BEGGARLY EXCHANGE.

Did you buy one of those clothes brushes made in Glasgow?

Mendicancy knows all things, clothes brushes, shoe laces, lead pencils, chewing gum, etc. And if "the toucher" is an expert he can inject into his narrative and his wares a spirit of brotherhood that makes begging a refinement, and "the touchee" glad to accommodate.

The gentleman with the clothes brushes came in obsequiously, head uncovered and advanced with diffident step, hand outstretched. The victim nonchalantly ignored the handclasp for sanitary reasons. The incomer overlooked the studied slight and smiled like an old intimate. Kipling has sung of the breeze that springs up from the east, but if poeta nascitur non fit, then some poet unborn must write of the reminiscent aroma that mingles with the spoken word of the man who has "beered" up not wisely or too well, but nevertheless fully. The gentle mendicant was "beered." His face shone with a color borrowed from rosy sundowns as they lulled the barley to rest. His blue eyes twinkled with the effervescence that makes the price of champagne exorbitant. He was an ordinary beggar liquified into a refined mendicant.

Not a sign of clothes brushes at first. He was in a newspaper office and for the first time his humble mind metamorphosed him into a newspaperman out of a position. He apparently had seen the loquacious office boy, for he called the editor by name, half thawing him. He had intended going to Montreal, where he was employed on The Witness, The Star and The Herald, not permanently, you understand, but wherever he cared to cover an assignment. But the fates were against him, he had lost his transportation. His victim saw "the touch" coming, yet with the skill of a mindreader, the toucher turned the current of his story, and produced a brown paper parcel, and unrolling it exposed two clothes brushes.

The touchee drew a sight of relief it wasn't a pass to Montreal after all, and he marveled at the artist and his mental processes. The gentleman with the beerpit breath continued his story. Here were two clothes brushes made in Glasgow, the last of a dozen. The others had gone to the editors of other daily papers. They cost him nineteen cents apiece wholesale, but he would part with one for a quarter or the two for half a dollar. He named the names of the masters of journalism as the proud possessors of a decade of clothes brushes. He intimated that the victim had the opportunity for the small price of twenty-five cents of being enrolled with the great. It was all but the last chance. The temptation was seductive. A quarter passed from the one to the other, and but one clothes brush was left in the brown paper parcel. "The touch" was made.

The touchee observed the toucher rise, smile and voice his thanks, and he was alone. Doubtless the man with the single clothes brush in a brown paper parcel would speed to the first beer refectory and exchange lucre for lush. The touchee was aiding and abetting the evil of intemperance. It was an honest quarter gone wrong. The clothes brush was thrown into a drawer that contained an assortment of shoe laces, lead pencils, chewing gum, etc. It was but another token of a weak heart. But the toucher had told a good story and had awakened brotherly sympathies, in spite of the circulating beery atmosphere. Are a man's finer sensibilities to have no outgo, because the beneficiary may be a beer fighter? The touchee is blessed, tho the toucher may be condemned, and it is always more blessed to give than to receive. So there you are.

But it would be interesting to know who got the remaining clothes brush.

THREE BODIES IN WATER SUICIDES AND ACCIDENT

Turbinia Waiters Rock Row Boat and Frank Wright of Toronto Drowns.

Hamilton, July 1.—(Special.) — The holiday in Hamilton will be a very sad one for several families. Since Saturday afternoon no less than three dead bodies have been taken out of the bay and Lake Ontario.

The first was that of Miss Harris, 355 East Barton-street, who dressed herself in her brother's clothes and threw herself into the lake on Friday, it is supposed on account of disappointment in a love affair.

This morning the body of John McKellar, 11 East Barton-street, was found near the Turbine Steamship Co.'s wharf at the foot of John-street. He had wandered away from his home last Thursday. He was 74 years of age, and had suffered two paralytic strokes lately. A widow and nine children survive him.

