More Water .- Excavations are being ade at the Grand Trunk Passenge Station with a view to providing the employees and travellers with good fresh water. A depth of about twenty feet has dready been reached, but as yet there seem to be no signs of moisture. We trust this laudable effort will be successful.

In his descent he fell on his side across one of the brackets of a lower scaffold, causing so severe injury to a number of his ribs that he will be una-ble to do anything for some time. It is with difficulty he can move at all.

THE HAMPTON SINGERS .- This part of colored people gave their concert last night in the Town Hall to a very large audience. We have often heard negro nusic given by negro imitators, but we have pever heard it so well rendered as it was last night by the real negro. Some of the singers, male and female, have splendid voices; the parts were well balanced, and the music—sometimes plaintive and peculiarly sweet, some-times quaint, and at other times gro -was rendered with a correct and expression that won all hearts. We cannot give the party too much praise for their great mysical ability, and for their disinterested and patriotic efforts in raising funds for the Freedmen's Institute at Hampton, Va. At the close the Rev. Mr. Ball expressed on behalf of the audience the great pleasure they had experienced in enjoying such a rich musical treat, and in their name he wished them every success in their noble efforts for the elevation of their race.

OFF TO THE LONE LAND .- On Monday last, 1st inst., Messrs. R. B. Fawcett, J. Troupe and J. Medill left the neighborhood of Drayton for Manitoba.
