COUNTY NEWS.

MALLORYTOWN.
MONDAY, March 9.—The Odd-fellows here issued a magnificent ball to be held at the grand hall, and finished and furnished in grand style.

The late excitement in Quabbin seems to have died out somewhat, even Court House Avenue is not as full as of yore.

One of the Rearbacks used in the late election was that if we had free trade flour would be $7 per hundred.

ELBE MILLS.
MONDAY, March 9.—Dr. James Hall of New York is spending a few days with his parents here.

Mr. Jas. E. Bates recently purchased a fine Stearns piano.

20 cents per doz was paid for eggs the day before election, and the next day explained the why and the wherefore.

Another of our young men, a resident of the west end, is reported to have fallen a victim of cupid darts, and will join the benedict ranks in a short time.

An elderly gentleman from Saginaw street went to Athens one day last week and it is feared fell into bad company, for on the return journey the "little mare" became unmanageable and the occupant of the cutter was thrown out and left beside the road. A neighbor came to his rescue and brought him safely home.

Send 25c and get a trial of the Leaves for three months.

Mr. H. Roberts, of Shartot Lake has the smallest terrier in Ontario. It weighs just one pound.

La Grippe is playing and havoc at Fort Logan, Col., where 80 soldiers are in the hospital and four deaths have taken place.

Mr. H. Peoples, an old man near Franklinville, had his feet so frozen on his way home from Smith's Falls recently that both limbs will have to be amputated.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad is said to own more cars than any other road in the world.

Some of the farmers in the vicinity of Newboro, tapped their trees on Friday last and report that the sap flowed.

Charles L. Curtis, the tallest man in Lockport N. Y., being nearly seven feet in height—died of typhoid fever on March 1st, aged 23 years.

The 1,200 inhabitants of Yuma, Arizona, have been compelled by flood to take shelter in the penitentiary, which is on high ground. For 22 miles east of the town the railroads have been washed out of sight.

Mr. Currie, of Port Elgin, light-house keeper of Cove Island, shot a white deer near his residence. He sent the carcass to Toronto and had the whole animal set up, which cost him $100.

An exchange says that total abstinence dinners are becoming so frequent in London that enough distasteful facts have been compiled to produce the suggestion that invitations to such entertainments should be marked with a blue ribbon.

A negro named Green saw a Mr. Goodson, of Darling county, B. C., give his daughter $500 to take to a neighbor. Green followed the young woman, cut her throat, stole the money and threw her body into the creek. He has been arrested, and lynching is feared.

Since the enactment of the McKinley law, the Ogdensburg Journal says a good many farmers from Canada have crossed the river at this point, seeking homes in the United States. Last week six farmers crossed with their families and household goods, and three left for Canada, where they will reside in the future.

As Mr. Wm. McIntyre of the Upper Bonnechere, was filling a hollow tree, he was surprised to see an old she bear come out of it. He managed to kill the bear and when he cut down the tree found two cubs inside, one of which was badly injured by the falling of the tree and died shortly afterwards, the other cub is alive and doing well. They were apparently about 3 or 4 days old.—Eganville Enterprise.

Evidently the contest in Prescott was a pretty warm one. According to the Ogdensburg Journal an affidavit was made on Wednesday afternoon before a Prescott magistrate charging a prominent Conservative of that place with hiring Liberals to leave the country until after election. He was charged with bringing thirty across the ferry to that city in one day, and taking about the same number of Americans to vote the Conservative ticket.

One day last week a bear was seen on the railroad track near Kempville by the engineer of a train, who blew the whistle to frighten it off. Brain, however, refused to move and the whole train passed over its body.

The Senate of North Dakota has done nobly for the cause of Prohibition. It was feared that the re-annulment of the Prohibition amendment to the popular vote might result in a triumph for the liquor interest. But the Senate of that State has just reversed its former vote for re-submission, and has also expunged from its records the very notice of that vote. Its former action was disavowed, and every desire shown to be free from the memory of it. This is a swift and decisive victory at a time when fraud and corruption have begun to attack the western forces of the State. It is hoped that the influence on South Dakota will be beneficial. In that State also a vote for re-submission was passed, and it is to be hoped that it meet the same prompt reversal as in the case of North Dakota.

To the Editor of the Reporter.
DEAR SIR,—While perusing the columns of the Reporter of last week's issue, I accidentally read the idiotic prattings of your hare-brained scribe at Elbe Mills. Why Sir, you could almost distinguish the color of his whiskers, such were the fox-colored words used. I'm afraid he must be at this very moment suffering from nervous prostration, after having his imbecile brain on the rock of torture for one whole week, trying to eliminate three or four sentences, frivolous items. Blue pills would be utterly useless for the Elbe scribe, inasmuch as physiological digestion I believe, is normally good, but alas! I fear he is troubled with mental dyspepsia, or mental starvation probably due to enjoying too much of his own society, and that of his household. Come ye Elbe prodigal, leave off chewing and rehashing the dry husks of your diseased mind, come, I say, and join our Mechanics' Institute and procure some good literature wherewith to reclaim the particle of sound brain yet remaining, don't, for the sake of your family name, speak about morality or moral starvation, only take just one snuff of the morality of your dear grandfather and I venture to say the stench thereof will quite overcome your delicate olfactory nerve. Come ye Pharisae, ye Mary Magdalene, come down, off your high pedestal of morality, and read the first stone, if ye be without sin.

