IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT
HOPE OF CANON TUCKER

Political Change is in Air, He Says, and Something Must Happen.

Canon Tucker of the Cathedral, London, addressed the Empire Club yesterday on "Canada and the Empire." With some conventionalities he managed to say quite a number of things very freshly and pithily, and he took broad views and wide of Canadian citizenship.

"We are not only citizens of the greatest empire in the world, but citizens of the planet, members of the human race," was one of his points. Speaking of the provincial resources, he dwelt specially on New Ontario, which, he said, furnished a reduplication in size and resources of old Ontario, enabling the province to double in power and population, and become not merely the banner, but an imperial province.

Will Span Wilderness. He referred to the cleavage between eastern and western feeling, accentuated by the 1000 miles of wilderness that lies between the Ottawa and the Winnipeg Rivers. New Ontario would be a factor in merging the east and the west, he believed, and in this respect New Ontario was a national asset of the most important character. "There are men in Vancouver who think the Kingdom of Heaven consists of real estate and corner lots," he said, speaking of the western spirit. As Egypt was to the ancient world, Canada would be to the modern, he believed, and this meant something larger than dollars and material prosperity eventually.

"If you had to pick out a piece of ground on this planet whereon to build a nation, you could find nowhere better situated than Canada for the purpose," was another point.

A Romantic History. There was nothing more romantic in Grecian history than the stories of La Salle and others of the early explorers. These men would stand out in the future with "Theseus and Hercules."

"I would not exchange my parentage in Canada for all the blood of all the Howards," was a sentiment which evoked applause.

"Is there a nation that has a higher conception from the point of view of religion than we have?" asked the canon, mentioning the Jesuit fathers and the early missionaries. "There is not a nobler body of men since the time of the apostles than the men who founded our churches in Canada."

In heroism, in statesmanship, and in poetry Canada was to be reckoned with. And at this point the canon allowed himself to be facetious. Canonical Limericks.

On the way between Calgary and Edmonton there was a place called Old. Some of them had heard of it. He knew, by the nodding of their heads. It had been written. There was an old woman of Olds. Who suffered severely from drowsy. When they said "Do not snuff." She went off in a tiff. For they had such bad manners in Olds.

Then he tried another: There was a young man from Carleton Place. Devoted to hunting the bears. He thought it a trifle. And took them right up to their lairs.

"I say a country that can produce poetry like that is a country to live in. And the laughter was loud and long. He supported the idea of a contribution to the imperial navy, and a policy of federation.

An Imperial Parliament. "Our people feel that something is going to happen. Some political change is imperatively demanded." An imperial parliament to deal with imperial questions, and to take in the whole empire, might be a dream, but he believed many people were dreaming dreams of that nature.

He would not advocate one policy or another, but something was going to happen. He feared parents were educating many of the great rights of family life, especially in the training of children. Nothing could replace God's own instinct of the home.

There was something more important than playing bridge, or smoking cigars at the club, and mothers and fathers should attend to their daughters and sons. Earl Grey has put his finger on one of the blot of our nation when he pointed out the mannerlessness of our children. From China they might learn lessons in respect to parents. The time had also come when the Canadian people ought to consider the question of voice and accent which went with the highest culture.

Press Independence. He wished The Mail and Empire could be a little less dyed-in-the-wool Conservative and The Globe a little less dyed-in-the-wool Liberal, and that each would show a little more independence. He thought it should be made impossible for a man of stained character to stand before a Canadian audience. There should not be a suggestion even of that sort, for where there was some smoke there must be a little fire.

Principle and character made the man, and men were not to be regarded as forked radicals with a digestive apparatus. Canada needed men who loved the truth and would speak it, and loved right and would do it.

Nurses in the Schools. Toronto people are not so slow after all. It was announced yesterday that Miss Lina L. Rogers, the head nurse of the public schools, has, with the permission of the school management, initiated a post-graduate course for school nurses of thirty days' duration, which will be the first of its kind in the world.

The course is open only to graduate nurses, and many applications have been received from various parts of Canada and the United States from nurses who wish to fit themselves for the work of public school inspection, and who are aware of Miss Rogers' excellent reputation all over the continent.

