The Love Letters of a Christian Scientist.

My beloved Prince of the New Thought-I have been wondering to-day if our exchange of gifts seems as beautiful to you as it does to Most lovers exchange rings, but how much more your be-trothal gift to me really means! The thought that you have given me your well-studied and dog-eared copy of Science and Health with a Key to the Scriptures, and that I have given you my copy of the Mother's Words, thrills me to the heart-or would, if there were any reality in matter. (Heart would come under the head of matter, wouldn't it? And matter is reflected, of course, from mortal mind, which is evil.)

Do you remember the day, darling Vibration of the Mind Universal, that we sat together planning what we should represent at the Lemar's Book Party? It seems but yesterday! We decided that you would wear goggles and your college cap and gown, for you were to represent Science, and I, Health (trusting to my red cheeks, to treating the guests for Intelligence, warfare-a long one and full of diand to silent affirmations that I was Health), to reveal the name of our book-the Mother's Book-and our Engagement! (Do you know, Beloved, It goes to every affected part and they say the Mother has demonstrated kills the germs that keep up the diseased condition. Catarrhozone never irritates, but stimulates the mucous an immense fortune out of her Wordsreally, three dollars and fifty cents to give for them is something fierce, isn't lining of the nose, throat and lungs to it?) Well, we were just finding a way normal action, and keeps the nasal to represent the Key (by putting our passages free from offensive dischargselves in touch with the Way Univeres. Catarrhozone contains no darsal), when your mother came in and gerous drugs or opiates, and is deasked the day of the month, and apololightfully pleasant and simple to use. gized for addressing us in Eng Catazzhozone is an absolutely certain adding sarcastically that she didn't ure for any form of Catarrh and sells speak Christian Science! Ah, my Own, for a dollar at druggists, small size I have to vehemently affirm that I am 25c. Yours, with a Key to the Scriptures, would I could wear at my heart! It was so sweet of you not to select as the first manifestation of your Individual Love, some vulgar thing to dazzle the world, such as a grand piano. I would so much prefer having you simple, adorable Radiator of Hope, like Wisdom Hold me in your Thought, as I hold you in mine even as Thought Universal Mind)-holds us both to its breast! And come in to tea soon-P. S .- You remember, Bobby, don't you, Beloved? The poor child has such a frightful claim of superfluous fleshactually, the neighborhood boys call him "the fat boy of the circus," but he is getting strongly in accord with the Principle of Life and will yet demonstrate his Freedom. Yesterday, Bobby was walking along with Ralph Hughes, ch it may be cramps or diarrhoea. # The Passing of the Horse.

Very early in the development of electric traction it was predicted that the use of the horse would ultimately decrease and perhaps dis-Electric traction has now. appear. however, been brought to a high degree of perfection, and yet the horse is still with us. Notwithstanding this, statistics show, we are assured editorially by the "Electrical Review" (April 19), that the horse is going-slowly, perhaps, but none the less surely. Says this paper:

"Some interesting statistics lately published by our lively French contemporary, 'La Locomotion Automo-bile,' show that in Europe the horse is rapidly disappearing in the various large cities. For example, in Paris the total number of horses in 1901, according to a municipal census of these animals, was 96,698, while this year it is only 90,796, a falling-off of about six per cent. In London, in the same period, the equine population has decreased ten per cent., while in Berlin, Vienna, and even in St. Petersburg, the same falling-off exhibits itself. This is partly due to the new trolley-roads, and very largely to the numerous and continual increase in the number of automobiles used both for pleasure and "In this country the supersession of the horse by the trolley-car has been absolutely astonishing in its extent. Probably to-day in New York there are not more than two-thirds as many horses employed as were used twenty years ago. So far, the automobile appears to have made no great inroads into the horse business, and it is likely that the extension of the use of automobiles will have to wait upon the growth of more scientific ideas regarding street-paving and road-making. However, the decadence of the horse is upon us, and his disappearance may be looked for sooner or later.

