GERMAN STEAMER SUNK.

A Stettin despatch to Reuters says the German steamer Nordern, 5,397 tons, bound from Sweden for Germany laden with iron ore, was sunk north of Arcana, Rugen Island. The captain and crew were drowned.

AS FAR AS BERLIN.

LONDON, To-day. Lord Derby, the new Under Secretary for War, in an interview to-day said, "I want you to impress on the American people our determination to destroy the efforts of Germany for world dominion. The fighting is now terrible—so awful that no man actually in it, ourselves as well as the Germans, ever wants another war; but we must push our victory until we make it impossible for the German rulers to renew the conflict. We have no desire for the partition of Germany. Some of our Colonies may insist upon the restoration of the German Colonies, but that is not what we are in the war for; we want to prevent future wars; we want the United States to be with us further and further in this war, but hereafter." Asked how far the present offensive expects to go, he said "I don't know, but personally I want it to go as far as Berlin."

THE DEUTSCHLAND FARCE.

BALTIMORE, To-day. The German merchant submarine Deutschland cleared from the Customs House this afternoon, said Capt. Paul Koenig, her commander, said, "The time of my departure is indefinite." In reply to a question asked by the Customs officials for the benefit of the Pilot Association, Collector Ryan, with the approval of the Treasury Department, granted the request of the commander of the submarine that the manifest be withheld from publication for a reasonable time. Carl the German Consul here, said to-night that the Deutschland would not leave for a week. When asked why the departure was further delayed after the clearance papers had been taken out, the Consul would vouchsafe no explanation.

THE PREMIER IS OPTIMISTIC.

PARIS, To-day. Morris, Premier of Newfoundland, in an interview to-day with a representative of the Halifax News Agency declared that the Germans were beginning to realize that the war is practically finished. He had just returned from the section of the Somme front where the Newfoundland detachment is stationed. Before leaving for the front he was asked by President Poincaré and Premier Briarclaire to express to his countrymen in the trenches, France's admiration and appreciation of their splendid bravery. In his interview, he said, "the war is virtually finished," and the Germans are beginning to realize it. The battle of Verdun the greatest battle in history, is a victory for the French. It is the finest of all her glorious exploits and gave a new impetus to the whole nation. German prisoners with whom I have talked, officers wearing the Iron Cross, told me that the Emperor and his staff seem to hear that Germany has lost the game. The collapse of Germany is only a matter of time; when that day arrives we must see that victory won by our arms is not lost by diplomatic negotiations.

NOTED AVIATOR KILLED.

LONDON, To-day. Lieut. Otto Parshian given recently a decoration for bringing down his eighth enemy aeroplane, has been killed in action.

ABOUT TIME.

LONDON, To-day. It is expected that Asquith will announce in Commons that the three Germans who still hold British titles of nobility are to be deprived of their British honours. They are the Duke of Albany and the Duke of Cumberland, who are in the line of succession to the British throne, although remotely, and Prince Albert of Schleswig-Holstein.

BAD TIMES IN GERMANY.

LONDON, To-day. A despatch from the Hague says that the price of horse in Germany has doubled. Farmers are making fortunes selling rabbits at twenty-five cents each; the bad weather is spoiling the crops.

PETITION FOR CASSEMENT'S RE-PRIVE.

LONDON, To-day. The Premier received a deputation of Nationalist members of the Commons to-day, who had a petition signed by 390 of their colleagues including the Roman Catholic Bishop of Dublin, fourteen other Bishops and 119 representatives of Universities of learned Societies, for the revivification of Casement. The Premier promised a careful consideration of all the points.

DEUTSCHLAND STILL THERE.

BALTIMORE, To-day. If Capt. Paul Koenig of the Deutschland plans to start to-day on his return voyage to Germany, there was nothing on this morning where the submarine is berthed that showed signs of departure other than has been the case for the last few days. Over night developments in fact, tend to increase the probability of the report late last night that it had been decided to hold the Deutschland here until some word has been received concerning her sister ship, the Bremen.

CONQUEST OF ARMENIA.

A despatch from Petrograd says on the Caucasus front the Turkish retreat is in the way of becoming a stampede. Erzingan is burning. With this city in Russian hands, the occupation of all Armenia, which was delayed after the capture of Trebizond by a sudden renewal of Turkish resistance, will be accomplished; in fact the Turks are retreating west and also southwest, apparently with the object of protecting the Bagdad railway and guarding connections with Syria.

Burin Mourns.

Special to Evening Telegram. BURIN, To-day. Burin mourns to-day the death of Randolph Winter, the first of her gallant sons to fall in the fight for right and freedom. He was one of our prominent young men and up to the time of his enlistment in the Nfld. Regiment was Secretary of the Burin Lodge, A.P. & A.M. His death in action somewhere in France sounds as a trumpet call to others to go forward and take his place.

Sub-sea Trip on British "Tin Fish."

Crew Know Nothing of What Is Going On Overhead While Commander Directs Attack On German Ship.