Frank Wright, a youth, whose home is on Sumach-street, Toronto, was drowned off the Turbinia wharf this evening under particularly sad circumstances. He had been employed as a waiter on the Turbinia, and this evening got into a rowboat in the dock with three fellow-waiters. They started to amuse themselves by rocking the boat, and after two unsuccessful efforts they succeeded in capsizing the boat. All could swim but Wright, who sank in 25 feet of water, and was drowned. His body remained in the water for about fifteen minutes.

First Sermons.

Four new Methodist ministers preached their first sermons to their new congregations to-day. All made good impressions. They are: Rev. R. Whiting, Centenary Church; Rev. R. H. Bell, Hannah-street; Rev. Dr. Williamson, Emerald-street; Rev. F. W. Hollinrake, Zion Tabernacle.

Ramblers' Picnic.

Altho rain fell fast about noon on Saturday it in no way spoiled the pleasure of the 225 present at the Ramblers' picnic, held at Nash's Grove. The committee, eMssrs. R. Joscelyn, chairman; W. W. Smith, secretary; R. Lacid, J. Meiler, J. Kinglion and J. Bain, were indefatigable in their efforts to give their guests a good day. The sports commenced at 3 o'clock with a baseball match between the Ramblers and the Germania Club, the Ramblers winning by 11 to 10. The other events were:

100 yards open race—E. Dore 1, W Blakley 2.

100 yards, R. B. C.—Wm. Marriot 1, W. Blakeley 2.

Pickaback race—Messrs. J. Ross and Ed. Dore 1, Messrs. Blakeley and McMaster 2.

Wheelbarrow race—Messrs. Ross and Dore 1, Messrs. Blakeley and McMaster 2.

Obstacles and jumps—W. Blakeley 1, W. Marriott 2.

Fat mans' race—R. Joscelyn 1, W. Marriott 2.

Throwing 56-pound shot—J. Ross 1, J. P. Masterson 2.

Z. Kingdon acted as referee to the races.

Singing contest—Won by W. Marriott, after singing one verse and a half of the "Preacher and the eBar." The second place was awarded to George Richmond for his long reach of voice, the competition being very keen for this position between George Richmond and R. Joscelyn. John Bain very effectively acted as referee to this contest. Uncle Pike gave a grand exhibition of bareback riding on Nash's wildest cow.

The winning numbers of drawing prizes are: 100, 1; 15, 2; 308, 3; 185, 4; 9, 5; 958, 6; 767, 7.

Gun Club's Grounds Opened.

The Hamilton Gun Club's new grounds on the beach, near Ghent's Crossing, were opened Saturday afternoon by Mayor Biggar, who shot at the first target. Owing to the fact that the Toronto boats were late in putting in an appearance Saturday afternoon only one race in the L.S.S.A. regatta was held. That was for the Birely Cup for 14-foot dinghies. Hears With Spoon.

Carlisle, Pa., July 1.—"You're not deaf," said a visitor from New York to James P. Neff of this place, who had thought himself dreadfully defective in hearing for the past 45 years. The visitor got Neff to take a piece of cardboard between his teeth and listen to him as he talked in a low tone. Sure enough, Neff heard him well, and now he has been prevailed upon to go about with an aluminum spoon in his mouth, and he can hear all comers as well as anybody, simply by biting on the aluminum.

How to Spend the Day Enjoyably.

The 50-cent return fare will be good returning at any time. A ten-trip ticket is on issue for $1.50.

Shelbyville, Ind., July 1.—A sprouted bean was discovered in the nose of the ten-months-old boy of George Cuscaden by physicians. The mother noticed the child's nose growing larger on the right side and sought medical aid.

THINGS THAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW

First, that prevention is better than cure. That acute pain means inflammation and calls for immediate treatment. That every household should have a remedy like Nerviline, which has power to subdue inflammation and destroy pain at once.

Just a few drops required for earache, for toothache, one application is sufficient. Neuralgia and rheumatism flee as before fire. Lumbago and Sciatica, like other muscular pains, are cured by a few rubbings.

No liniment so clean, so strong and comforting as Polson's Nerviline; try a 25c bottle.
