HAWAIIAN ANNEXATION

Treaty With the United States Sent to the Senate by President McKinley.

The Islands to Be Constituted a Territory With Local Legislative and Presidential Vote.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The Hawaiian treaty was signed to-day by Secretary Sherman for the United States and Messrs. Hatch, Thurston and Kinney for Hawaii. The treaty went into executive session upon it, and the message of President McKinley, accompanying the treaty, and the treaty itself, were read. There was some discussion as to when the treaty might be considered, and Senator White asked if it was the intention to push it at this session, and upon the reply being made that it was possible, the California senator said: "I desire to announce that I am prepared to stay here all summer to prevent the ratification, which I consider a very bad proposition."

The message of the President was not a very long document. It dealt with historical facts concerning the islands and showed that the United States and Hawaii yearly grow more closely bound to each other. The annexation of the islands, he said, and making them a part of the United States would be in accordance with the established policy of this country.

The President called attention to the fact that a legitimate and existing government of Hawaii offered to annex the islands to the United States in 1851, but on account of what was deemed best policy the annexation was not accepted by this country. The United States virtually exercised a protectorate over the islands since the first American mission and guaranteed the autonomy of the government of the group. The present treaty was in the light of a consummation of what had practically been in existence for years.

The Hawaiian government cedes to the United States the absolute ownership of all the public lands, and all other government property. It specifically provided, however, that the existing land laws of the United States shall not apply to the public lands of Hawaii, but that special laws be made from time to time for their disposition, the proceeds of any sales of these lands to be applied to educational purposes in the islands.

The islands are, for the present, to constitute a territory of the United States, their local laws remaining in force until new ones are made. The local legislature is provided for, but the veto power is vested entirely in the President of the United States.

Further immigration of Chinese laborers to the islands is prohibited, and the laws restricting Chinese immigration to the United States are made to apply to the prevention of Chinese removing from Hawaii to this country. This country agrees to assume the debt of the island republic to the extent of $4,000,000.

Senator Kyle, who is one of the most zealous of the senate's advocates of annexation, said to-day that a canvass of the senate indicated that there were 55 votes certain for annexation. The constitution requires a two-thirds vote for the ratification of treaties, making 60 necessary to ratify. Senator Kyle says there are fully a dozen senators who are doubtful, from whom to draw the five votes necessary to insure confirmation.

HER MAJESTY'S SIGHT

Good as Usual and No Truth in Sensational Stories of Sudden Blindness.

The Queen's General Health Satisfactory and She Insists on Completing the Procession.

WINDSOR, June 17.—Queen Victoria arrived here from Balmoral at 9 o'clock this morning. Thousands of people lined the route from the railroad station to the castle. Her Majesty looked the picture of health, and repeatedly bowed to her cheering subjects. Were it necessary to furnish proof of the utter falsity of the cruel and sensational stories circulated in the United States by New York newspapers, which alleged and reiterated that Queen Victoria had suddenly and unexpectedly become totally blind, thus derailing the entire Jubilee celebration, it could have been found in the bright and cheerful appearance of Her Majesty on arrival here to-day.

As to her general health, evidence of it being perfectly satisfactory for a woman of her age is furnished in the fact that it was at first arranged that on returning to the palace on Jubilee day, June 22nd, the royal procession would be reversed, in order to enable the Queen to return at the earliest possible moment, but Her Majesty has decided to keep in the same place along the whole route, thus involving another half-hour of fatigue in the streets.

They Had Been Willing to Pool Interests and "Divvy Up" the Big Subsidy.

OTTAWA, June 17.—The pulling and hauling by the rival British Columbia railway syndicates has led to both missing the plum. Yesterday Mr. Heine's representatives, Charles Hyman, ex-M.P., and A. S. Holt, of Montreal, had a conference with Dr. Milne, when a provisional agreement was reached, but when this was submitted to Mr. Gemmill, solicitor for the Vancouver, Victoria and Eastern, to-day, he reported against it. Dr. Milne, on behalf of the Coast line syndicate, thereupon notified Messrs. Holt and Hyman that the arrangement could not be carried out. The Vancouver syndicate telegraphed sustaining Dr. Milne's view.

PARIS, June 16.—The Journal des Debats, commenting to-day on the Hawaiian annexation treaty, says: "Only Great Britain and Japan have enough interest in Hawaii to oppose its annexation, especially Great Britain. In these times of imperial utility they will probably be lively regret at seeing the American republics extend their empire to the Pacific between Canada and Australia. Japan is not in a position to oppose American ambitions."
