

CEPT LIQUOR O DRAW TRADE

the Excuse of an East End Foreigner.

Ben efacter cher Gets a Term In Jail For Theft.

At the police court this morning John clerino, 306 Sherman avenue north, charged by Inspector Birrell with ing liquor without a license. Through M. McLemont he pleaded not guilty.
Inspector Birrell stated that on March he and Constable Hawthorne went clerino's house, and going into the yard, looked through a window and two men and a girl drinking. He the policeman then went into the m and took the glasses away from trio. There were two kegs and one re of the room, one full and one pty, and 25 cents on top of one of kegs. A two-quart jar of whiskey a half emptied bottle of gin were found. In a chicken coop there were be empty kegs.

Constable Hawthorne corroborated this evidence.
Mr. McLemont argued there was no evidence against his client as to selling, the magistrate thought the money the large amount of liquor offset want of evidence of actual selling.

Maglerino was put on the stand. He he kept liquor to draw trade and to supply the boarders. He said he er charged a cent for it. On the it in question he asked the three le to have liquor as they were nds of his. He did not know his nd names when questioned by the er attorney. Mr. McLemont called ral of the boarders, who swore that two men had offered to pay Tag-no for the booze he supplied, but John ad to accept money for the liquor. he did not keep it to sell. Inspector ell told the court that he knew the who was with the girl, and he was ly to swear he was not a boarder house, but was a foreman at the plant.

Mr. McLemont contended it was ded and not proven that any money given for the drinks. He argued that was necessary before his client could be convicted.

he magistrate in his summing up the defendant had admitted all but receiving of the money. Mr. Mc-mont then asked for an enlargement bring the two men and the girl as messes, and Mr. Washington and the magistrate was glad of the chance to the strangers' version. The case accordingly adjourned until to-morrow.

Inspector Birrell said the two were enough without the evidence the girl, and she will accordingly rein in oblivion.

ment, called several witnesses, who Hirsch wanted to go to Toronto.

tion of allowing options and surrender which remains unchanged, was discussed at length. The report of the special committee on this subject was adopted.

It provides for a twenty-year term insurance on a scale of rates in which the better health of total abstainers is recognized. Also, it provides that any twenty years from July 1, 1906, on the renewal of his certificate, shall be entitled to a scale of rates based on the reserve value of his insurance.

DICKENS' CLUB.

Enjoyable Literary Evening at the Conservatory Hall.

About 200 persons attended the meeting of the Dickens' Fellowship Club in the concert hall of the Conservatory of Music last night, and spent a very profitable and pleasant time. Mr. C.
W. Bell, the President, occupied the chair. One of the most enjoyable features of the programme was a reading, with comments, from "David Copperfield," by Mr. E. M. Bell-Smith, of Toronto. In the course of the evening songs were sung by Mr. Ed. Skedden and Mrs. Sidney Dunn gave a recitation.

A large number of persons joined the club, which now has a membership of nearly 100. Miss L. A. F. Tudor is the Secretary, and she will be pleased to receive the names of persons desirous of joining.

GRAVEL PITS.

Hamilton Wants a Say as to These and Advertising Signs.

Toronto, March 20.—(Special).—City Solicitor Waddell, of Hamilton, appeared before the Municipal Committee this morning to urge the passage of one of the clauses of the bill introduced by Mr.
Morrison. The clause provides for the prevention, regulation and control of the location and making of pits and the erection of signs for advertising purposes, and also provides that the location and making of pits and the location and erection of signs may be restrained by the passing of a by-law. Mr. Waddell stated that in Hamilton gravel pits had been dug, until they adjoining private property, and the city wished to put a stop to it.

Hon. Mr. Hanna asked if the clause was to prevent owners from selling the top of their land so that it could be carried away, and Mr. Waddell replied that the city wished to prevent owners from opening up pits in sections of the city to the injury of the adjoining property.

Mr. Ferguson thought the city should have the right to define the location of gravel pits. There should not be any excesses in the midst of the residential districts.

Col. Hendrie pointed out that the city would have resort to the law in case of injury, but in the meantime no injury had been done. As the Municipal Assocation asked that the matter stand until a deputation could be heard, it was allowed to stand until Wednesday.

Mr. McNamara's bill to give corporations the right to vote on money by-laws was carried, but will not be reported this session, as it goes to the Statute Revision Committee.

