Played On The Ruins

"These firemen must be a frivolous set," said Mrs. Dumpling.

"Why?" asked her husband.

"I read in the paper that after the fire was under control the firemen played all night on the ruins. Why didn't they go home and go to bed like sensible men instead of romping about like children?"

RUSSIAN FAMINE

10,000,000 children are starving to death in Russia this winter. That is for every day in the five winter months, a population greater than that of the city of Halifax will succumb to death in its most dreadful form. The United States Government, acting on the recommendation of Secretary Hoover has appropriated $20,000,000 to be spent upon corn, seed grain and certain staple food products for Russia. 1,000,000 children are perishing for the "Save the Children Fund" of England is providing for another 250,000 children. Other European societies are caring for 45,000 more. This leaves 8,705,000 children who will die of starvation unless some one provides for them.

The famine is not due to Bolshevism but to natural forces. The Russian Commission of the near East Relief says: "The rainfall through the Volga Valley in April, May and June of this year (1921) averaged less than 2.4 millimeters per month as against a normal rainfall (17 year average) of 35.6 millimeters; and the temperature averaged 12.6 degrees Fahrenheit better than the 17 year average." It is in this region, parched for lack of water, scorched by the sun, that the famine is raging.

The world has been slow in awakening to this "most terrible devastation" as Lloyd George has termed it. There has been a "Deadly indifference to the fate of millions" as Philip Gibbs has said. Colonel Wm. N. Haskell, director of the American Relief Administration Work in Russia on his arrival in Riga on Dec. 22nd reported: "The famine situation has become absolutely ghastly, where a few months ago the people were dying by hundreds they are now dying by thousands. In a few months they will be dying by hundreds of thousands. One of the relief men in a trip covering more than 400 miles found only two places where food could be procured. In the Sarator district they are dying so fast that bodies are literally being hauled away by the cartload." On December 28th another dispatch from Riga stated that "The parish people of Ramlonekay are eating the bodies of their dead. It is dangerous to bury the people and guards must be kept over them until they are in a state that makes eating impossible." Children are being taken to the Steppes and left there to die. Mothers, maddened by the experiences, cut the throats of their babies." Col. Herbert J. Mackie, who visited Russia as the representative of the Canadian Prime Minister, wrote in a recent issue of "Canada": "The state of matters in the famine area is absolutely indescribable. The sights one sees are so harrowing that the mind simply cannot convey what the mind simply cannot see. Starvation is rampant, and on every side are the dead and the dying. The children particularly under the age of fifteen are suffering intensely."

The Save the Children Fund of England reports that in the province of Sarator, alone 1,000,000 children face death by starvation. "Like the Parish days of India they scourge amongst the refuse and greedily devour roots, grass, leaves, seeds and distillies. By any method they strive to keep the spark of life burning, if ever so dimly. The children's hospitals in this frozen and withered province have "hopeless" wards where the children are placed when it is felt that it is no longer worth while to expend upon them precious drugs and food which might be put to better use in prolonging the lives for which there is some hope."

Will it be true of the people of Canada that, "A tortured child in a distant land will never check one smile to-day or bid one fiddle cease?" The Women's Institute is to canvass the people of Bridgetown for this cause in the near future. Shall we not respond generously? The collection will be forwarded by the local treasurer to the "Save the Children Fund" of London, England. This Society is registered under the War Charities Act of 1916 and has Patrons the Archbishop of Canterbury, Westminster, Wales, etc. The administrators of this Fund in Russia are all British born. Owing to the large scale on which the work is carried on the expense of feeding a child per day is but three-half-pence. That is twenty-five cents a week covers all expense for feeding a child. One dollar will feed a child for a month. Ten dollars will feed ten children for a month.

Dr. Nansen, of Norway high commissioner of the International committee of Russian relief, even though a hardened explorer, returned to Moscow recently, sickened by the scenes he had witnessed. He appeared before the League of Nations assembly of which he is a delegate, and made an impassioned plea for help from the Governments of the world. He reminded the League that five million pounds, half the cost price of a battleship, would assure the safety of the people in the stricken areas for weeks. The following is the conclusion of

Dr. Nansen's speech during which he is said to have dominated the assembly as it has never been dominated before: "Try and imagine what it will be when the Russian winter sets in earnest, try and realize what it means when no food is left, and the whole population is wandering through a barren land in search of food: men, women and children dropping dead by thousands in the frozen snow of Russia. In the name of humanity, in the name of everything noble and sacred, I appeal to you who have women and children of your own, to consider what it means to have women and children perishing by the million. I appeal to the Governments, to the people of Europe, to the whole world, to help. Hasten to act before it is too late."

Provincetown, Mass., Jan. 11—A terrific gale with rain which swept Cape Cod this afternoon caught the fishing fleet unprepared and John Gomes was drowned when a power dory, owned by John Costa, sank off Highland Light. JUBILEE CELEBRATION

A Synopsis of the Night

Following a synopsis of morning's service, (Jan. 25) Gordon-Providence United Church, which appeared in our last issue, continue the story of the Jubilee celebration as follows:

In the evening, in spite of that raging outdoors, the church was filled. Dr. Hearze's post-sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Freestone, was "The Glory of the Jubilee."

Mr. Freestone expressed his being on the same point as the pastor who had spoken of fifty years before.

Just at that junction, an illustration of the changes by this passage of time, so of the storm put the electric temporarily out of commission. Lamps had been brought in as they were used at the church's pastorate, the light forth again and the pastor after mentioning the significance of the elements as explained by the period they were celebrating.

Mr. Freestone said that Hearze had done this. He would talk of the Jubilee. It would be the splendid jubilee way of Church Union. In the future, he said, represent three things—Vision, Faith, service. He mentioned the absence of false elements that tend to destroy that vision. The elements of the Jubilee being a true vision, he said upon the right sense of purpose and a true perspective.

Faith, he said, was the spiritual discovery can only by immortal leaps out beyond that anybody has ever strated. Faith means doing the apparently impossible.

Persistence, the third necessary to a successful contra-distinction to spasmodic involved immense sacrifice, the story of Douglas the night prior of Scotland. When he golden casket containing the Bruce destined for the Holy into the thickest of the fight on every hand by those who his forces, he flung the cast the ranks of his foes, crying on, Brave Heart—Where you follow."

In conclusion, Mr. Freestone of the "great cloud of witnesses" told the story of Admiral Togo when asked at the opening of a naval struggle, if he was confident of the courage of his men, said— "Japanese warrior believes that"
