For Canadian Enterprise.

I have been much interested in an ecounit in your issue of the 11th of the views of Mr. T. S. Hobbs in the question of the "Annexation of the Bahamas."

While it may be no easy task to convincingly express difference of opinion roundingly express difference of opinion from a gentleman so evidelently able, from the standpolat of a British-side, from the standpolat of the them this colony, and who feels that Mr. Hobbs of the who has resided for many years in er who has resided for many years in er who has resided for many years in this colony, and who feels that Mr. Hobbs of the warm praise he are certain salient facts that Mr. Hobbs of the warm praise he Bahamas. Put to all those items these also: That our sponge beds are by n means exhausted, and our winter climate is second only to the verbest quality in the world," and that tobacco can be the tendency of some avors the idea of annexation than otherwise from the Canada these systems to prove how desirable a province we would be a statement of Mr. Hobbs rather favors he dea of annexation than otherwise from the Canada to province we would be formed that white and colored propole and province we would be formed that white section, we sensibly remember that white and colored propole as a fixed province we would be formed that white and colored propole as each of the same? Businessmen's Attitude.

I am certain that Mr. Hobbs is greatly misinformed on this point. What has struck me more than anything else since the inception of this movement has been the overwhelming majority of the men of business who favor the plan of annexation; provided always it would not be carried out on the rems too onerous for us. Why, the terms too onerous for us with hingly for the principle of union with hingly for the principle of union with this project. Now, an matca businessmen at present seem to be against drawing closer to Canada, is made up mainly of merchants in other West Indian connection with this project. Now, an matca businessmen at present seem to be against drawing closer to Canada, will interest in us. The colony has progressed materially in recent years, but not fast enough for the support of the population. Our lack of capital is in our way. Come over and help us to develep our resources. Canada could step in and do much for us, while she would enrich herself, and which he other liftish West makes an exceptions are deserved by influential men, but they are, so far as my observation goes, decidedly a minority. The colored people I have met are just as favorable.

Feasibility of the Plan.

For years my mind worked along the lines of a possible West Indian confederation, as does Mr. Hobbs' mind to be linked with Canada than for the Bahamas to be linked with Canada than for the Bahamas to be linked with Canada than for the Bahamas to be linked with the other Errich and the core make it: As a
