Official Result, Point Games.

Bonavista and Victoria Trophies.
The Bonavista trophy was played for by the Terra Nova curlers, in company with the Mac-Mac curlers, who were playing for the Victoria trophy. Harvey Jardine and Thomas Winter tied on twenty-five points each, and decided to immediately play off with the famous and usual deciding shot of "out wick," in which they again tied; but, in the final Harvey Jardine won. The Victoria trophy of the Mac-Mac Curling Club was won by S. Ryall with the score of twenty-three. The ice was in wretched condition for point games, but as the afternoon players had commenced the game, it was necessary to finish on the same ice, which became very much worse as the play advanced after tea. Much interest was manifested, the new beginners made some elegant shots, which were loudly applauded by curlers and spectators.

Hon. Secretary.

CURE FOR WHOOPING COUGH.
Mrs. Wm. Ball, Bracebridge, Ont., writes: "My three boys had whooping cough and we could get nothing to help them until we used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It arrested the cough at once and they kept on improving until they were cured at the cost of one dollar. This was not a large bill for so dangerous and distressing an ailment."

St. Andrew's L.A.

Rev. N. C. Hannay lectured on "The Manner and Matter of Reading" at St. Andrew's Hall last night. There was a large attendance and the subject was treated in a very clever manner. Mr. Hannay said that he would make four pre-suppositions: (1) That Reading is an opportunity for self-education at the disposal of everybody; (2) that such a serious constituent of life as reading requires that we shall regard our attitude towards it as a duty; (3) that we as a literary people (presumptively) appreciate a moral attitude towards reading, that we cannot read what we will or as we will; (4) the aim of the lecture to be suggestiveness and not exhaustiveness. The lecturer divided the purpose of reading into four headings, viz.: (1) Information; (2) Recreation; (3) Stimulation; (4) Inspiration. Rev. Mr. Hannay dealt with the above in detail and gave a long list of books which he considered worth reading, according to the taste of the different pursuits of the readers. He also referred to the effects of too much reading, saying that it is best to read little well and digest it than to read much and forget all next minute. He referred to the number of great minds and deep thinkers in olden times when books were few. A small number of books well read in these days will give one a liberal education. The reading of magazines and works of fiction is so much a waste of time when indulged in exclusively. The young get false impressions of life from novels and suffer for it afterwards. At the close Mr. G. C. Fearn proposed a vote of thanks to the lecturer, which was seconded by Mr. A. Munn and supported by Messrs. J. J. McKay and E. Murray.

The Fleetwing Seaworthy.

The owner of this vessel asks us to contradict the statement made to our reporter by a couple of sailors that the vessel is leaky. In the letter he sent us he writes: "The vessel has a private leak, but I am satisfied from Capt. Linklater's examination of her (a report of which is enclosed) that the vessel is absolutely seaworthy. He says further, 'If I had any doubt as to the sufficiency of the vessel to carry her cargo well, I would not as owner of the cargo send the ship to sea.'"

St. John's, Feb. 19th, 1910.
W. B. Grieve, Esq.
Sir—Acting on your instructions I sounded the brig, Fleetwing's bells at 6 p.m. last night and sealed same at 8 1/2 inches. At 9.30 this morning I sounded same well and found 10 inches of water. The vessel made 10 1/2 inches of water in 15 1/2 hours, or % 1-16 of an inch per hour.

OBITUARY.

MR. JAMES EAGAN.

Mr. James Eagan, son of Mr. John T. and Mrs. Eagan (baker), Bell Island, died at that place on Thursday, Feb. 17th, after a long and tedious illness. Mr. Eagan had been ailing for a number of years but his illness did not become of a serious nature until lately. On Tuesday he was taken seriously ill, and in spite of all that could be done for him he passed away on Thursday after an illness of two days; death coming as a happy release from his sufferings. Deceased who was in his thirteenth year was one of Bell Island's most popular young men. His quiet and unassuming manner won for him many friends since coming here three years ago. He was always to the front in sporting matters here, and his early and unexpected demise is sincerely regretted by all who had the pleasure of knowing him. He leaves a mother, father, three sisters and five brothers to mourn the loss of a loving son and kind brother to whom the sympathy of the whole community will go out in their time of trouble. The funeral took place on Saturday morning, interment being at Belvidere Cemetery, St. John's.—R. I. P.

