MR. CLANCY, of Kent, tried to wheedle the electors of West Lambton into voting for the Tory nominees last fall. His still hunt failed. Now Meredith has sent Lawyer Fitzgerald, of London, to try another tack. The dodge is altogether too transparent.

Not a newspaper outside of Ontario, either Liberal or Conservative, has a word to say against Hon. Oliver Mowat's Administration. A great many of our contemporaries have discussed the probabilities of the coming election, and all agree that the Government will be sustained. They envy the Province in having such a Government, such a Premier, and such a record. No other Province or State in the neighboring republic is without debt.

MR. CHARLTON, speaking as a consistent exponent of the Equal Rights Association at Ripley the other night, said Mr. Meredith is and has always been under the thumb of Sir John Macdonald. "The Ontario Tory leader," said Mr. Charlton, "would be just as ready to bid his bidding again as he was when he sought to betray his Province at the bidding of his Ottawa 'boss' by attempting to surrender 93,000 square miles of its territory. Mr. Meredith's conversion was too recent to inspire him with confidence. He could not forget the 'Facts for Irish Electors,' issued under Mr. Meredith's supervision in 1883, nor the fact that he had concurred in all the legislation relative to separate schools up to last session. The fact was that Mr. Meredith and Sir John were on interchangeable terms, and the movement was, in his opinion, a conspiracy to capture Ontario for the arch-political manipulator at Ottawa. It was an easy thing to make professions and take positions when in opposition, but an entirely different thing to take definite action under the responsibilities of office, and if Mr. Meredith were in power he could not carry his colleagues or his party with him in the line of his professions even if he desired to do so. It was simply another move in the line of 'Facts for Irish Electors,' a political trick which he hoped would deceive no Equal Rights Liberal elector."

DISREPUTABLE TACTICS. Mr. W. C. Caldwell, of North Lanark, was the only member of the Legislature on the Government side who voted with Mr. Meredith on his clap-trap bills and resolutions respecting separate schools. And while it is the fact that Mr. Tooley and other friends of Mr. Meredith in the West are attacking the Government because it did not see fit to accept the bills and resolutions of Meredith, Creighton, French & Co., the friends of Mr. Meredith, in North Lanark are actually using Mr. Caldwell's votes to turn the Roman Catholic vote of the constituency against him and assist in electing the candidate of Mr. Meredith's party. A more disreputable line of political conduct can hardly be conceived, yet it is in complete accord with the tactics of the Tory Opposition in this campaign. But Nemesis follows close upon the heels of that party, and her justice will be measured out to them on the 5th of June.

BALLOT SECRECY. The Ontario ballot is identical in the same as that in use in England. Many natives of England now living here have voted in the old land. Did any of them ever hear that it was not secret? The fact is it is thoroughly secret, except in the case of twinning, ordered by the judges of the land, because of ballot-stuffing or other grave irregularities. The Tory agents know this, yet they industriously circulate the untruth that how they know is known to the authorities. On the other hand, taking Hon. Mr. Chapleau, Secretary of State in Sir John Macdonald's Cabinet as their authority, the Dominion ballot is not secret. Here is what Mr. Chapleau said in the House of Commons last session: "The honorable member for West Durham (Mr. Hickey) has stated that there were doubts as to the absolute secrecy of the votes given under the present system. I have no doubt that if people wish to know how others have voted, they can find out, in a crowd of any size, especially with respect to those who have not sufficient education to take their papers and give their votes themselves. If there are any objections between the voter and the election agent, the voter may, by consulting his cross in a certain way, show the agent that he has voted according to his promise. I found in my experience that the agent could tell by looking at the ballot whether certain voters had carried out their promises. I had the misfortune at one time of being obliged to ask for the opinion of two or three of my fellow countrymen in a case in which the ballot-box in which I was acting as counsel, for having stuffed a ballot box, and by this means changed the result of the election. I must say that the present system does not give absolute secrecy and security to the voter.—(Hansard, page 292, 1880.)"

