DIXON--STEWART.

should not be considered in municipal affairs.
 Mr. S. F. Lazier thanked the electors for again placing him on the School board. No. 2 Ward had two of the best schools, and he hoped that a new Collegiate Institute would soon be built.
 Mr. P. C. Blaicher praised the faithful service of Dr. TenEyck in the Council of 1892 and regarded him as an upright, intelligent man. He congratulated the electors present on the choice of candidates and closed the proceedings with some humorous remarks.

Ward No. 3.
 Ald. Geo. Frid--Nominated by Messrs. R. Hutchinson and E. Healy.
 A. B. Baxter--By Messrs. Healey and G. W. Carey.
 Duncan Robertson--By Messrs. J. J. Mason and W. H. Thompson.
 A. H. McKeown--By Messrs. Dr. Miller and J. Orr Callaghan.
 Joseph Powell--By Messrs. W. J. Copp and Cyrus Carroll.
 Ald. A. Hannaford--By Messrs. Wm. Nicholson and J. Orr Callaghan.

FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEE.
 J. J. Mason--Nominated by Messrs. W. Nicholson and Dr. C. V. Emory. No opposition.
 The nominations were held at the store of R. Cornar, No. 193 King street west, and were attended by a large crowd of electors. Joseph Kent was the returning officer.

W. J. Copp, in nominating J. Powell, made a lengthy speech, referring particularly to the extravagance of the past Councils. He said it was a great mistake to put down such costly pavements on the streets as they were a source of expense.
 J. Mason, nominator of Duncan Robertson, said the bonus system had been overdone. The past Council had not the backbone to refuse applicants for money. He considered the Mayor was equally responsible with the Council in voting such a large bonus to the T. H. & B. Railway. If only $125,000 had been given the company the road would have been built.

Ald. Frid was the first candidate to speak. He said he would hold a meeting some night during the week and review his work in the Council.
 A. B. Baxter said he wanted to go to the Council with an untied hand. He would make no promises, further than he would do the best he could for the city.
 Duncan Robertson said he had plenty of time on his hands, and he would devote it to the city. He was in favor of economy in city matters.

A. H. McKeown said he was not trampled by any party or clique. He would not make any promises regarding any vote which he would cast in the Council, if elected. He thought it was a mistake to bonus companies at random.
 Joseph Powell was not pledged to any party. He wanted to be free to vote according to his judgment. He was not particularly anxious for the position of alderman. He was simply in the hands of his friends.

Ald. Hannaford said he protested against having the nominations in such a building as the one in which they were held. He said there was not oxygen enough in it for six persons, although there were 40 or 50 persons present. When asked if he would accept a $600 bonus, he said, "You are not being nice, you did not get it." Laughter and cries of "You are no good, Hannaford!"

Ward No. 4.
 William H. Judd--Nominated by Anthony Copp and John Greig.
 William Hand--By James Watson and Thomas Legg.
 William Hancock--By Wm. E. Monk and James Skinner.
 Richard Buscombe--By James Brown and E. J. Rumpel.
 George Smith--By H. N. Thomas and Peter Meth.
 John L. Hall--By John Craig and Hugh Malcolmson.
 Peter Bayne--By Peter McRobert and Alex. Dunn.

FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEE.
 James H. Cooper--By John Lewis and Wm. E. Monk.
 John Greig--By James Brown and W. H. Judd.
 Mr. Copp spoke in favor of Mr. Judd's candidature, saying that he was a good, safe man to have in the Council of 1895, when economy would have to be the rule. He was a temperance man himself, and did not think that Mr. Judd was the nominee of the tavern-keepers. He said a member of the Council, who had told him that he had been offered $500 for his vote and influence on a certain question, and the temptations to bootlegging in the City Council were such that men like Mr. Judd were a necessity among the aldermen.

Mr. Watson spoke on behalf of Prof. Hand, and Mr. Monk followed with a few words for Ald. Hancock. Mr. Thomas assured the gathering that Mr. Smith was a successful business man in the ward, and also was not identified with the P. P. A., which, the speaker added, had been knocked out in Hamilton at the June election.

Mr. Craig supported Ald. Hall's claims to another year in the Council, and Mr. McRobert described Mr. Bayne as a heavy property owner, and consequently entitled to consideration.
 Mr. Judd reiterated his claims to independence in his vote on any license question, and thought that his record for economy in previous years in the Council entitled him to election.

Prof. Hand stated that he was the candidate of no clique or party and would have nothing to do with any bundle if there was any going next year. (Laughter.)
 Ald. Hancock stated that the hotel-keepers were opposed to him to a man and he had never regretted voting for the reduction of licenses. He took credit for the fact that the Board of Works would close the year with a surplus of $300. If elected he would vote for a further reduction of shop licenses. In reply to a query he asserted that the by-law to sell a portion of Victoria Park would never pass its third reading.

Ald. Buscombe was the next speaker, and was followed by Mr. Smith, who made a very clever address, denying the imputation that he was the nominee of P. P. A. or the liquor interest, and was given a good hearing and was heartily applauded when he closed.
 Ald. Hall was not the nominee of the liquor party, he said, and added that he would look after the interests of Ward No. 4 first, and afterwards the city at large. As regards the T. H. & B. assessment matter he said that he was no party to the attempt to have the celebrated railway lot in the Caroline street gully assessed to himself.

