OPENING MEETING OF THE EVANGELISTS IN BOSTON-IMMENSE CROWDS IN ATTEND ANCE-BOSTON TO BE SHAKEN AS A MO THER SHAKES A CHILD. Bosion, January 28.-Rarely, if even as there been witnessed such a scene o aspired Christian enthusiasm and sincere devotion as was manifested at the opening neetings of Moody and Sankey at the Bos ton Tabernacle this afternoon and evening It seemed as if the whole community had turned out to listen to the great evangelists, and it was specially notable that all through the services there was apparent the most devout feeling. Certainly Mr. Moody never commenced a series of revival meetings in this country under more favorable auspices, and the popular antici pations are greatly in error if the evangelist's predictions do not prove true, that, what he has accomplished in other cities will be nothing compared with what he

The Grand Tabernacle, erected at the expense of over $50,000 and with a seating capacity for 6,000, could not accommo date more than a quarter of those who came to both afternoon and evening meet. ings. Indeed, so large were the crowds who came that outside meetings were open ed in a couple of neighboring churches and the limits of these were inadequate to the demands made upon them. The Grand Tabernacle was filled in a very few m ments after the doors were thrown open the aisles, however, being kept clear by an ample police force, to admit of a speedy exit in case of fire or accident. The au diences, both afternoon and evening were of a miscellaneous character comprising men and women of all creeds of the pro minent and middling classes, and evi dently many whose ears were strangers to the Gospel in any form.

The first and second service menced with commendable promptness, the first at three and the latter at a quarter to seven o'clock. A variety of hymns were sung by a large and selected choir under the direction of Professor Touriee while the audience was being seated, and immediately thereafter the choir and con now leave Richibucto at 5 p. m. and are gregation united in chanting-Nearer my God to The
