coming to the front and will next season make their mark on the track. Mr. Brown has been holding a series of racing events at Peninsular Park, the next of which is billed for Wednesday night. Liberal prizes are hung up, events all fill well and hundreds go down to the park nights to witness the really fine sport. The cycling spirit in the Maple City is anywhere but on the decline.

BIG CROWD WENT DOWN LARGE NUMBER ALSO WENT TO CLEVELAND.

The seventh annual excursion of Thames Lodge, No. 101, Sons of England, was held yesterday to Erieau, where a regatta and a pregram of other sports were put on. Jointly with the Sons of England the Excelsion Band ran an excursion to Cleveland; and both affairs were a grand suc-cess, large crowds from Chatham and surrounding points being in attendance.

At Erieau the day was pleasantly spent, the City Band being in attendance afternoon and evening. Fishing was fairly good and the day was an ideal one for yachting, rowing and bathing.

In the afternoon all interested in yachting were drawn to watch the three races brought off. There was a very light breeze blowing and for this reason the regatta opened with the

YACHT RACES. The starters were: Berenice, sailed by Harper; Erie Boy, Bounsall; Banshee, Harper; Youkon, Young; Louise, Rutley; and Bessie, McKeough. At the first buoy the Bessie pulled out of the race owing to lack of wind and before the second buoy was reached the Yukon and the Louise did likewise. When the yachts were on the last leg of the course the breeze freshened a When the yachts were on the last leg of the course the breeze freshened a little and the Berenice came in winner of first prize, a fruit dish valued at $5. Whether the second place belongs to Erie Boy or Banshee is an open question. The starters' tug had pulled out after starting this first race and the buoy alone was there to mark the finish Harner on the Banshee the finish. Harper on the Banshee came up to the buoy while the Erie Boy lay wide of it. The tug did not come back after starting the first race, the yachtsman starting them-

On the turn of the last buoy the Erie Boy went over and Claude Mc-Kenzie, son of Capt. McKenzie, of the Cleveland Scots Guard, had a narrow escape from drowning. He could not swim and, when rescued, was found to be under the sail of the capsized yacht with a rope twisted about his neck. He was got out in time and none of the crew of the Erie Boy is any the worse for the wetting.

Theodore Bourassa's bar-tender Jack Frazer, had just retired for the night when his attention was arrested by a sound as of the street grating to the cellar being moved. Hasten-ing down stairs and out into the street he was just in time to see someone disappear into the darkness and could hear a noise in the cellar. Arousing Mr. Bourassa, Frazer informed him of his discovery. While he was gone on this errand the boys could not have got out of the cellar, even had they got out of the cellar even had they known that for the moment the coast was clear, as their companion, having closed the grating after them, had been compelled to temporarily leave them and, as the grating is about six feet and a half from the floor, they could not have raised it and were securely imprisoned.

When Mr. Bourassa got down the two went to the front of the hotel, and P. C. Dezelia on his beat across the way, noticing the unusual stir, came over and learned its cause.

The officer went down into the cel-lar and there found Johnson and Gur-naey trying in vain to hide behind The boys are said to have pleaded arnestly with Mr. Bourassa, to let them go, but he was obdurate. He had missed bottles of liquor before and could not learn where they went, but now thinks he holds the key to the mystery. An examination of his goods discloses the fact that bottles were discloses the fact that bottles were missing from cases he had never opened. The losses pointed to someone familiar with the premises and the arrest of Johnson, who was for some time behind the bar there, seemed to make everything clear. Gurnaey and Johnson had at the time of their arrest a couple of bottles of liquor ready to take away and stated that they had intended to spend Chatham's civic holiday in Toronto and wanted something to drink during their outing.