LONDON OLD BOYS.

Meeting Last Night to Arrange For Reunion.

A meeting of the London Old Boys washied last evening in the City Hall to arrange for the reunion to be held at London, August 3rd to 8th next.

Mr. W. Yeates, President of the London Machine Tool Co., Limited, was appointed chairman pro tem, and Mr. Fred Harding, of the same firm, secretary.

Between 75 and 100 names of London old boys were handed in by those present, after which the members entered into a general discussion during which it was suggested, that Londoners residing here should communicate with the acting secretary either by phone or by card.

After having a good talk on the Forest City and Home, the meeting was adjourned until Thursday, April 2nd, when they will meet again in the same place.

VESSEL OVERDUE.

Plymouth, Eng., March 20.—The fish steamer Aeva, from Sierra Leone, March 2, with 156 men and women, including a detachment of a West Indian regiment on board, is three days overdue. Much anxiety is expressed for her safety. On her voyage up from Sierra Leone she put in at the Canary Islands, from which place she sailed on March 10th.

Fielding's Aid to the Banks.
(Toronto World).

Strong ministers of state have never hesitated to make the safety and well-fare of their country the supreme law, wherever assured that only in that way could the emergency be met. Mr. Fielding is entitled to ample credit for his assumption of that heavy responsibility.

ASK RAILWAY TO MEET BOTH SIDES.

as to whether line should be used in the treatment of the sewage here. The engineer at one of the disposal works says he cannot get along without lime, and the other engineer says lime is not necessary with sulphate of alumina. Dr.
Hodgett's decision is in favor of the sulphate of alumina. He says that it requires too much care to see that the lime is mixed in proper quantities. The chief cause of complaint by the engineer against using alumina is that the farmers refuse to use the sludge with alum-in it.

The deputation which went to Toronto yesterday to oppose the Bowyer bill as far as Hamilton was concerned feared that the rural districts are going to beat the cities out when it comes to a vote. If the bill passes it will prevent any municipality giving a company an exclusive franchise on its streets for any purpose, and will cut off some of the revenue that the cities have been obtaining in this way. From what Hon.
Adam Beck said, it was taken for granted that the Government intended dealing with trunk lines for the rural constituencies.

Individual, Not Municipal.
(Toronto Globe).

Premier Whitney owned to a belief in the reasonable application of the bonus system, and declared it neither wise nor right for one municipality to say to another that it shall or shall not do with its property. The weak point in this is the failure to see that all property is in essence individual, and that the municipal Council is not wasting its property, but the property of John Doe and other citizens. The bonus is not the exercise of a municipality's right to do as it pleases with its own, but an exercise of its power to take from John and give to Richard. There is no justification for putting any man's property at the mercy of two-thirds, three-fifths, or ninety-nine hundredths of his fellow-citizens. A prohibitive law is not a paternal guarding of the municipalities against themselves, but a guarding of the properties of individuals against spoliation by the majority.

The Rule of the Majority.
(Halifax Chronicle).

In West Toronto, which is represented in Parliament by a Conservative, Mr. E. B. Osler, there is dissension in the Conservative party, strong opposition having developed against Mr.
Osler's renomination. At a party meeting in the constituency last week Mr.
Osler said: "If any man thinks he has not got his way, let him bow to the majority." Yet when Mr. Fielding in the House of Commons a few weeks ago laid down the principle, which is after all the basis of democratic government, that the majority must rule, Mr. Bosden, Mr. Foster and other leaders of the Conservative party, harped upon it as if he had been guilty of promulgating some monstrous, subversive doctrine, instead of a commonplace of representative government.

Foster an Apostate.
(Toronto Globe).

Mr. Foster appears to admit now that the administration of Governments has nothing to do with good or bad times.
This is a complete abandonment of the ancient Conservative doctrine that their rule was indispensable if the property of the Dominion is to be maintained.

King of Terrors.
(Toronto Star).

Sick unto death, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman was visited by two queens the other day. When queens begin to call on premiers the King of Terrors is not far away.

Who Was It?
(Life).

The Professor's Wife—You haven't kissed me for a week.

The Professor (absentmindedly)—Are you sure? Then who is it I have been kissing?

The Judge—Madam, why did you claim that you were in the house-keeping business? The Crookness—I thought it sounded more classy than "shop-keep-