A graphic description of the "life" in a British submarine about to attack a German ship is given in the following account: Look carefully and see how the green shadow, almost flush with the sea, blends with the gray waters and the gray sky. Her narrow deck is washed from end to end, her bow hidden in the white foam of the counter lathered in the foaming eddies of her wake. Behind the canvas "dodgers" of her ruddy bridge her excellency and helmsmen ply their trade, the only members of the crew visible, the others are at their stations in her well-lighted interior. Suddenly there is a sharp word of command, more men appear on her wet deck, all her movable gear—the wheel, the ventilation cowls, the compass, and other objects—is detached and taken inside her hull. The rails are turned down in one moment flush with the deck. Then everyone disappears; the hatch is screwed tight, the main ballast tanks are filled, the periscope is pushed up to its full height, and thus she prepared to dive to the wet shadowy realms of the cod and the conger eel.

Silence After Noise.

The roar of her oil engines has suddenly ceased. The silence seems strange after the thunderous noise, and now to take their place comes the gentle hum of the electric motors which drive her below the waves. The commanding officer, the helmsman, his eyes glued to the vibrating lens of the periscope. The stolid coxswain has the wheel controlling the horizontal rudders that work the boat in her trips below. The second coxswain has the wheel that steers her to port and starboard. The leading torpedoman at the switchboard controls all the electrical devices that man has chained to his will to work this strange ship. The torpedoman are at the fully charged tubes. The engine staff have seen that the water and oil are shut off and are now at the Kings of valves and "blow-down" (blow-off valves) on the main ballast tanks. Everyone stands in his station, blind to the world without, waiting for the commands of the one man who can see.

"Dive fifteen feet" comes the order quick and concise. The next moment the bow has canted down ever so little and the boat like a shadow has

THE BIG LEAGUE SERIES.

By Bert L. Standish, 75c. ea.

Here they are! Just what you've been looking for. Baseball and Romance combined, the most interesting stories ever written.

The author managed a league team a number of years ago and is thoroughly familiar with the doings of baseball players on and off the field. Father and son will find equal delight in reading these magnificent stories.

"Any Boy with Plenty of Grit," "Baseball at its Finest," and "The Girl in the Case"—these are the elements which compose the most successful juvenile fiction ever written. You don't have to be a fan to enjoy these books; all you need to be is really human and alive, with plenty of red blood.

COUNCILLORS ON THE BOUNDS.
—Councillors Mullaly and Tait visited Hamilton Street and Rooster's Lane this morning and inspected the drains and gratings. With a few slight alterations Hamilton Street could be made one of the nicest streets in the city, while Rooster's Lane, nicknamed since the war 'Dardanelles,' is so narrow and infested with filth that it is dangerous to the health of the people, who are compelled to make it their home.

slid below, guided by the steady hand of the first coxswain.

In the far distance a ship gray from truck to waterline, is speeding along the horizon, tossing a trailing haze of smoke from her belching funnels.

Torpedo Stations Make Ready.

"Torpedo stations, make ready!" comes from above. The firing reservoirs of the tube are instantly charged with compressed air, the caps covering the outside ends of the tubes are raised by "No. 2" of each tube, and water floods each chamber until it is full. A torpedo is then hoisted by a winding apparatus from a tiny vent inside the boat, tells the torpedoman that all is clear for firing.

The silence which now reigns is alone broken by the hum of the motors. Everything depends on the judgment of one man; the others see nothing, know nothing and have nothing to obey his will. The cruiser is now standing up a dark silhouette on the skyline. Not one of her people have seen the "plume" of the submarine's periscope heading straight and true to cut them off.

Already a string of concise orders is coming down from the command. "Finally, 'Starboard' tube—stand by." The tube is ready, "No. 1" (the chief torpedoman has jumped round to bang down the firing ball in case the electric circuit fails.)

Single Word, "Fire!"

The commander's finger crooks round one of the pistol triggers before him—very carefully he is aiming with his whole ship (for the tubes are fixed in the hull). Then comes the single word, "Fire!" There is a heavy thud, a momentary alteration in the boat's trim (at once corrected by the alert coxswain), and at the same instant over 200 pounds of explosive in the war nose of the torpedo goes hurrying away at forty miles to the hour.

The enemy notes the wake of the "tin fish"; there is a burst of flame from his secondary battery, and as the shells start on their screaming courses there is a fresh series of commands inside the submarine, and like a shadow her periscope has vanished, and she is plunging down to sixty feet below the surface, and turns and twists away, steered by clock and compass. All the while her crew are listening. Water is a good conductor of sound and will bring to their ears a message if the torpedo has gone "home." Suddenly they hear it—just a heavy thud—and on the instant they slip towards the world of fresh air once more. As the periscope projects the commander starts and ejaculates, "Good shot—right in her engine-room."

S. S. Picnics

Yesterday the following Sunday School Picnics were held, the C. of E. Cathedral and St. Michael's Schools, at "Haley's" farm, off Freshwater Road; St. Mary's (Southside), Mount Pearl; and Wesley (Methodist), at McDougall's farm, Blackmarsh Road. Needless to say that the little ones enjoyed themselves immensely. A feature at the C. of E. outing was the number of "scravels" as the children delight to term them. His Excellency the Governor's little girls were present and from well-filled receptacles in the carriages fairly showered "sweets" amongst the larger scholars. Rev. J. Brinton seemed also to be in his glory helping the little girls dispose of their "wares." Return to town had to be made rather early—owing to the rain—but all enjoyed themselves fully.

Here and There.
