The Union of the British North American Provinces under one government was first suggested, we believe, by His Royal Highness the late Duke of Kent, father of Queen Victoria, who resided some time here. A general union of these Provinces, either federal or legislative, with a railroad from Halifax to Quebec, was the first plan that suggested itself to the late Earl of Durham when Royal Commissioner and Governor General of British North America; but in consequence of the difficulties which the then state of Lower Canada seemed to present, and perhaps of some other obstacles, that he met with he recomperhaps of some other obstacles that he met with, he recommended as a substitute a legislative union of the two Canadas only. A general confederation of the colonies, with representation in the British Parliament, if we recollect rightly, was proposed some months ago in the Glasgow prepres, by Mr. Isaac Buchanan, formerly of Toronto; and the question is now agitated in New Brunswick, as will appear by the following extract from the St. John Observer, of the 5th instant:— IMPORTANT SUGGESTION.

A Mission to England on the " Union of the Colonies."

We were pleased to hear a few days ago of a suggestion, emanating from an able and influential professional gentleman of this community, to send with all possible despatch a depu-tation from New Brunswick to England, to bring under the notice of her Majesty, the ministry, the Imperial Parliament, and the British Press, the unfortunate position in which we are placed as regards Trade and Colonial Government policy and to introduce, explain, advocate and urge upon them the necessity of a great parliamentary messure, that will effect,— 1st—A union of the entire British Colonies and Dependencies; Free Trade, and parental and filial Annexation between them and the Mother Country.

2nd—Colonial representation in the British Ministry and in

of determination to overcome all obstacles, and to bring the matter before the people, through the medium of the press, could be found in New Brunswick, who would undertake the mission from motives of patriotism, and we understand that ample funds could be raised to defray the expenses of such a delegation. To be successful in either or any one of the objects before mentioned, would, we conceive, be attended by a revival of every branch of Colonial Trade, and an opening of our vast resources to the capital and labour of the British Empire.— Surely there are none among us possessing real or personal property, who would refuse to contribute to this measure, by their means and cordial support. The broad proposition is one of such vital importance to every man among us, who claims to be loyal and patriotic—without reference to minor political differences of opinion—that we would feign hope the gentleman from whom the suggestion has emanated, will use his influence His excellency the Governor General has been pleased to for convening a meeting of our influential citizens, for the considera ion and discussion of the project. We do not entertain a doubt but that our neighbouring colonies will gladly fall in

There is another great objection to this appointment, Duncombe was not even a valient rebel; he led a rabble rout to its charter now makes, would be wanton and uncalled for in the highest degree. It would be a pitiful realization of the dogbut that he would either run away or desert to the enemy; if he ever was ordered to take his Battalion into action? What on earth can the Governor-General be about, to permit the Militia of the Province to be disgraced by the appointment of such a cowardly rascal to a Colonel's command. - Courier.

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT.—The Pilot has lately made great efforts in defence of his patrons, the present ministry, to justify the wholesale issue of provincial debentures since the last three months, notwithstanding the loud and just, but unavailing, complaints of a portion of the Canadian press, and has even appealed to an Act of the Provincial Legislative as their finality was concerned, and the administration of one year would be mainly early in staltifying the energy of Gevernment Administration. MRS. JAMIESON RESPECTFULLY notifies her return to Toronto, and will resum

WRITING, And in the use of THE FRENCH ACCORDEON.

In Writing, Whether in Classes or in Private, the attention would be direct alone, in the Lessons given, to the speedy acquirement of a neat and graceful style of Writing—an accomplishment which all know how to appreciate, and which, by strict attention on the part of the Pupil, under the system pursued by Mrs. J., may be imparted in TWILTE LESSOS 3; as will be satisfactorily shown by a number of her former Pupils, in the British American Provinces and United States.

The French Accordeon, The French Accordedn,
An instrument now in general use, is also taught by Mrs. Jamisson Simple in construction, and sweet in melody, its use is readily acquired—Twelve Lessons being deemed sufficient to impart a competent knowledge of it to those who are levers of the art.
In the arrangements for Tution, the convenience of the Pupils wil in every case be consulted, both as to time and place: Ladies being waited on at their own residences, or received at that of Mrs. J.

waited on at their own residences, or received at that of Mrs. J.

An Evening Class for the instruction of Young Ladies and Gentlemen in Writing Will be open at Mrs. J's, from seven to eight, and from eight to nine o'clock every evening.

Mrs. Jameson will also attend Ladies at their own residences.

Mrs. Jameson respectfully submits that she isprepared to afford the most satisfactory references, and is kindly permitted to mention the names of the Rev. H. J. Grasett, M.A., and the Rev. Hv. Scadding, M.A., and can furnish testimonials from many of her Pupils, who, under her guidance, have attained a proficiency in Writing and Music in a comparatively brile period.

Communications from Parties who may desire to enter on one or both of these Studies, will be addressed to Mrs. Jameson, at her ooms, 47, King Street, West.

(From the Worcester Ægis.) Bock's Hyperion FLUID,—Many are the nostrums recommended by various individuals to promote the growth of the human hair, and ret but few are useful in removing dandruff and cutaneous diseases, and in giving to the hair a miniorm, soft, sliky and glossy appearance. For these purposes, we know of none which takes, or which ought to ake, precedence of Bogle's Hyperion Fluid. As an unexceptionable, and we may almost say, indispensable article, either for a lady's or a gentieman's toilet, we can and do most cheerfully recommend it.