The nurses taking the post-graduate course will aid in the regular school nursing work, but will receive no remuneration.

Toronto is the first city on the continent to establish such a system.

FOR LADY READERS

The Secret of a Good Complexion.

This is the season for evening parties, social events, etc. Why not look your best? Why let your complexion suffer by contrast with other ladies? Why not ensure a good complexion? You can do this on sound, natural lines by using Zam-Buk, nature's herbal balm.

Zam-Buk is a skin food; and complexion is purely a matter of skin health. Zam-Buk smeared lightly over the face each night acts as a skin tonic. It stimulates the cells beneath the surface to healthy action, makes the capillaries and blood vessels work, and the vigorous circulation thus started carries away secreted impurities. Waxy, sallow deposits are thus removed. Hard, pimply growths are softened and disappear. That yellow tinge gives place to the pink of health and the white, velvety "look" and "feel" which healthy skin alone has.

Isn't this wiser than relying upon talcum powder and cosmetics? These only put on a "complexion" from the outside. It doesn't last. Zam-Buk helps nature to build up a complexion from blood and tissue. It lasts.

Zam-Buk also cures skin diseases: pimples, ulcers, abscesses, blood-poison, eruptions, cuts, burns, scalds, chapped places, scalp sores, piles, etc. 50c box, all druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, direct, beware of harmful substitutes and imitations.

WOODSTOCK CONSERVATIVES

Have Hopes of Winning Both Federal and Provincial Seats in N. Oxford.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 12.—The meeting of the Woodstock Conservative Club last night was attended by considerable numbers. In regard to contesting North Oxford, both provincial and federal ridings, it was felt that there was a good chance of winning them at the next election with a good candidate, particularly the Dominion seat, and the resolution was passed, urging the formation of a committee to bring out a man at their meeting on Jan. 19. Names were mentioned, but J. R. Shaw of the Canada Furniture Manufacturers' Association, and Dr. Welford were elected as follows: President, F. Burgess; first vice-president, D. Brown; second vice-president, H. Harrington; secretary-treasurer, R. Scott; auditor, Dr. Welford and J. G. Wallace.

MUST RENDER TRIBUTE ON CAPITAL IN ONTARIO

Sir James Has Plan to Check Resort to Ottawa For Charters.

No more bargain counter incorporations will be allowed to slip into Ontario. Companies have been securing incorporation at Ottawa and a $5 to $50 license for business in this province. Hereafter the possession of a Dominion charter will not relieve the holders from full incorporation charges in Ontario.

The rule governing such cases in the past was as follows: Fees for licenses are fixed in each case by order-in-council depending largely on the amount of capital used in Ontario, calculated on the foregoing table of fees for the incorporation of domestic companies, except in the case of Dominion corporations, which may be either $25 or $50. If the company's capital is $100,000 or less the fee is $25; if the capital exceeds $100,000, the fee is $50.

The new rule was adopted on Wednesday by the following:

Will Amend Schedule. Upon the recommendation of the honorable the provincial secretary, the committee of council advise that the schedule of fees for services performed under the provisions of The Ontario Companies Act and the act respecting the Licensing of Extra Provincial Corporations, approved by order-in-council of Dec. 7, 1909, be amended by striking therefrom the section headed "Extra Provincial Corporations," and substituting the following:

Extra Provincial Corporations.—Fees for licenses will be the same as the fees charged for incorporation of companies for limited liability under the Companies Act, but will be calculated on the amount of capital authorized to be used in Ontario.

Based on Capital. By an order-in-council dated Jan. 10, 1911, the tariff of fees for the issue of license under the act respecting the Licensing of Extra Provincial Corporations, (63 Vic. cap. 24) and amendments thereto, has been amended so that on and after the date of such order, the fees for the issue of all such licenses will be the same as the fees charged for limited liability companies under the Ontario Companies Act, but will be calculated on the amount of capital which the corporation is authorized to use in Ontario.

Under the former tariff, the fees chargeable for such licenses were fixed in each instance by the order-in-council authorizing the issue of the license, except in the case of corporations incorporated under the laws of the parliament of the Dominion of Canada, in which case the fees were $25 if the corporations' capital was $100,000 or less and $50 if the corporation's capital exceeded $100,000.

