Bank of Montreal Annual Meeting Marked by Striking References to Part Played by Dominion and Lays Down Policy For Country's Guidance. Campaign of Thrift Strongly Urged. Bank's Record at Front.

Canada's position in the great European war, the policy the Dominion should follow in order to be all the better prepared for post-war conditions—the resolve of the country to continue to give, in youth and money, full assistance to the great cause were among some of the outstanding features of the Ninety-Ninth Annual Meeting of the shareholders of the Bank of Montreal held at the head office.

The importance of the announcements made and their bearing on conditions that the Dominion should follow in order to be all the better prepared for post-war conditions—the resolve of the country to continue to give, in youth and money, full assistance to the great cause were among some of the outstanding features of the Ninety-Ninth Annual Meeting of the shareholders of the Bank of Montreal held at the head office.

There was no misunderstanding the firmness of the suggestions, as it was clearly shown that many of the shareholders called in to the meeting, and the shareholders were quick to give their hearty support to the suggestions.

FIVE HOT MEALS SERVED DAILY TO BRITISH IN FRONT LINES

Enemy Rations Almost Wholly of Tinned Goods—German Divisions Forty Days in Trenches Without Relief.

A despatch from the British Army front in France says: The problems of transport have been solved satisfactorily, and now attention is being largely devoted to ameliorating the iron hard condition of the British troops in the winter fields and trenches. Heavy sheepskin and leather coats and jackets have been issued to the men, and warm and dry rest billets provided for those in the support reserve positions. Best of all, however, Tommy in the front line gets five hot meals daily. There is breakfast at 7, dinner at 12, tea at 5, and soup or stew at 9 and again at 2 o'clock in the morning.

From reports received from German prisoners and observations made during raids the British have discovered that conditions on the German front are very different. Along most of the new lines formed by the Battle of the Somme the German front trenches are merely a broken stretch of linked-up shellholes, with no deep dugouts and only a few improvised hiding holes, where two or three men can take cover from the shrapnel.

British reports from the Somme section say the German communication trenches are impassable from mud and the shelling of the British guns, so that all the carrying of supplies and the bringing up of reliefs have to take place over the open, without cover of any kind. That is why the British guns continue to hammer the back of the German lines in the fog and rain. Often the shells or bombs from the British side throw up fountains of water high in the air from the German trenches. There are no floor boards or other trench comforts available for the Germans owing to the unceasing fire of the British artillery.

Thus far this winter German prisoners say their troops in the west have not been supplied with any sheepskin, leather or fur coats. They have received only woollen vests, body bands and mittens. Normally, prisoners say, they are supposed to be in the trenches not more than from 14 to 18 days, but some divisions lately have remained there 40 days and over without relief. The rations consist almost wholly of tinned meat, sausage, herring, sardines, rice, bread, coffee and mineral waters. Recently a daily ration of brandy has been issued to the men in the front line. For rest the men often are crowded into damp cellars.