PLUM HOLLOW.
MONDAY, March 9.—The general proprietor of the Branch on Lake street has started a base in connection with his Hospital which meets all trains at Soperston.

Wm. T. Stevens is away visiting friends in New York.

The report is that our lower end wife secession has met the United States Government for damages done by pensions. What about (corn-meal). The professional hen-trader of Lake street has made his polite snark for country. We would recommend breath pills if he intends to still continue driving out with the fair sex.

The fire engine in connection with the street sprinkler did valuable service at the late fire, in extinguishing the fire on the windows.

Lake street can boast of one dude who thinks that a colored pair of spectacles worth five dollars will catch a New York war widow worth five thousand.

LYNDHURST.
SATURDAY, March 7.—The excitement over the elections has died out and our village has resumed an aspect of quietness.

Walter Gould started for the west morning intending to join his father in Michigan. We wish him success in Uncle Sam's Dominion.

Mrs. John Roddick, who has been with friends in Port Hope for some time, returned last night.

Who went to the B. & W. station for a voter, loused him over night, drove him four miles to the polls and then found that he had no vote?

Mr. Campbell who has been doctoring our clocks and watches lately, left us yesterday to take up his abode in Athens.

J. E. Roddick is with us again after two weeks' absence. We are glad to see that he has regained his former good health.

DELTA.
DELTA, March 9.—The election has ended at last. Considerable betting was indulged in, Charley having the largest share of the booty.

Messrs. Dehaut & Curtis of Queens, made us a brief visit on Thursday. Of course they voted all right.

Some of our boys feeling rather jubilant over the election results, procured a little too much corn juice and made themselves conspicuous on our streets.

A large crowd of the Sons of Temperance expected on Tuesday for the purpose of organizing a district lodge for the county. Several prominent members from Toronto will be present.

Revisiting Vermilyes, formerly of Ogdensburg, and Rev. Wm. Wallace commenced Sunday evening to hold evangelistic services, and we sincerely hope that good results will follow.

While crossing the Upper Lake with a load of hay, Luther Stevens narrowly escaped losing his team of horses, this being the second time to have a cool bath this winter.

ADDISON.
SATURDAY, March 7th.—Mr. Thos. Brown of Mt. Royal, has moved into our village, having leased Mr. Charles Taplin's farm. Mr. Taplin intends to spend this season in the Western States.

Our King street tea merchant paid our village a short visit on Thursday last and removed all tariff barriers and introduced Unrestricted Reciprocity next door to the Grand Central.

Mr. Joseph Mowen has moved to King street and now occupies the villa left vacant by Mrs. Prichard, who has gone to Brockville to spend the winter with friends there.

Mr. Wm. Williams and staff of Mt. Pleasant have moved their hospital to Lake street where it will be more central for the institution, and be in closer proximity to his real estate which he intends improving quite extensively this season.

There have been special services held in our church for the past few weeks, and which have resulted in much good being done.

Mayor Wiltse of Brownstown, passed through our village this morning with his celebrated sawing machine, he having a call from the front of our township.

High School, Athens Mar. 2, 1891.
The Board of Education:
GENTLEMEN,—I take pleasure in submitting for your consideration, the following report of the high school:

ATTENDANCE.
Number of pupils enrolled 163
Average attendance for Feb. 150
In regard to the large attendance, I may say that it has exceeded our most sanguine expectations. In February, 1889, the attendance was 110; in 1890, it was 130; and to-day it is 163. So large an average attendance is also a matter for congratulation, when we consider that there has been a good deal of sickness in our midst during the winter.

It may be interesting for you to know whence our pupils come. I classify them, in detail, thus:—
Village of Athens.....96
Stardard.....22
Elizabethton.....22
Rear of Yonge & Essex.....20
Front of Yonge.....12
Lansdowne.....11
South Crosby.....10
North Crosby.....10
Kitley.....10
Newboro.....5
Frontenac.....5

I regret to say that there are some persons in the county who have not felt warranted to take the school in place for pupils, as soon as the entrance examination is passed, is the high school. Such persons, I fear, are laboring under the delusion that such pupils can do as well, at least for a year, at the public school, as at the high. As a consequence of this, pupils, who have taken up but two or three of the high school studies, expect when they enter the high school, to take the work of room 1 instead of room 1. I admit that sometimes a pupil that has taken up high school work in the public school is prepared to take some of the work of room 1; but seldom is a pupil so proficient in the general studies as to take the higher work. Pupils should not be deceived, they should not be allowed to think that, if they spend six months or a year studying Algebra and Euclid, that they may be classified as pupils of room 1 on entering the high school. They require to make similar advancement in Arithmetic, Grammar, Literature, History, Geography, Book-keeping, and Latin or French or Science.

I mention this foregoing on account of the disappointment of certain pupils when they came to attend the high school.

I cannot see why a public school teacher, with classes ranging from the junior first to the senior fourth, should be asked to take up work which is done in the high school by teachers who are specially trained and who give to such work their whole time and attention.

I hope the day is not far distant when all will see the necessity of sending pupils to the high school as soon as the entrance is passed.

Respectfully submitted,
L. A. KENNEDY,
Headmaster.
