The Farmer's Advocate suggests the holding of co-operative weed bees, looking toward the eradication of these pests to good farming, an ice cream social to follow the afternoon's battle by the boys. There's more than a grain of practicality in the common sense advice of the Advocate and it might be tried in many a neighborhood with good effect.

Died at 84 Years.

[From the Onaway, Mich., Outlook.]
Last week we omitted the report of the death of Richard A. Brown, which occurred on Sunday night, June 23. The funeral service was conducted by Tuesday afternoon from the Baptist church with Rev. John Pearson in charge. Mr. Brown was an early pioneer of Pt. Huron, coming to Michigan from Canada soon after the Civil war. He leaves four sons, Richard Brown of this city, John S. Brown of Sterling, Lawson D. and Wm. W. Brown of Alpena, and two daughters, Mrs. Sarah Louks of this place and Mrs. J. N. Chambers of Woodstock, Ont., all of whom were here to attend the funeral excepting the latter. The remains were interred in Elmwood cemetery.

Care of Cream for Buttermaking.

It is a recognized fact that the price received for butter is very largely influenced by its quality and this is in great measure determined by the care given the cream from which it is made. This matter is recognized by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa as being of vital importance to the creamery patrons and buttermakers of Canada; consequently there has been prepared by the Chief of the Dairy Division under the direction of the Dairy Commissioner, a bulletin on "The Care of Cream for Buttermaking." It commences with the health and feeding of the cows and follows the subject through the various stages of milking, separating, storing and delivering the cream, each section being dealt with from the standpoint of the man on the job rather than of the official in the office. The results of experiments conducted on farms and in creameries are given to show the advantages of separating a rich cream, properly cooling and storing it, as well as of making frequent deliveries. The bulletin says:—"Keeping the cream for longer than two days at the farms has, no doubt, much to do with the old cream flavor so common in gathered cream butter, and we can scarcely expect to have this defect remedied so long as cream is gathered less than three times each week."

The bulletin which is No. 32 of the Dairy and Cold Storage series concludes with a summary of important notes for patrons, creamery owners and butter-makers. Sufficient copies have been issued to supply each creamery with a copy for each patron. Requests for supplies for this purpose should be sent to the Dairy and Cold Storage Com-

THE WESTERN FAIR.

From indications at the present time it would appear as though this old and reliable Exhibition would be more popular than ever this year. The management are doing everything possible to make the Exhibition not only attractive to Exhibitors and Visitors, but satisfactory as well. They wish to combine education and instruction as well as amusement along all the different phases of the Exhibition proposition. There will be established on the grounds this year an up-to-date milking machine plant in actual operation. Every farmer in the country should avail himself of the opportunity of seeing this machine. In this day of scarcity of help on the farm this means a great deal. Come and see the cows milked by electricity. There will also be established on the grounds as an educational feature a plant showing the latest sanitary methods of caring for and cooling milk. These are only a few of the many features which will make the Exhibition very attractive this year. The amusement part of the Exhibition has been well looked after. There will be a splendid programme of attractions twice daily before the Grand Stand. The management have secured at great expense The Besses of the Barn Band of Cheltenham, England, one of the finest brass bands in the world. You cannot afford to miss hearing them. The Midway will be filled with good clean shows. Special rates over all railroads commencing September 6th. Low rates for Exhibitors. Write the Secretary, A. M. Hunt, London, Ont., for all information. The dates are Sept. 6th to 14th.

Don't you wish you had a photograph of your great, great grandfather? Of course you can't have, because there wasn't any photography in those days. But your great, great grand-children can have photographs of you. And you owe something to posterity.

Sheep Husbandry in Canada.

Coincident with a number of other active agencies designed to revive the sheep raising industry in Canada, there has been issued by the Live Stock Branch of the Department of Agriculture a new edition of that exhaustive and practical treatise "Sheep Husbandry in Canada" which received such a warm reception some four years ago. This work of 125 pages, which constitutes a report as well as a helpful bulletin of instruction, covers the history and condition of the sheep industry in every province, pointing out the weak points and offering useful information for the guidance of older shepherds as well as those who are just beginning, or desire to begin, raising mutton and wool. In this work the author, who is a trained sheep man, brings out clearly the great advantages of keeping sheep from the dual standpoint of direct profit in cash returns, and the even more important indirect one of cleaner farms and better crops. Then there is a special section, "From the Block to the Table" designed to popularize the consumption of mutton and lamb. Other sections deal with weed destruction by sheep, diseases, wool, housing, enemies, breeding and feeding, feeds and feeding and other important matters. Under "The Industry in the Different Provinces" some startling new facts, concerning the profits made from sheep, are brought out. It is shown that a flock of about 150 ewes worth $8 each, after housing, feeding and care were charged against them, gave in 1911 a profit of more than $600. This occurred on a Manitoba wheat farm. A special feature of this bulletin is its many beautiful illustrations in sepia tints, many of which are worth framing. A large issue has been printed to be supplied free to those who apply for it to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Canada's Cider Good.

Ottawa, July 22.—Cider as sold throughout the Dominion is on the whole a fairly genuine article. Of 33 samples of various ages labelled cider, collected from several parts of Canada by the inland revenue department, 27 met the legal requirements of the act as containing not more than 7 per cent alcohol. Six samples appear to have water added to the apple juice. Out of 26 samples sold as sweet cider, only 8 meet the legal definition, but it is pointed out that the definition does not really apply to some of the samples with unrefined names, such as "champagne cider," "raspberry cider," etc. Chief Analyst McGill says that in the samples analyzed there is no suggestion of the addition of anything hurtful to health.

Selling Young Veal.

The revised Ontario Statutes for 1912 have been sent out, and one of the new sections is worth noting by those who have been in the habit of selling very young veal. Section 102 provides that no meat of calves under four weeks old shall be sold or kept for sale, and the penalty for a breach of this law is a fine of from $10 to $50.

Moreover, in the case of such meat being found in anyone's possession, the onus of proving that it is not for sale is rest on the person having the meat. It has been a matter of common knowledge for some years that calves of two days old and upwards have been sold each year to be used in one form or another for human consumption, and it is against this practice that the law is aimed.

Bold Robbery at Sombra.

Sarnia, July 22.—One of the boldest robberies which has taken place in the vicinity for a long time occurred at Sombra late last night or early this morning, when thieves entered the store of F. G. Logan and carried away more than $1,000 worth of clothing. Detective Acton, an attorney-general's department, has been put to work on the case. He is of the opinion that the robbers crossed the river to the American side in a small boat, and carried their booty with them.

Harris-Miller.

One of the weddings that Brooke has been anticipating for some time was consummated Thursday, July 4th. The principals were Mr. Sydney Harris and Mrs. Joseph Miller, two of Brooke's popular and well-known citizens. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Currie, of Watford. The bride looked charming in her beautiful costume of blue and leaning on the arm of her eldest son, Henry, entered the drawing room where the ceremony took place. The wedding march being played by the groom's youngest son, Percy. The house decorations consisted of tulips, carnations, palms and ferns. The guests consisted chiefly of immediate relatives. Following the ceremony an oyster supper was served. The gifts to the bride were both numerous and costly, amongst which was a beautiful white hat and brooch the gift of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Harris left on the evening train for points West and will be home to their many friends after July 30th.