THE STATUS OF THE OPPOSITION. The lists of Parliamentary candidates are now all but closed. In all save five constituencies the Opposition have men in the field, either straight Tories or Equal Righters of Tory proclivities. The old members of the party are generally to the fore again, though several are missing, and in a few cases gentlemen who held seats in former Legislatures are again seeking public favors. We have accordingly a chance of taking stock of the men and forming an opinion of their possible value for cabinet material. In the last Legislature, as indeed in the last three Legislatures, the personnel of the Opposition was notoriously weak. Excepting Mr. Meredith himself, there was hardly a man in the party who could on the score of fitness be entrusted with a portfolio. There was not one who was fit to be named alongside the members of Mr. Mowat's Cabinet except by way of contrast. Mr. Mowat with his great ability, long experience, solid sense and eminently judicial qualities of mind, was a tower of strength to the Government, to the House and to his party, and he has always surrounded himself with capable colleagues, the least of whom is a match for Mr. Meredith. And more than that, there are enough able men on the Ministerial side out of which to organize two or three Cabinets. Mr. Meredith, on the other hand, has at the best but a few third-rate men about him, and the majority are not superior to the members of an ordinary county council. We refer particularly to his followers in the last Legislature, Creighton, the two Clarks, Chaney, French, Monk, Blythe, Tooley, Willoughby, Wylla-Creuss—who would ever dream of seating any one of those men on the treasury benches? Mr. Creighton and H. E. Clarke are probably the best of the lot, and both aspire to the office of treasurer; yet they both deny that the Province has a surplus in spite of the fact that last year the receipts of interest on special funds reached the large sum of $855,000. Capitalize this amount at 5 per cent, and we show a surplus of more than $7,000,000, and the Treasurer claims $9,427,232. Still with evidence so obvious as the interest paid into the treasury, earned upon special funds and investments, Mr. Creighton and Mr. Clarke broadly assert that there is not only no surplus, but that the Province is in debt. With such a demonstration of their incapacity for a portfolio that is confessedly the easiest in the Cabinet to hold, what has any reasonable man to expect of Mr. Meredith's friends as prospective members of a Government? Who would think of intrusting such men with the administration of a great Province like Ontario? And if the best men at Mr. Meredith's hands are of this quality, what is to be said of the second pick? What is to be said of the new men who are aspiring to seats in the Legislature? We have not a word to say against any one of them personally. They may be very decent folk for aught we know; but in the case of the old members it is a charity to pass them by in silence, and of the new men it can be said of very few that their names were ever before heard of outside the bounds of the municipalities in which they live. Who, for instance, has ever heard of Hutchins or Morgan outside of the county of Middlesex? Or Godwin and Douglall Hamilton? Or Godwin and Douglall Hamilton outside of Elgin? Or Jones and Hamilton outside of Brant? Or Fox outside of Essex? Or McGilliivray and Coulter outside of Lambton? Or Masgrove, Roberts and Holmes outside of Huron? Or George and Tennant outside of Bruce? Or Patterson and Parrot outside of Kent? Or Wilson and Butler outside of Oxford? Or Craig and Miscampbell outside of Simcoe? Or Potts outside of Wentworth? Or Hampton, Long and Macdonald outside of Wellington? Or Gibson, Clendinning and Robinson outside of York? Or Miller and Glendinning outside of Ontario? Or Hiscott outside of Lincoln? The fact seems to be that if there are any men of capacity in the Tory party there are none among them who have any confidence in Mr. Meredith as a leader who can lead, and so he and his supporters are discounted all round. He has no timber out of which a passable Cabinet could be constructed.

EDITORIAL NOTES. LONDON now boasts of a "Society for the Promotion of Relaxation from Business Care and Enjoyment during Luncheon Hours."

OUT of respect for the countrymen of Livingston Mr. Stanley has agreed to visit Scotland before he fulfills any other provincial engagement. He is to arrive in Edinburgh on June 9.

This electric microscope promise to make some wonderful revelation in the world of science. At a recent medical congress in Europe, microscopic preparations under a magnifying power of 11,000 lines were made visible to an assemblage of 300 persons. The pulsating heart of a dog and the heart beats produced by suffocation were successfully demonstrated.

PERHAPS Jenner did not discover vaccination. In a graveyard at Worth, Dorsetshire, there is a tomb with this inscription: "Benjamin Jenney, of Downhays, died April 10, 1816, aged 73. He was born at Yetminster, in this county, and was upright, honest man, particularly known for having been the first person who introduced the cow-pox by inoculation, and who, for his great strength of mind, made the experiment from the cow on his wife and two sons in the year 1774."

It is always best to avoid danger. If possible, therefore, there is one rule which ought to be taught in every school in the Canada, and that is: Never hit an electric wire on the ground. Never touch an electric wire on a pole. It may not be dangerous, but it is like the "unloaded" gun—it may kill you.

The Bishop of Liverpool is not in entire agreement with some of the directors of societies for the care of young women. At a meeting of the Liverpool Rescue Society he said: "I do not quite agree with the White Cross and other societies which look upon all young women as lambs and angels, and all young men as ravening wolves going about seeking whom they can devour. I think human nature is the same in females as in males, and that young women are often as prone, unless there is a good principle in them, to run into sin as young men. We must look at the matter in a common sense manner."

NEW PUBLICATIONS. Harper's Monthly for June has been received. It is splendidly illustrated, and contains the following: Fort Tarasound, by the Last Adventures of the Illustrations of the Caucasus, by Alphonse Daudet; Through the Caucasus, by Vicome Eugene Melchior Devogne. Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich. The man whose career is checked too often ends by wearing stripes. The great lung healer is found in excellent medicine sold as Bickel's Anti-Congestive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, and all forms of bronchitis, croup, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption.

So far it has been too cool for boys to be drowned while swimming. Mr. Job Seales, of Toronto, writes: A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in bed a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lynde's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it cured and restored me from the prostrations this expression of my gratitude.
