The Late Mr. Andrew McDonnell

There passed away on Tuesday, March 20th, 1917, at the family residence, "Fairview," in the person of Mr. Andrew Mc-Donnell, the last of the pioneer merchants of the Village of Watford. The deceased was born in Chatham, New Brunswick, in 1838, and in early childhood settled with his parents in the township of London. While yet in his early teens he entered mercantile life in London where he remained for a few years, later going to Sarnia. In 1862 he opened a general store in the township of Osborne, continuing there until January 1869, when he settled in Watford, continuing in the grocery business until 1907, when he returned to private life.

In 1862 he married Miss Annie O'Meara of London. They celebrated their golden wedding in September 1912, the first to be celebrated in Watford. To this union were born eleven children, only three of whom survive, Frank of Edmonton, Madam Mary McDonnell of the Sacred Heart Convent, Sault Au Recollet, Quebec, and Miss Kate at home.

During his long business career in Watford, Mr. McDonnell was identified with every movement calculated to enhance the welfare of the village and was very highly esteemed by all who knew him.
In politics he was a staunch Liberal. He was a devout Catholic and at all times dedicated his means and energies to the furtherance of the church to which he belonged.

The funeral was held on Thursday morning, requiem high mass being conducted by Rev. Father Quinlan in the Watford R. C. Church. Interment was made in the Watford R. C. Cemetery.
The pallbearers were, Jerry McDonnell, London, (nephew); Joseph Quinlan, Stratford; Dan McIntyre, Dorchester, M.
J. Roche, Forest; John Cox, London, and D. Roche, Watford, the two latter having been associated with him in business in the early years of his life.

Among the visitors from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. T. J.
O'Meara, London; Mr. and Mrs. J. P.
Forrestal, Mr. J. McDonnell, Mr. J. J.
Cox, London, Mr. M. J. Roche, Forest; Dr. P. F. Quinlan, (son-in-law), Mr.
Joseph Quinlan, Miss Elizabeth Quinlan, Stratford; Mrs. Abbott Buckley, (granddaughter), Chicago; and Mr. Dan Mc-Intyre, Dorchester.

"Ben Hur" at London Next Week

Klaw & Erlanger's wonderful production of "Ben Hur" is the appealing attraction at the Grand Opera House, London, beginning Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 5, 6, 7, matinees Friday (Good Friday) and Saturday.

The play has been crowding the Manhattan Opera House, New York City, for months, and recently at Philadelphia the gorgeous spectacle was received with the same public favor. Looking at "Ben Hur" from any point of view—as a serious drama, gorgeous spectacle, mechanical exhibit of the best modern stagecraft, or an example of the best composition in Greek and Oriental music—it is distinctive and distinguished.
The present production of the play so far as embellishing effects of the stage go, are entirely new and Orientaly rich.
Three hundred and fifty living people are concerned in the swiftly-changing scenes of the play and twenty horses participate in the wildly stirring chariot race. The Grove of Daphne, the Fountain of Casalya, and the summit of Mount Olivet are admirable pictures of the ancient scenes of the deeply dramatic story. The music is singularly fine, and was written to fit the scenes and incidents and atmosphere of the play. It is the work of Prof. Edgar Stilleman Kelley, an authority in this country on Greek and Oriental music. This is the only play that Billy Sunday, the noted evangelist, has ever referred to as worthy of all praise. He said: "I wish one hundred million people could see it, and I should like nothing better than to talk to 500,000 men and women just after they had seen "Ben Hur." The curtain on this huge spectacle rises promptly at 8 o'clock.
Matinees will be given Friday and Saturday. Mail orders now, seat sale opens Monday, April 2nd.

OBITUARY

One more of the old pioneers of Warwick has passed away in the person of David Watson, lot 27, con. 1, S. E. R., in his 79th year, on Saturday, March 24th. He was buried on March 27th in Watford Cemetery. He was born and raised on the farm he lived and owned at time of death. The house he was born in was only about 400 feet from his present residence. He cleared his farm from the stumps and made it what it is to-day. His only surviving sister, Mrs.
Jas. Orr, was also born on the same place. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, nee Mary Wark of tp. of Plympton, two daughters Ellen Jane now Mrs. Donald McLeay, and Miss Barbara, living at home, also two sons, Alexander of Tp. of Brooke, and David of the City of London. He also leaves 9 grand children.

The pall bearers were six of his nephews: William Howden, Dr. Geo.
Howden, David Marshall, William Marshall, Chester Orr and Elmer Orr.

BORN

In Brooke, on Monday, March 26th, to Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Kearney, a son.

In Warwick, on Thursday, March 22nd, to Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper, a daughter.

DIED

In Watford, on Wednesday, March 28th, John B.
White, in his 71st year.

At Stromness, on Sunday, March 25th, 1917, Lillian Evelyn Coristine, beloved wife of Joseph R. Mossip in her 32nd year.

In Warwick, on Thursday, March 22nd, 1917, David Watson, in his 79th year.

In Warwick, on Saturday, March 24th, 1917,
