The great word hunt contest closes May 20th. All lists should be sent in without delay.

We have received a copy of the Erdball and Mercur, published by A. Larisch, of Vienna and prize it as one of our best exchanges.

We would call special attention to the advertisement of Mr. Thomas Semmes, which appears in this issue. His stock is very complete, and contains a very large assortment of rare United States stamps.

We will send this paper remainder of year and also a rubber stamp, with any name, ink, pad, etc., for only $1. Price of stamp is alone $1.

The Wolverine Collectors' Journal is a new venture, emanating from Manchester, Mich., with B. E. Smith as editor. We wish it success.

Mr. H. S. Jeanes has sold his stock of stamps, etc., to a retail dealer in Philadelphia, and will hereafter sell on commission for wholesale dealers.

We have changed the name of our venture to THE CANADIAN PHILATELIST AND NUMISMATIST, and hope to make the new department interesting and instructive.

We would request the publishers of stamp papers to send their journals regularly in exchange for ours. Some have been a little delinquent in this respect lately.

We are still offering THE CANADIAN PHILATELIST for one year free and also a beautiful silver-plated butter knife for only 50c. Procure them while the supply lasts.

Mr. Henry Hechler, of Halifax, N. S., has informed us that he has been ordered on active service in charge of the 63rd Rifles, which he commands. He started for the North-West Territory on April 11th with his company to assist in suppressing the rebellion of the Indians there. Correspondents not receiving any reply to their letters
