

DESPATCHES

er on Trial for His fe at the Polls
-Day.

k Railway Will Be from the Start—
Trains Collide.

ed in Cash Burned
a Store—Premier
in Returned.

onist.

EDEN'S SEAT.

31.—The South Ontario
the Ontario legislature orrow. The candidates
r. Liberal, and Charles ative. Mr. Calder canthe last general elecfor bribery by Dryden be fight is sure to mor-

ALLWAY STRIKE.

31.—What amounts to an
to-day in connection railway strike. A con-
committee of citizens
men, and representaway company is being council is also in ses-the situation and will sures to bring about a strike.

ITS COLLIDE.

31.—Two freight trains in a fog on Saturday were. Bothwell, driver of retained injuries which pre fatal.

31.—The Lennox Liberated B. E. Ayres, advocate, has entered an approaching by J. W. Pe-

cker, on which some high grade copper was found. Mr. Pecker refused a terling offer for the property and will development work on it himself this winter.

ERATOR ASSIGNS.

31.—Joseph Warrington, as dealer in the signed at request of
He has many branches in Ontario and has the cheese and butter His liabilities are $500.

ED ADVOCATE.

31.—L. G. Belley, advocate, has entered an ap-
proaching by J. W. Pe-
cker, on which some high grade cop-
per was found. Mr. Pecker refused a
terling offer for the property and will
development work on it himself this winter.

ER DROWNED.

31.—H. T. Shibley, a lake, where he had gone to. He was alone at the supposed that his boat was putting out his nets.
He was drowned.

HOUSE BURNED.

31.—Mannion's general store, was burned to night. The loss is approximately $1,500 in cash. There was the Queen's Insurance The fire was caused by a man in robes about the store.

ITS IN OCTOBER.

31.—The monthly income of the British Embassy in October 31st im-materially in the books of the Treasury.

RENCH MILLIONS.

eman Visiting Relatives to Establish Their nt Claim.

31.—Ely de Grand-

Wh, has been in this city, en route to Victoria on his mission. It appears sirs of the late Duc de the department of Seine, Canada and the United branch of the Duc's become extinct by his left an estate valued ances, and the Grand-

Victoria, where he has

go to Quebec to see evidence. He is a Quebec, where he has lived 22 years.

months of St. Vital and province are among the IDEAS OF WAR.

my has made a curious pecting the ideas of the war. Although it is the Chinese to the
to military art has never e among them. In their a misfortune, if not a talking to their children and triumphs won in their schools that the ies are at the bottom abominable disasters to stances on the field of al an unwise and unjust who has won a battle surrender for the quantity has his own hands ness or immoral, but in tion of society generous without some inconvening to understand how conquering war has been been conquered some-no great injury to the arned. Nevertheless, it capital fact that when people have been con-scribed their conquerors are disarmed. The Manchu conquerors are
and it on Manchu Manchus exist in Asia, ere are treated at the
the the powers are very any lack of respect to Manchu lands. The
ive it some literary and has been the cause in bought a bottle. I shall gods of Central Asia.—
satally.

ever whipped Admiral

was nominated for publicans of the Hud-New Jersey. The
major Pangborn, editor
name of the paper was He berthed the hero in a hotel near Mont-
century ago.

PROSPEROUS DISTRICT

New Coal Seam Found at Quatsino
—Two Mines About to Commence Shipments.

Norwegian Settlers at Cape Scott Erecting a Sawmill—West Coast News.

The West Vancouver Commercial Co., who have been prospecting their coal lands on Quatsino Sound for several years, have met with gratifying success.
The steamer Willapa which returned yesterday from a trip along the West Coast of the Island, extending as far as Cape Scott, brought back some samples of coal taken from a first class seam, recently discovered on the company's property. These samples are to be shipped to San Francisco and should they turn out as good as they look the work of developing the mine will be proceeded with.

There has been no recent finds of mineral in the vicinity of Quatsino, and a number of mining men, including Judge Kenney and Mr. Childs, returned on the Willapa to Alberni where the prospects for mining are better.