Ward No. 5.
 John C. Woods--Nominated by F. W. Faarman and J. V. Teetzel.
 Hiram Barker--By Patrick Crilly and J. P. Chis.
 James F. Dwyer--By Henry Arland and D. R. Dewey.
 H. B. Witton--By Geo. E. Tuckett and W. H. McLaren.
 Geo. McGill--By Alfred Stroud and John S. Lillis.

Michael D. Nelligan--By John Carruthers and Oliver Beatty.
 FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEE.
 F. F. Dalley--Nominated by Adam Zimmerman and Geo. Roach; no opposition.
 Returning Officer Lucian Hills had an easy time in the basement of the City Hall. The crowd was at the meeting in the Council Chamber, but all of the candidates briefly addressed the small gathering that was present. The whole thing was over by about 12.30.

Ward No. 6.
 Mr. Thomas Smith, Returning Officer in Ward No. 6, had quite an audience when he called for nominations. The names offered were:
 Wm. McAndrew--Nominated by Robert Wilson and Joseph Farrell.
 George H. Milne--By Wm. Bowman and J. Kirkpatrick.
 R. O. Bigelow--By Ald. Claringbowl and Samuel Arthur.
 Kent Whipple--By James Scott and T. P. O'Brien.
 James Phillips--By H. Brennan and Samuel Arthur.
 P. J. McBride--By F. Close and James Malu.
 James Millar--By J. Kirkpatrick and John Johnston.

FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEE.
 A. McPherson--Nominated by Wm. Bowman and Francis Maxwell; no opposition.
 Ald. McAndrew defended his course as Chairman of the Markets, Fire and Police Committee during the year. His committee had spent $85,000 to $90,000 and he claimed to have made some economies and in the market department it had a surplus after making improvements. The Hospital Committee had also claimed economies, and said that it had been a banner year in the fire department. He had $1,400 back accounts to pay and he left all paid. He alleged that the opposition to him was because of his vote for license reduction.

A gentleman present enquired what 9,000 odd dollars to "Miscellaneous" meant. He seemed to be curious about the lady, but Ald. McAndrew referred him to Ald. Milne.
 Mr. A. Laidlaw asked about the decline of $1,000 in market fees. Was there an up or a down? Ald. McAndrew said there was not. Mr. Hunter was auctioneer. When all stopped bidding it was knocked down when he enquired Mr. Beasley had forgotten to notify the auctioneer. The committee talked it over, however, and decided no more could be bid and let it go.

Mr. Laidlaw said the city lost $950 by the neglect of the Chairman; he changed the auctioneer, and considerable "hecking" by many followed.
 Ald. McAndrew thought that in the end the Gray fence case wouldn't cost the city a cent. The cotton company would likely settle with Gray as it did not want it put back. He spoke at some length on the fence subject and quit amid a volley of questions.

Ald. Milne gave an account of the building of a fever ward at a cost of $2,700. The Hospital Committee had had a large overdraft to provide for at the beginning of the year. He detailed the circumstances leading to the building being condemned by the Government. He discussed the efforts to make to settle with the county. He did not favor a new jail being built. He had opposed the large vote of money and he warned the electors against this plunging into debt. This year $155,000 had been contracted and the debt, including local improvements, was over $3,500,000. Much of it would never bring a return in value. It should have been saved or spent on legitimate works. He vigorously condemned the bonus evil and at length gave an account of his year's work.

The speaking was going on at 1 o'clock.
 Ward No. 7.
 John Martin--Nominated by Messrs. Jas. Page and George Robinson.
 Thomas Morris, jun.--By Messrs. Alex. C. R. Smith and Messrs. Robert C. Pettigrew and Robert McNary.
 Wm. Derby--By Messrs. Robert C. Pettigrew and John Martin.
 Richard Hays--By Messrs. John Kenrick and Thomas Kilvint.
 FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEE.

Robert C. Pettigrew--Nominated by Messrs. George Robinson and John Robins.
 Thomas Morris, sen.--By Messrs. E. C. Fearnside and Thomas Kilvint.
 The above nominations were received by Deputy Returning Officer Samuel Robins. The little room in which the meeting was held was crowded with voters.

Ald. Martin spoke first. After reviewing his career in the Council, he touched on the smelting works question, declaring that there was not more than $5,000 worth of money laid out on the ground. He would not pledge himself on the liquor question.
 Ald. Morris said this was the fourth time he had come before the electors. The city had succeeded in getting back many acres of ground at the beach, which were worth many thousands of dollars to the city. Owing to the efforts of the Parks Committee tenders had now been asked for a swing bridge at the canal. The reserve land near the canal will also be cleared of all shanties and given to the city for park purposes. He reviewed his efforts to get Lan's Bush in exchange for a portion of Victoria Park. It was the only way they could get a park in the east end. Ald. Morris said he had been doing what he could to have the east-end nuisance abated. He was prepared to restrict the liquor traffic as far as possible.

Ald. Derby said he had attended about 150 meetings during the year and never shirked a vote. During his remarks he was considerably "heckled" regarding his vote for increased salary to the Solicitor, and for Sewers Committee Board of Works business.
 The other candidates also spoke.
