

T. EATON CO. "Canada's Greatest Store"

Cloak Specials.

On Saturday morning the following goods will be placed on sale in the Cloak Department. Each item tells its own story—

DRESS SKIRTS.

57 only Ladies' Fancy Black Brocade Skirts, seven gone, lined throughout, interlined with French canvas and bound with velvet, regular price $6.50 each, Saturday morning 4.98 each.

UNDERSKIRTS.

14 only Ladies' Quilted Underskirts, made of black alpaca and aaten, lined with silk, length 38 inches, regular price $1.25 and $1.00 each, Saturday morning .98 each.

CHILDREN'S COATS.

10 only Children's Ripple Riderdown Coats, large collar, lined with braid and angora fur trimming, regular price $2.50 and $3.00, Saturday morning 1.39 each.

Ladies' Capes.

All good things must come to an end. That's emphatically true of this line of Four-dollar Capes. On Saturday morning we'll sell the balance of them—only 1.55—at 52.98 each. These Ladies' Capes are made of all-wool frieze, and come in fawn, brown and green colors and heather mixtures, sizes 32 to 42. While they last on Saturday morning you can buy them for

One Dollar and Ninety-eight Cents

Remember this is the last chance to buy at this price. No more when these are gone.

Ladies' Gloves.

We have 90 dozen Ladies' Gloves that were made to sell at 75c and 85c a pair, but for Saturday we'll let them go at fifty cents, and a big Glove bargain it is for that money.

A PREFERABLE WAY.

A very important statement was recently made in the Senate at Ottawa by Senator Scott in reference to the tariff, as it is to be operated on and after the 1st of August next. It is the intention of the Government, with the approval of Parliament, to bring about the result that a reduction of 20 per cent. shall then be made on the duties levied on English goods, and that British countries alone are to enjoy this favor.

We congratulate the Administration on its resolve thus to restrict the preference, but we are not by any means convinced that this large reduction will be advantageous to Canadian industry, nor do we think that it will be conducive to the soundness of our finances.

During the year ending 30th June, 1896, the average rate of duty on designated goods from Great Britain amounted to 30.2 per cent. It is generally supposed that under the Liberal tariff the rate has increased. Supposing that it now amounts to 32 per cent., the reduction above mentioned will bring this rate down to 24 per cent. We fear that there are some Canadian industries the proprietors of which will have to figure very closely in order to compete with English imports paying only 24 per cent. ad valorem. At present the average rate is about 28 per cent., and it would appear unwise to lower it until the effect of last year's legislation has been fully felt.

During the year ending 30th June, 1896, the amount of duty collected on goods from the United Kingdom and other countries of the British Empire amounted to $7,082,304. To deduct one-fourth from this means a loss of revenue amounting to $1,770,751, and almost as much as when Mr. Foster reduced the sugar duties, a step which he was very speedily obliged to retract. It would be a pity to repeat this error if Mr. Piddington were obliged for financial reasons to repeal, in whole or in part, preferences once granted to the United Kingdom, and therefore it would only be ordinary prudence on his part to allow the reduction to come into effect at one eighth of the duties. This itself means a loss to the revenue of $661,162, and since the economies to be practised by the Government are almost infinitesimal, they would show a greater advantage to some other plan of favoring British commerce which would at the same time increase the revenue.

Such a plan suggests itself from considerations with which the Government ought to be quite familiar. When in opposition it was customary for the Conservatives to charge the Liberals with hypocrisy, and taunt them with levying higher rates of duty on British goods than on those from foreign countries. Of course the individual rates of duty were the same in both cases, but it so happened that the proportion of free goods to dutiable was greater as regards foreign countries than in the case of the British Empire. The following are the figures for the year ending 30th June, 1896:

Imports from British Empire:
Dutiable.....$2,573,713
Free.....9,515,873
Total.....$12,089,586
Duty paid.....$7,689,205

Imports from other countries:
Dutiable.....$1,091,044
Free.....33,331,848
Total.....$34,422,892
Duty paid.....$12,465,428

From this it will be seen that there was some ground for the old Liberal contention, and that the average rate of duty on the total imports is higher by 5.1 per cent. on those from British than from foreign countries. This explanation is mostly due to the nature of our commerce with the United States, the value of our imports of free goods from there being fully equal to the value of the dutiable goods. Treated in the same manner as the above instances, the actual figures are as follows:

Imports from United States:
Dutiable goods.....$20,101,640 Free goods.....20,472,978 Total imports.....$40,574,618
Duty paid.....$7,767,092

It would thus appear that the average rate of duty on our total imports from the United States is less by 8.4 per cent. than what we charge on imports from British countries. This is a state of affairs which ought to be amended, and in our opinion the Government would earn a little credit by making a change.

It will be an easy matter for our present rulers to correct this object-able feature in our tariff and at the same time favor British imports to the extent they desire, as well as make up for the loss of revenue which the rebate of one-eighth the duty on the dutiable imports now occasions, by placing an extra ad valorem duty of 4 per cent. on the free goods imported from foreign countries, amounting in value to $33,- $32,848, a sum of $1,341,274 would be realized, and this would fully cover the amount now sacrificed by the rebate on British goods. We heartily commend this plan to the consideration of the Government as one which, besides possessing the advantages above specified, free from further molestation, and keep our finances in a sound condition.

While the court may have been obliged to unseat ex-Ald. Score upon a more technicality, there is no reason why the electors of Ward 3 should consider the decision as a mandate for a new election. Technically speaking, there must be a new election, but that election must be turned into a mere