THE T. EATON CO. LIMITED

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—The royal commission on industrial training and technical education, which is now in Ottawa, is holding sessions to review the testimony received at 90 places in Canada, and preparing a provisional summary of the chief points of information and opinion presented by some 1300 witnesses.

STAMMERING IN SCHOOLS

Investigation May Result in Employment of Expert.

Every member of the management committee of the board of education turned out to the first meeting yesterday, and assisted in the disposal of a large amount of business. The question of a new principal to the technical high school was reshaped, as usual, and a sub-committee was appointed to consider the question. Trustees Fairbairn, Dineen, Shaw, Hiltz, and Dr. Embree, senior principal of high schools, will look into the matter.

O. H. Ennis, a New York expert on defects of speech, gave an account of what he could accomplish in the line of curing stammering, and as a result of the opening of a new room in the board of inspectors will investigate the number of such cases in the schools and report at the next meeting, with a view of the appointment of the specialist.

Some time ago the managers of the Evangelical Settlement made an offer to the board of a large room for kindergarten purposes in connection with the Sackville-street school, and to-day the offer was gladly accepted. A new room will be opened in Essex-street school, to provide for the children who are at present without any accommodation. It was also decided to open the opening of a new room in the Earlscourt district, as many complaints have been received from residents of the neighborhood.

All the public schools are to be supplied with a copy of "Free Standing Gymnastics," a book prepared by the British Government, and guaranteed to help make robust children. Trustees Leves, Shaw, and Conboy will exert themselves more or less from now until May 23, getting things ready for the annual concert, which will be held on that date in Massey Hall. Another committee was appointed, consisting of Trustees Lewis, Hartney and McKay, who will have charge of the medical inspection.

WHERE THE MONEY WENT.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—A return, asked for by Mr. Monk, has elicited the information that between March 31, 1910, and Nov. 15, 1910, the following amounts were paid by the government to Montreal and Quebec papers for printing: Montreal Herald, $20; Montreal Star, $22; Montreal Gazette, $18; La Presse, $46; Le Bulletin, $15; La Semaine, $24; Le Canada, $32.

SETTLERS STRANDED
RAILWAY NOT BUILT

Lively Time in Railway Committee Over British Columbia Line.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—(Special).—There were some lively exchanges in the common's railway committee to-day over the bill respecting the Kootenay and Arrow Head Railway Co., which asked for extension of time for completion. Mr. Goodoe wanted the company planned down to compliance with the condition inserted in the bill at his instigation two years ago, that the railway should build a portion of the line equal to fifteen per cent. The two years are up, and the company asks for a further extension without having done any construction.

Mr. Goodoe pointed out that the Canadian Pacific Railway, in order to defeat the purpose of the Great Northern to get into that country, had done a small portion of construction work on all these branch lines in that district of British Columbia. The people had looked into the valleys in anticipation that the C.P.R. would carry out its evident intention of completing construction, but they were now hopelessly stranded there, because the railway construction had stopped. He urged that the railway committee should give the railways to understand that the conditions of their charters must be carried out, or the charters would not be renewed.

Mr. Lancaster supported Mr. Goodoe, and said that the C.P.R. had been well dealt with by this country, and that it should be compelled to make good its obligations in the interests of the people of this country. The spectacle of the Conservatives denouncing the C.P.R. was made more interesting by the support given the company by some of the Liberals, headed by Mr. Connors, who said it was absurd to expect a corporation to build fifteen per cent. of its railway. Railways build all or none.

Mr. Goodoe's motion was lost on a party division of twenty to thirteen. He intimated later that the fight would be carried into parliament, and a further effort made to get justice for the settlers.

MESSAGE NEVER FINISHED. Mrs. Ball, After Taking Carbolic, Tried to Scrawl Note.

"I have taken—" These words, scrawled upon a sheet of paper and lying upon a nearby table, were the plain explanation of the findings of Mrs. Samuel G. Ball in a dying condition at her home, 681 Crawford-street, by a neighbor.

She died about two hours later, after medical aid had been summoned. Ill-health is given as the cause of her act. She was 45 years of age and lived with her husband.
