

Neither Saved Nor Earned.
Railroad people have an arrangement by which they can register the speed of a train. It looks like a steam gauge and is connected with the axle, so that the pointer registers the number of revolutions every minute. There are so many revolutions to the mile, and by an ingenious arrangement the number of miles an hour is shown up on the dial. The apparatus is expensive as well as delicate.

The late Jay Gould was one of the first to adopt it, and shortly after a register was placed in his private car. Mr. Gould explained the mechanism and the usefulness of the machine with great care. Mr. Sage was silent for a moment and then, looking up, inquired:

"Does it earn anything?"
"No, I think not," said Mr. Gould, with a smile.

"Does it save anything?"
"No."

"Then I would not have it in my car."—Chicago Record.

Shooting Stars.
Sir Robert Ball, the eminent astronomer, once told an audience that any one who took the trouble to lie on his back on the ground and gaze at a clear night sky would, as his eyes became accustomed to the heavens, soon perceive numbers of shooting stars.

Mania for Operations

Among the Doctors. No Need of the Knife to Cure Piles. A Sure, Cheaper Easier Way, Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dread of the surgeon's knife causes multitudes of people to suffer on year after year with piles, when they could be cured without risk, expense, or danger of an operation by using Dr. Chase's Ointment, the only preparation guaranteed to cure any case of itching, bleeding, or protruding piles.

Rev. J. A. Baldwin, Baptist minister, Arkona, Ont., writes:—"For over twenty years I was a great sufferer from itching and protruding piles. I used many remedies and underwent three very painful surgical operations, all without obtaining any permanent benefit. When about to give up in despair I was told to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and did so, finding relief at once. I used three boxes, and am almost entirely cured. The itching is all gone. I have advised others to use it, believing it would cure them as it has me."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is the only positive and actual cure for every form of piles, 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

SORROW IN ROME AND ITALY.

Assassination of King Humbert

Felt by

The Murderer, Angelo Bressi, was a silk weaver at Paterson, New Jersey, until May 7—says he had no accomplices—Queen Victoria wires condolences to Humbert's widow—Cheering for the young king.

Rome, July 31.—Thousands of telegrams have been received from all parts of the country indicative of the deep sorrow of the whole nation. Everywhere the work of the day yesterday, and the business and theatres were closed. In the principal cities the principal authorities are considering plans to honor the memory of the murdered monarch.

Cheering for the young king.
At Mezzana a procession marched through the streets cheering for the house of Savoy and the young king. At Palermo an imposing demonstration proceeded in solemn silence to the municipal offices to express the sorrow and indignation of the population, after which a vast crowd cheered the king. There were similar demonstrations in other towns.

MORE DETAIL FROM MONZA.
Last Words of the Assassinated King—His Assassin's Appearance.

Monza, July 31.—It appears that when King Humbert was wounded he exclaimed: "It is nothing."

The royal carriage covered the distance between the Gymnastic Society club house, where the crime was committed, and the royal villa, at full speed, requiring but three minutes. The king expired at a bed, was dead when the doctors arrived.

Bressi is young, tall and swarthy. It appears that he remained four days at Prato and two days at Bologna, after which he came here.

Queen Margherita's Heart Broken.
When Queen Margherita arrived at the villa it was still hoped that the King would survive, and when the truth was broken to her, a heart-rending scene ensued. Bursting into tears, she exclaimed:

"It is the greatest crime of the century. Humbert was good and faithful. No person could have loved his people more. He was one who bore ill-will to none."

When the Queen's mother arrived there was another affecting scene.

The Assassin Under Guard.
The assassin is strictly guarded in prison. He continues to preserve absolute indifference, and took his meals yesterday without any sign of being affected by his position. A second revolver was found on the public stand in the gymnastic grounds.

The assassin's name is variously given as Angelo and Gaetano Bressi. He was born in Prato Nov. 10, 1869, and is a weaver by trade. He comes from America, where he has resided at Paterson, N. J. He says he had no accomplices and that he committed the crime because of his hatred of monarchial institutions. He reached Monza July 27 from Milan, where he had stayed a few days.

Want Leave the Chamber.
The room where the embalming is proceeding is already filled with flowers. The Queen herself placed a wreath on the bier, and knelt and prayed beside the body, and, in spite of the entreaties of the princes and princesses, she refused to quit the death chamber, which is in charge of Count Jurri, the late King's aide-camp.

Body Will Be Embalmed.
The expression of the dead King's face is tranquil, and even smiling. The corpse was blessed immediately after death. It will be embalmed.

