Topics of the Hour.

In the current Ladies' Home Journal the question of the stranger in the church is taken up. A woman, plainly dressed, has been making rounds in the great churches to find of what nature the welcome may be. Her experiences appear in The Journal. In most cases she met with but little courtesy, and less warmth. In very few cases did anyone speak to her but the usher.

Of course the churches will not like it and in the whole thing there is a touch of cheapness. A psychologist would say that instinct told many sensitive persons that this was a wo-man not in need of sympathetic welcome, with the repellant atmosphere of criticism about her. However, this is by no means a reasonable excuse for the downright unkindness the stranger experienced only too often.

It is to be hoped that all this will teach people that it is the rich who should be let pass by, as they often desire to do so, not the poor, who really long for recognition of a friendly sort. In the same journal the sorority In the same journal the soronty question has been taken up very fully this month. Further developments regarding these societies may be expected shortly. Among Canadian girls a movement has begun for the formation of an amateur athletic league similar to those now in existence for the benefit of men. As it is very early to speak of the thing definitely as yet, no fur-ther particulars can be given, but the league will probably shortly be

In these columns there recently appeared an article on restaurant ac-commodation available for women at the exhibition. Some of our readers seem to labor under the impression that we declared there to be no accommodation for anyone. Quite the contrary. We have no doubt that there are excellent places available to men. What about a place reserved for women, or a place even suitable for women with babies, on a large enough, scale to accommodate all? It is a matter of common know-ledge that the best places, including such as the "Daughters of the En-pire's" lunch room, constantly turn away these whom it is impossible to

During the coming season a new node of hairdressing will be seen. The coil is rapidly leaving the top of the head, and low coifs will be worn for evening when no hat is needed, with the hair parted and waved over the ears in the style worn by our grandmothers. The knot will be as low
