Thirty little denizens of the downtown district, Toronto, appeared in the Juvenile Court for the unusual offence in children so young of being drunk. They confessed that they had obtained whiskey from two older boys, and these when questioned admitted having made money selling whiskey to smaller boys. When asked where they obtained the liquor they gave the name of a bootblack and a bartender in a small hotel. The bartender was fined $10, and a warrant is out for the bootblack, who had been summoned and did not appear.

Amongst those who were brought out to Canada by the "Lake Champlain" from England last week were four generations of one family. In the opinion of the officers of the ship, never before in the history of navigation has a vessel had on board a great-grandfather, a great-grandmother, a grandmother, a mother, father and a baby girl. The four generations were in the steerage and were the most interesting family group on board. They debarked at Quebec, and proceeded to the West, where—the great-grandfather stated—he intended to settle and go in for farming on an extensive line. The names of those composing the family group are: Mr. and Mrs. Nixon, great-grandfather and great-grandmother; Mrs. Walls, grandmother; a number of sons and daughters of Mrs. Walls, among them being a married daughter, Mrs. Johnston, and her husband. Mrs. Johnston became a mother six months ago and ushered into the world a girl, who became the fourth in descent to a hale and hearty old couple. Speaking about the family one of the officers of the "Lake Champlain" stated that the great-grandfather, great-grandmother and grandmother were all as healthy and active as they could be, being both vigorous Scots from Perthshire.

Bill Smith, a country storekeeper, went to the city to buy goods. They were sent immediately and reached home before he did. When the boxes were delivered Mrs. Smith, who was keeping the store, uttered a scream, seized a hatchet and began frantically to open the largest one. "What's the matter, Mandy?" said one of the bystanders who had watched her in amazement. Pale and faint, Mrs. Smith pointed to an inscription on the box. It read: "Bill inside."

Bishop Rowe for a second time has declined to leave his missionary diocese of Alaska, this time for the Bishop-Co-adjutorship of Southern Ohio.

The Bishop of Edinburgh has appointed the Rev. Canon Hoernle, the rector of Holy Trinity, Leith, to be Chancellor of the Cathedral of St. Mary, Edinburgh.

On a recent Sunday an unusually beautiful memorial mosaic of the Resurrection, made of Venetian stones, was unveiled in the Church of the Epiphany, Chicago.

The Church of St. James the Greater, Bristol, Pa., was consecrated 200 years ago, and its bi-centennial anniversary was appropriately celebrated on St. James' Day and the three following days.

After the consecration of the Bishop of Truro and Bishop Stileman, thirteen Bishops assisted the Primate in the act itself. The service was held in St. Paul's Cathedral, and the Dean of Christ Church, Oxford, preached the sermon.

The present Bishop of Sodor and Man, Dr. Thompson, has been pre-