ALL ROME IN MOURNING.
Excitement is intense and people openly weep on the streets.

Rome, July 31.—Signor Saracco, the Premier, left for about 7 o'clock last evening with the Vice-President of the Senate, to draw up the certificate of death of the king. The Prince of Naples is at Prato on his return voyage.

Signs of Mourning.
Signs of mourning began rapidly appearing throughout the city yesterday forenoon. Grief was displayed on many residences and public buildings, draped portraits of the murdered monarch occupied many points of vantage and flags flew at half mast everywhere.

To Be Buried in the Pantheon.
King Humbert's body will be brought to Rome and laid to rest in the Pantheon.

It is stated that the name of the assassin does not appear in the list of dangerous Anarchists known to the police.

Excitement is intense.
The excitement and the emotion here consequent upon the assassination of King Humbert are momentarily intensifying. People snatch newspapers from the vendors and eagerly peruse them in the street, openly weeping for their well-loved sovereign.

Everywhere the shops are closed and the nation is in mourning.

All Italy Mourns.
Rome, July 31.—Telegrams from all the towns and villages of Italy show that all the country deeply mourns the death of the king. Everywhere flags are half-masted, and shops are closed. All garrison towns shops are saluted with one hundred guns, while at the naval ports minute guns were fired. The municipality of Milan half-masted its flag and published a manifesto obituary the horrible tragedy. The bourse at Rome has closed and not a shop is open.

News for the New King.
Corfu, July 31.—The King of Italy was expected to arrive here last night. A telegram from Queen Margherita awaited him announcing the assassination of King Humbert and her own heartbroken home.

News for Monza.
Monza, July 31.—Maria Pia, Queen of Portugal, left for Monza yesterday.

Waiting and Been Given.
Paris, July 31.—The Temps says the Italian Government was warned June 30 that secret anarchist societies had decided on the death of King Humbert and four other sovereigns.

WHO THE ASSASSIN IS.
A Resident of Paterson, N.J., Where He Was a Silk Weaver.

Paterson, N. J., July 31.—The rumor that Angelo Bressi, who was arrested at Monza, Italy for the assassination of King Humbert had lived here, created quite a sensation in the Italian quarter.

Yesterday afternoon after a diligent search among the Italians it was learned that a broad silk weaver named Angelo Bressi, aged about 32 years, had worked in the silk mills here, by the name of Bressi, in this city up to May 7 last. He left for Italy about that date, and nothing has been heard of him since.

During his stay here of him since about six months, he lived at the Hotel Bartholdi, 325 Straight street. Those who knew him say he was of a quiet temperament and an inoffensive man. It is said that he had a wife and a 7-year-old daughter, who lived somewhere in Hoboken, and that he visited them regularly every Sunday. Where they lived or whether they accompanied him on his return to Italy, could not be ascertained this afternoon.

THE NEW KING PROCLAIMED.
Proclamation from the Queen Regent Announces the Ascension.

Rome, July 31.—A proclamation from the Queen Regent has arrived, announcing the ascension of the new King, and stating that Parliament will be convened after the funeral.

Several warships have started to meet King Victor Emmanuel. It is reported that Emperor William will attend the funeral.

The Socialists and Anarchists have issued a formal condemnation of the crime. The police have made several arrests of suspected persons on the theory that a conspiracy exists.

Will Investigate the Charges.
Ottawa, July 31.—Mr. James Smart, Deputy Minister of the Interior, speaking of the rumors emanating from Winnipeg in respect to the land sales, explained that reports had come to the department during the last two or three weeks in which charges were made affecting the action of one of the officers appointed to conduct the sale of school lands at two or three points.

Mr. Smart says that immediately on receipt of information on the subject, steps were taken to ascertain what ground there was for the charges. The whole matter is now being investigated, and as soon as the department is in possession of the reports, which have been ordered, a thorough investigation will be ordered.

Tried to Wreck Sea Train.
Ottawa, July 31.—A stone weighing between 400 and 500 pounds, was placed on the Canadian Pacific Railway track near Britannia, some time Saturday night, and it is alleged that the object was to wreck the "Sea" train from the west, which reaches Ottawa about 4 a. m. The stone was, however, struck by a slow-moving freight train, and although the engine was damaged, it kept the rails, and no person was hurt. The affair is being investigated.

