A CYCLOPÆDIA WAR.

An honored publishing house whose history is reputed to extend back into the last century, and whose wealth has been estimated at $8,000,000, is that of J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. The largest and most important J. B. Lippincott & Co. publication ever issued by them was in connection with the great publishing house of Chambers, of Edinburgh, Scotland, and London, England, that of Chambers's Encyclopædia, which, many years ago, they published at the (so called) low price of £30, afterwards reducing the price to $40, and some years later, as the result of a rupture with the British house, in consequence (it was said) of the Lippincotts' $50.00, making changes in the American edition contrary to the spirit while still using the name of Chambers, the same Encyclopædia was brought down to the still lower price of $25. Now, in the glorious year of 1881, moved, of course, not by the spirit of rivalry, but by the generous and laudable purpose of placing useful knowledge within reach of the people, with loss to themselves, they are issuing an edition of the same great work, Chambers's Encyclopædia, which is said to be revised to date (edition of 1866) something with census figures altered? which they are offering at the wonderfully low price of $15 for the complete, in 10 great octavo volumes. Even at this astoundingly low price they allow the large discount of 40 per cent when purchases are made in large quantity. The Army of the Literary Revolution always rejoices at the multiplication of good books at low prices, and the AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANGE is delighted with the opportunity of uniting with the great publishing house of Lippincott in furthering the sale of this work; and to demonstrate the earnestness of their good-will they propose, so long as the Lippincotts chose to continue the manufacture at this nominal price, to furnish the public with the Free Advertisement (cents for cost of handling,) delivered in New York city, or sent by express or freight to any part of the United States or Canada, considering the munificent liberality of the Lippincotts' terms, it has seemed a great pity that their modesty should prevent them from advertising more widely, and we therefore supplement their generosity by scattering this advertisement broadcast for them at our expense.

The Literary Revolution

Has not the honour of a century's history, and its present cash capital is only about $175,000. It was started only so long ago as September, 1875, with $70 cash and a few old books, and two years thereafter had reached the dignity of a garret in an Ann street junk-shop, its "army" consisting of one man and a small boy, and from the character of the place, chambers's Encyclopædia lecturers (b - d b - gs) being far more numerous than customers for books. But by January, 1879, the Revolution had accumulated sufficient strength to print one small volume, which was increased to a product in 1880 of over one million volumes. Its 600. Broadway, and its factories several other buildings elsewhere in the city, and it gives employment to about 600 hands. One item of its present large list of standard publications is an edition of Chambers's Encyclopædia, in 15 handy beautiful cloth-bound vols., which Universal Knowledge is selling at the low price of $6 per set (lately reduced from $7.50). This edition is a verbatim reprint of the London edition of 1880 (instead of that of 1866) something, as in the case of the Lippincotts, with the alteration of a few census figures; Chambers's Encyclopædia, however, is a foreign work, and it could scarcely be expected that such a work, edited and published for a foreign market, would give as much prominence to American topics as American readers might desire. To supply these and other deficiencies, we are now issuing under the title of the "Library of Universal Knowledge" a new edition of Triumphant in fifteen large octavo volumes, large type, in which a large force of American editors and writers have added about 15,000 topics, covering about 3,000 octavo pages, thus thoroughly Americanizing the work, and making it nearly 40 per cent larger than the original Chambers's, 10 per cent larger than Appleton's, and 20 per cent larger than Johnson's Cyclopædia. Of this edition, ten volumes are now ready for delivery, Volume XI. will be ready May 24th and the remaining volumes at intervals of a few days thereafter. Price per volume in cloth, $1.10 in half Russia, gilt top, $1.50.

"First come, first served," is an old motto which we have supplemented by "Lowest prices to earliest purchasers," and accordingly, on this edition, we are for a few days offering the 10 volumes now published at the net price of $8.75. This price will very shortly be increased.

Of course the 15,000 topics and 3,000 pages of new matter added in this edition are not to be found either in the Lippincott edition, nor in our own $6 edition. Both of them, however, are excellent works, remarkably cheap, and serve a good purpose for those who cannot afford the new and enlarged edition.

Five Thousand Book-Sellers. Specimen pages showing type and giving full particulars will be sent free on request. Throughout the United States and Canada are prepared to either abundantly supply or liberally slander our publications. We give liberal terms to clubs where no bookseller acts as agent. Descriptive catalogue and illustrated pamphlet describing book-making and type-setting by steam will be sent free on request.
