A FALSE IMPRESSION. There appears to be no doubt of the fact that so far as Premier Laurier is concerned, as also other members of the cabinet, the Treadgold grants have been passed in the very best of good faith.

The prime minister has stated his views which may be summed up very briefly. He is of the opinion as are the great majority of people in this territory that a plentiful water supply is the great need of the district. The government, he intimates, cannot take up the matter of installing a system such as is required therefore he concludes that a private scheme such as is contemplated in