Swedish Lumber Goes Up.
Ottawa, July 31.—A report from Mr. Sontum, Commercial Agent for Canada in Norway and Sweden, has been received at the Department of Trade and Commerce. In it he states that the prices of lumber have risen 15 per cent., and that the season's catch of cod has been 50 per cent. greater than last year's. Mr. Sontum will be in Paris on Sept. 1 to meet Canadians anxious to open up trade relations with Norway and Sweden.

Evidence of a Second Plot.
Buffalo, July 31.—A Tonawanda special to the Buffalo Courier says that a wallet was picked up at the Central Station in this city last night, which had evidently been dropped by a passenger, and which, when examined by the police, disclosed two documents which are considered as proof of a second plot to blow up the Welland Canal.

A Barnyard Boy Drowned.
Huntsville, Ont., July 31.—A young man named Robert Gray, about 20 years of age, was drowned in the East River about four miles from here on Sunday morning whilst in bathing. The body has not yet been found. He had no friends here, and was a Barnyard boy. A married sister lives somewhere in Toronto, it is said.

Lord Minto at Vancouver.
Vancouver, B. C., July 31.—Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Minto arrived by the Imperial Limited yesterday. They were received at the depot by Mayor Gordon and the aldermen.

South Ontario Election Trial.
Whitby, July 31.—The protest against the election of Hon. John Dryden is set down for trial on Sept. 10.

Prince Alfred, Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, Better Known to Canadians as the Duke of Edinburgh, Succumbs to Heart Paralysis—Had Cancer of the Throat and by His Demise He Escaped a Lingering Death—Sketch of His Life.

Coburg, Aug. 1.—Prince Alfred Ernest Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg, died at 10 o'clock Monday evening at Rosenau Castle, from paralysis of the heart. Sad News Unexpected.
London, Aug. 1.—The news of the death of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, second son of Queen Victoria, has created a sensation in London. It was totally unexpected. There were many callers at Clarence and Marlborough Houses, and the Lord Chamberlain's office. Flags were half-masted. The Queen was deeply affected.

The funeral of the Duke will be held at Coburg on Aug. 3. On that occasion the Duke's body will be taken to the Victoria Memorial, where it will be placed in a coffin of mahogany, or his body will be taken to New York, or his body will be taken to Canada.

Bellevue, Aug. 1.—The inquest into the collision at Madoc Junction on Thursday last was concluded Monday night, and the jury returned a verdict that the occurrence was due to lapse of memory on the part of Conductor Kerr, and Engineer Maybee of the Madoc train in running on the time of the Peterboro train.

A Memorable Voyage.
In the beginning of 1857 the Duke of Edinburgh sailed from England on that memorable voyage he visited nearly every country in the world. He proceeded at first to Australia, where he remained some time. At every place he visited he was most enthusiastically received, the inhabitants of the various localities vying with one another as to who could do him the greatest honor.

Attempt to Assassinate Him.
While in Australia occurred an incident which might have had no evil results, but for the fact that he was so much calumnied. This was the attempted assassination of the Duke, whilst at a public picnic at Clontarf, N. S. W., organized in his honor, by a hare-brained individual named O'Farrell. This attempt was made on March 12, 1858. The attempted assassin was speedily captured, tried, and suffered the penalty of his crime on April 21 in the same year.

Visited the Mikado.
Leaving Australia, the Duke proceeded to Japan, where he was royally received by the Mikado, and then continued his travels in Asiatic waters, visiting China and then India. In the vast eastern peninsula the cordial greeting extended to him was only equalled by that accorded to the Prince of Wales, when eight years later he paid his celebrated visit to the Queen's Indian subjects in 1875-76.

On Jan. 23, 1874, the marriage of the Duke of Edinburgh to the Grand Duchess Marie of Russia took place at St. Petersburg, the event being celebrated with the greatest pomp and ceremony. The Duke and Duchess after their marriage, went on a lengthy tour, and made their public entry into London on March 12, 1874. It was a very singular circumstance attending the marriage of the Duke and his bride that the first thing which attracted her attention, and which she asked for information respecting, was the Guards' monument in St. James street, in memory of the Guardsmen who had fallen in the Russian war 20 years previous to the period now being spoken of.

The Succession.
Among naval commands held by the late Duke, his most distinguished one was that of the Mediterranean fleet, which he held from 1884 until 1888. On the death of his uncle, the late Prince Consort's brother, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, on Aug. 2, 1893, the Duke of Edinburgh succeeded him in the title on the throne. He will himself be succeeded by his nephew, the Duke of Albany, who has all but completed his 16th year.