On her outward trip the Willapa took a sawmill plant for the Norway settlers at Cape Scott. This vessel is well lumbered and will be put together at once. The settlement is in a prosperous condition and although a few discontented men have left others have gone to take their places. Rev. Mr. Jensen, the minister of the colony, came down by the Willapa to purchase cattle and farming implements for the settlers, a good sign of the success with which they are meeting. Nature has been kind to fishing in season and have found that salmon and halibut about in the vicinity of the Cape. A schooner, and a schooner on which to ship fish to market are in prospect.

At Kyquot a number of good properties are being worked. Particularly promising one is that owned by J. W. Pe-
cker, on which some high grade cop-
per was found. Mr. Pecker refused a
terling offer for the property and will
development work on it himself this winter.

Besides the Hayes mine at Alberni there will be another West Coast mine shipping ore within a couple of months.

Mr. F. Jacobson has been doing considerable work in the right direction of his property at Clayquot and now announces that he will commence regular shipments before the end of the year.
He recently erected a new hoisting plant at the mouth of the pit and is raising some very rich ore. This work and the return of the Indian sealers, to pay of whom a party of sealing captains visited the West Coast on the Willapa, has made things lively at Clayquot and the trading stores are doing a big business.

A wonderful change has come over the appearance of Alberni, the wilderness along the coast having given place to businesslike activity. Hayes' Landing, the new wharf, warehouses, dwellings, stables and road to the mine, makes it look like a city. Hayes' Landing has a rival worthy of notice. Mr. Hayes, who is now in Victoria, returns to the colony by the Willapa on Tuesday and upon his arrival the work preparatory to shipping will be commenced.

Mr. James Thompson, coroner for Alberni, recently held a coroner's inquest on the death of Fred Miller, found drowned near Clayquot. After hearing the evidence a number of witnesses, including Dr. Bolson, who examined the body, the jury concluded that the deceased was strangled by falling in his boat before falling in his boat.

The verdict open so that a further investigation might be held should it be considered necessary.

There have been no further deaths from menaces at Alberni, but the epidemic has been spreading, there now being fifty cases.

The Willapa had a most successful trip, the passenger list both up and down being three hundred and many mining men returning to the city the winter. From Alberni north rough weather was encountered, a succession of gales and rain storms being met with.

THE INSPECTOR OF MINES.

In the official communication by which Mr. Hume, as provincial secretary and minister of mines, informed Mr. A. Dick of his dismissal as inspector of mines, the minister says "that complaints have been made as to the imperfect manner in which the inspector has been conducting the Coal Mines Regulation act, especially that clause pertaining to the employment of Chinese." Then follows a lot of hypocritical and unbecoming condition of a mine endangering the safety of those employed therein or hereabout, and the inspector has been dismissed, and the minister has been imposed to recommend to His Honor the Lieut-Governor, that the services of the inspector be dispensed with. It is needless to say that this communication is nothing less than a flimsy excuse written in deceit and intended to be reviled by the inspector.

The minister speaks of complaints having been made of the inspector's neglect of duty. Surely Mr. Dick has a right to know by whom these complaints were made, the nature of them, and to have the opportunity of answering these complaints and defending his conduct. It is characteristic of the government to dismiss a man without a hearing, and enquiry into his conduct. But from a lack of independence of character he has allowed himself to be the timid, suppliant tool of others. A former issue challenged the government, as well as the Nabob of the New Vancouver Coal Co., who was the consenting, if not the advising party, to Mr. Dick's dismissal, to come forward with any proof in their possession by which they could substantiate and make good the charges of dereliction of duty on the part of the inspector. They cannot do it, and they know it. It is a pity that the history of the Coal Mines Regulation act, as it refers to Chinese. The clause dealing with Chinese was introduced during the term of Mr. Haslam's representation, but, through an oversight, the penalty clause was not amended to meet the change in the earlier clause of the act. The fact was afterwards tested and found deficient but, before proceeding to amend the penalty clause, it was thought advisable to get the government under the Referendum act to obtain an opinion from the Supreme court as to whether it was intra vires for the local legislature to pass legislation against the employment of Chinese in the mines of the province. This the court decided in the affirmative, and in the revision of the

WILLIAM'S PILGRIMAGE

Russia Takes Offence at the Emperor's Marked Cultivation Paying for the Lavish Hospitality Shown.

