Trenching
AT GALLIPOLI,
By JOHN GALLISHAW.
The personal narrative of a loyal Newfoundland soldier in the disastrous Dardanelles campaign. An adventure-story stranger than fiction; as well as a reliable account, by an unusually keen participant, of the gigantic failure at Gallipoli.
For obvious reasons not a great many details of the Dardanelles campaign were permitted to be published while it was running its dramatic and terribly costly course; nor since, either, for that matter. Mr. Gallishaw, a student at Harvard when the war began and now, wounded, again in this country, is at liberty to write about what happened. His book, moreover, gives an extraordinarily vivid impression of what trench-fighting and trench-living is like.
If you haven't heard or seen it, get it now.
Illustrated from photographs.

Sole Agents for Nfld.
Notice to Seamen.
1. The Masters of all sailing vessels clearing from Newfoundland ports for Portugal, Spain and European ports, with cargoes of fish for the European fish markets, shall forward to the Colonial Secretary a statement giving the full names of each person upon the articles of birth, place of residence, and complete information as to his dependents and their residence. The statement shall be certified to be correct by the Customs authorities of the port of clearance before the ship is cleared for the voyage.
2. Upon the receipt of said statement by the Colonial Secretary and upon his being satisfied as to the correctness thereof, he shall issue a certificate to the effect that the Newfoundland Government will be responsible to the seamen whose names are so listed, in the event of any such seaman being taken as a prisoner of war, cast away, or injured as a result of any war operations, and in the event of a result of any war operations, the said seaman and his dependents shall have the advantages of all allotments, pensions, emoluments and privileges as if the said seaman were at the date of the casualty a member of the Newfoundland Branch of the Royal Naval Reserve and the casualty had occurred in the discharge of duty.
3. Payment, if any, hereunder shall be made on the certificate of the Colonial Secretary.
R. A. SQUIRES,
Colonial Secretary.
