For Belvidere Orphans.

The annual collection for the or phans at Belvidere will be taken up at the Cathedral, St. Patrick's and St. Every one must admit that the caring for the orphans is a work which needs a large sum of money in order to carry it on successfully, and that the larger the number of orphans to be provided for the larger the collection must necessarily be. Year after year the collection has grown but at the of Assembly are illegal. But wrongdoing will out and the electorate know that they are not being dealt with fairly. It is reasonable under these circumstances that they should call for special vigilance on the part of the Auditor General and the Governor in from abuses of this kind. It will be remembered that Morris stated that he would "tear up the Audit Act" if it suited his purposes. It is the duty of the Governor and the Auditor General the Government's abuse of power by secretly voting money for purposes not provided for by Legislature last Session. WASHINGTON, To-day. The democratic leaders in the Ser ate will begin a supreme effort to out the Tariff Bill through before th djournment on Saturday Eleven European nations have file formal protests against a provision in the Bill granting five per cent re uction of duty on merchandise in ported into this country in American vessels. The list includes Britain Germany, France, Italy, Austria Spain, Sweden, Norway, Denmark Belgium and the Netherlands. President Wilson sent the list to the Se ate in answer to a resolution askin for information on the subject. Mos of the protests were filed several months ago with the State Depart-ment and sent to the Senate Finance Committee, but not made public. The nations protesting allege that five per cent. reduction violates existin reaties: John B. Moore, Counsello of the State Department, in a letter the message, interpreted the treaties in question to mean that neither contracting party shall charge lower rate duty on merchandise imported in vessels of other contracting parties. Secretary Bryan, in another letter said that beyond the filing of formal protests the nations interested had not pursued their contentions. France however, announced that if provision was adopted she would adopt one, and like action is expected from