"As certainly as anything can be predicted the progress of engineering advance will totally extinguish the horse as a beast of burden. We may look forward with certainty and satisfaction to the day when cities at least will be horseless and when we will be removed from the tyranny of this animal, which has imposed upon us stone-paved streets, unending dirt, and, curiously enough, the house-fly-an insect dependent upon the existence of stables for its birth and breeding. What the future of the horse will be is hard to say. It is likely that horses will continue for centuries to come to be used as instruments of sport and pleasure, but the day of their emancipation from hard labor in the streets and roads is not far distant."

Earthquakes and Causes.

One of the most disastrous earthquakes of recent times is that reported from Russian Transcaucasia. The town of Shamaka has been practically destroyed, only a dozen houses being left standing, while a population of 25,000 has been rendered nomeless. The number of fatalities is as yet unknown. Over 300 bodies had been recovered at the latest accounts, To the student of a says the San Francisco "Chronicle, the interesting and suggestive feature in the Shamaka earthquake is that it has occurred in the neighborhood of the Baku oil district—the most productive field in the world, not excepting that of Beaumont, in Texas. It is, furthermore, a section of the world which has hitherto been exempt from these phenomena. The scientific en-quirer will naturally search for a cause, for cause and effect go together in the scientific analysis of all phenomena. Is the great natural oil reservoir tapped by the oil wells of Baku, on the shores of the Caspian Sea, located under the site of Shamaka, and has the tremendous drain of mineral oil from the same caused a void and a subsequent shrinkage in the earth's crust in that neighborhood? The en-quiry is not far-fetched. It is usuallyassumed that water takes the place of the oil withdrawn from the measures, filling the vacuum created by the lat-ter's withdrawal, but if the water, being more tenuous, should find an independent vent elsewhere, the yacrum created by the draining of the mineral oil would remain, and a shrinkage of the unsupported crust of the earth would naturally follow sooner or later. It has been suggested that the tapping of the oil measures in the southern part of California has relieved the mineral oil-bearing formations from the pressure of the gas created in them, and the possible subterranean gas explosions produced by excessive pressure, and thus removed one of the supposed causes of earthquakes in that There may be nothing in the theory, but it has been observed that the Los Angeles district has been notably exempt from seismic disturbances since the oil measures were tapped and vent given to the gases generated in Likewise, the theory that the Shamaka earthquake was due to the drain on the petroleum reservoirs in the Caucasus by the Baku wells may be entirely at fault. But the two phe nomena seem to invite the attention of the scientist, and open a new field for the study of seismic disturbances.

Bees in War!

We do not know that bees have ever been recognized as among the acces-sories of war, but there is an old army crowned not a European court sent than ambassador extraordinary; but story current in the Southern States and her Jubilee the Queen fortified of a party who were out scouting or England against another such slight foraging, probably both, one morning, by becoming grandmother to most of and saw a much larger party of the the ruling monarchs of Europe. The accommodation of so much royalty is enemy's cavalry riding down on them. It was useless to retreat across an open plain, for the horses could go faster than they, while to surrender meant giving the Royal host some anxious ments. London has no such assortfate but little better or perhaps ment of colossal royal palaces as most of the great European capitals. Marlttle worse than death. They gathered borough House and Buckingham Pal-ace will not lodge comfortably any behind a wall or embankment, resolved to sell their lives as dearly as possible save the privileged close relations of the King and Queen. It is said that when one of their number spied a stand of beehives a little way behind them. Quickly he communicated his idea to his comrades, and enough ran back to a large hotel near Buckingham Palace has been taken for the King's guests. and that several noblemen have placed each to seize a hive and throw it over the wall in front of them. Very quickly those bees were at work as bushy as if they had been sworn into the service, their London houses at King Ed-ward's disposal. After the coronation week many of the royal guests will visit Windsor and Sandringham, and and while the riders might have faced them, the horses would not, but were soon in full retreat a half mile away. Some of the boys got stung in trying ertain of the great country homes of England: so mighty preparations for elaborate entertaining are being made throughout the length and breadth of to send missiles more powerful than bee stings after the enemy, but they all the land, as well as in London, and the amount of money that will be hosreached camp again soon without needpitably spent during the season is being the surgeon's care.