C. E. T. S. Meeting.

Rev. J. Bell occupied the chair at the meeting of the C. E. T. S. last night in the Synod Hall. There was a large attendance. The rev. gentleman delivered a very interesting lecture on the "Battle Against Intemperance." He spoke of fighting the evil by legislation, enforcement of the Act, intercessions and moral suasion. Fifteen signed the pledge, and nine men and three women were admitted into the Society by initiation. Recreation rooms are now being prepared for the members. These apartments are being fitted up in good style and will be a convenient meeting place for the men. These rooms have been all along badly needed, and the members are highly pleased at the prospect of having such convenient quarters for assembling in the nights.

Ramea Notes.

Dear Sir,—Our harbor to-day is almost clear of schooners. Messrs. Penny have five of their vessels up west fishing out of Rose Blanche and Channel. Their foreign vessel, Margaret Schwartz, sailed from Harbor Breton yesterday with a cargo of frozen herring. Messrs. Penny purchased those at St. Jacques and Jersey Harbor.

Our community is looking forward to being connected by telegraph the coming season, a want that has long been felt, more especially by the business men, who are certainly doing business at a great disadvantage, having to do it on a weekly or two-weekly mail service. The day is past doing business on those lines, in fact it cannot be done with success or satisfaction without telegraph.

We have a Government wharf under construction. This was started some time in June last; a few blocks and a few beams were put down. The work ended there for want of funds or material. The public are at a loss to know, probably it may not be either the one or the other. All you can hear on the streets is, "What about the wharf?" "What is the matter?" "Who is causing the trouble?" etc., etc. Going off in the stream, getting freight out of steamers in small boats by night in the winter is far from pleasant. Even after doing it for many years it is hard to get accustomed to it, and having no telegraph communication, not knowing where steamers are makes matters all the worse, even expecting the steamer at a time when she has not left Placentia. Both telegraph and wharf, Mr. Editor, have been agitated for the past twelve years. There is no end to the promises made. We shall have it next year, election year, etc. Our community for some reason or other is feeling fully persuaded we shall be connected by telegraph with the outside world the coming summer. We shall then feel we are a happy people, forgetting once and for all the grievances of the past and also our many years of isolation.

Yours truly,
CORRESPONDENT.

Star Society Concert.

Fully 500 members of the Star of the Sea Association assembled in their rooms last night despite the inclement weather, and were regaled with a concert given by several citizens of prominence. The President, E. M. Jackman, Esq., presided in his usual graceful way and made a fluent and happy speech before the opening of the concert. The programme was varied and interesting. Mr. P. J. McCarthy presided at the piano, and excellent selections were given by Messrs. McCarthy, Cornick, O'Neill, Burke, Healey, H. V. Tuft and R. J. Power. Little George Fairbairn gave an inimitable rendition of a cowboy's song. Each number on the program was heartily applauded, encores being frequently asked for. At the conclusion of the concert Mr. Jackman gave a lecture, taking as his subject "Character Studies," in which he especially reviewed the lives of Lincoln and Gladstone. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded all who took part.

Outside Evidence

This news item, clipped from the Philadelphia Record, points out the powerful effect that coffee exercises upon the nerves and brain—a fact we have often cited.

Small doses of coffee "get on" the nerves in a small way, and in most cases it takes some time before the nervous system and stomach are seriously affected.

Miss Chinberg's experience is exceptional only in the amount consumed and the correspondingly quick results. The caffeine in coffee gets in its work with every cup one drinks, and nature, in so far as possible, may or may not correct the harm done. You can tell by the condition of head and heart, nerves and stomach. If they are not right, try a comfortable change to

DURING SLEEP

Nature Repairs the Human Engine.

The activities of the day cause more or less waste of tissues in the human engine, which is repaired at night during sleep. The man or woman who can sleep well at night is sure of the necessary repairs, other things being right, to make each day a time of usefulness and living a real joy.
But let insomnia get hold of you and the struggle begins of trying to work with a machine out of repair. A Neb. woman's experience with coffee as a producer of insomnia is interesting. She says:

"I used to be a coffee drinker and was so nervous I could not sleep at night before about 12 o'clock, unless I would take some medicine. I was under the doctor's care for about five years and my weight got down to 82 lbs.
"The doctor said I would have to quit drinking coffee. Then my father got me to try Postum which he said had done wonders for him. I am past 43 and before I quit drinking coffee my heart would jump and flutter at times, miss a beat, then beat so fast I could hardly breathe. In enough air and I would get smothered."

"My tongue would get so stiff I could not talk and I could not hold a glass to drink from. Since I have been drinking Postum, in place of coffee, I can sleep sound any time I lie down, and feel I owe everything to Postum. I now weigh 120 lbs. and am well."
Read "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs.

POSTUM

It is just as satisfying and pleasing as coffee when prepared right, (directions on every package), and instead of tearing down the health, Postum will build it up. Thousands have voluntarily so testified, and you can prove it by trial.