Meanwhile the Turks Murmur at
Paying for the Lavish Hospitality Shown.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—The official relations between Germany and Russia have been ruined recently. This fact, although denied by the government organs, was obtained from a person of high standing and one of the most striking proofs of its accuracy is that Count Muraviev, Russian minister of foreign affairs, has just visited Paris and Vienna, but he ignored Berlin. The German newspapers remarked this, and have commented upon the omission.

Other significant facts are the almost outright hostile tone of the entire Russian press, in which the rapprochement between Germany and Russia is described as an under-hand plot against Russia, which the latter is justified in severely resenting. The treaty is described as a Russian plot, and the Russian tariff negotiations.

The bulk of the German newspapers express the opinion that Emperor William's trip will yield little tangible good,
but will be a costly expenditure of 400, 000,000 marks. When the scheme shall have been executed, the main waterways
of the empire will be in the hands of the eastern extremity of the empire to the harbors of the German ocean.

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—French papers declare that Emperor William made the following utterances during his visit to Constantinople: "The French are an extraordinary people. When you see them separately they are charming, but together they are a nuisance. I refuse to understand us. If we two
were allies, we should rule the world.
I refuse to understand us. If we two
were allies, we should rule the world.
I refuse to understand us. If we two
were allies, we should rule the world."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry Labouchere, in Truth, referring to Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an extent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treasury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are completed. It is expected that the new company will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the future. However, it is announced that the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been worked about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

WILLIAM'S PILGRIMAGE

Russia Takes Offence at the Em-
peror's Marked Cultivation
Paying for the Lavish Hospitality Shown.

Meanwhile the Turks Murmur at
Paying for the Lavish Hospitality Shown.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—The official relations
between Germany and Russia have been
ruined recently. This fact, although denied by the government organs, was obtained from a person of high standing
and one of the most striking proofs of
its accuracy is that Count Muraviev,
Russian minister of foreign affairs, has
just visited Paris and Vienna, but he
ignored Berlin. The German news-
papers remarked this, and have commented upon the omission.

Other significant facts are the almost
outright hostile tone of the entire Russian press, in which the rapprochement
between Germany and Russia is de-
scribed as an under-hand plot against
Russia, which the latter is justified in
severely resenting. The treaty is described as a Russian plot, and the Russian tariff negotiations.

The bulk of the German newspapers
express the opinion that Emperor Wil-
liam's trip will yield little tangible good,
but will be a costly expenditure of 400,
000,000 marks. When the scheme shall
have been executed, the main waterways
of the empire will be in the hands of
the eastern extremity of the empire to the
harbors of the German ocean.

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—French papers de-
clare that Emperor William made the
following utterances during his visit to Constantinople: "The French are an
extraordinary people. When you see
them separately they are charming, but
together they are a nuisance. I refuse
to understand us. If we two
were allies, we should rule the world.
I refuse to understand us. If we two
were allies, we should rule the world.
I refuse to understand us. If we two
were allies, we should rule the world."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop
the property. It has hitherto been work-
ed about up to its full capacity and has
little dead work has been done."

THE ECCENTRIC FRENCH.

London, Oct. 29.—The racing fever
of the last few weeks has called forth
protests from various quarters. Henry
Labouchere, in Truth, referring to
Sloane, denounces "the nauseous jockey
worship, which is a discreditable and
idiotic feature of the turf twenty years
ago." Lord Russell of Killowen, in a
speech before the House of Commons, said:
"They worship this god to such an ex-
tent that if God Sloane, supporting his
claim to a considerable sum of the treas-
ury, which will be divided in the form
of a dividend as soon as all details
of closing up the old business are com-
pleted. It is expected that the new com-
pany will pay large dividends than the
old and will distribute the more in the
future. However, it is announced that
the new company will thoroughly develop