WOMAN: As She Appears for the Public Eye in the News of the Day

Meaneat Trick of All. PITTSBURG, Pa., June 7.—Just about the meaneat trick that blushing bride and groom ever suffered from was handed out to Frederick Hoffman and his bride, who was Miss Alice Ellababeth Welch, as they left the German Evangelical Protestant Church after the marriage ceremony had been performed last evening. Twenty-six babies, some white, some black, some dirty, a few clean, some smiling, but most of them loudly "bawling," were lined up on either side of the walk leading from the side door of the church to the street, where the bridal carriage was waiting. Me and Mrs. Hoffman came out of the church to the refrain of the wedding march, and just behind them came their attendants, Ernest Thompson and Miss Lena Hoffman. The first sound that greeted them was the chorus of baby cries, and the first man they noticed was the bridegroom, who was looking at them with a smile. As quickly as they could, and without one glance behind, the bridegroom and his attendants were driven away, followed by the screams of babies and other screams of the friends who had perpetrated the trick. Paul R. Benjamin, a theatrical man, known in Chicago as well as here, conceived the idea and gave up along Strawberry alley and Montour way. Vengeance is threatened by the bride and groom.

Toronto World's Beauty Patterns

No. 6127—Ladies' and Misses' Chemise.

Most women find the making of dainty under-muslins very fascinating work, and with a good pattern to work from, they are very easily and quickly made. In this design we have a most satisfactory model for a chemise. It is shaped by shoulder and under-arm seams, and the neck is finished by beading and lace edging. Ribbon is run thru the beading to regulate the fullness. One handkerchief will be required for the trimming in front. Fold the handkerchief diagonally from corner to corner, cut on the bias, and place on the neck edge over the gathering. A deep lace trimmed ruffle may finish the lower edge. The sheer fabrics are liked best for these garments, such as lawn, batiste, linen and cambric. The medium size requires 3 yards of 36-inch material. Ladies' and Misses' Chemise, No. 6127. Sizes for 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A pattern of the accompanying illustration will be mailed to any address on receipt of ten cents in silver.

The Banjo Girls.

One of the prettiest dances in the mammoth musical extravaganza of college life, Prof. Napleton, which is the motto of Toronto Western Hospital is preparing for production at the Princess Theatre on June 18, 19 and 20, is that of the banjo girls. There are about fifty girls in this dance. The scenery for the banjo girls is a representation of the campus of St. George's College. The banjo girls are supposed to be the college girls serenading the students of the college. They play their banjos and sing the "bang-a-pang" accompaniment of the serenade in truly college fashion. After the serenade all the girls have a relaxing dance on the campus. This dance has been very well learned. Every pretty pose and fancy step is already perfectly executed. The banjo girls are costumed in orange and black—Princeton colors—and the material these costumes is of such a peculiar shade that the lights, which are thrown on them from the balcony, make the costumes appear to be continually changing color. The banjo girls include Margaret Mulholland, E. Madge M. Comb, Eibel McComb, Eileen Hoffman, Monique Stone, Hazel E. Ellis, Sadie H. Brown, Lucius Bloor, Elisha Hamilton, Edna Straker, Clara Stanton, Vera Hanson, Winifred Corman, Olive Denn, Gertrude Tomlin, Emma Tomlin, Mabel A. Briggs, Grace E. Briggs, Gladys Stone, W. F. Under a canopy of flowers at the residence of Daniel G. Cox, was the scene of a very pretty June wedding on Wednesday evening. Hosts about 80 guests assembled at the marriage of his daughter, Mabelle A., to Clifford H. Hamilton of Edmonton, Alta. The wedding march was played by Miss Violet W. Cox, sister of the bride. The couple took their place under a bell of pink and white coronations, Rev. S. W. Falls officiating. The bride looked charming in French ivory silk, trimmed with lace and seed pearls and carried bride roses and was assisted by her sister, Miss Edith H. Cox, who wore pale pink silk organdie and carried pink roses, while Moody Wilson assisted the groom. The groom's gift to the bride was a superb pearl and to the bridesmaid a pearl crescent set in whole pearls, to the pianist a pearl brooch and to the best man a pearl stick pin. The happy couple left amid a shower of confetti on the evening train for Montreal and other points, the bride traveling in a brown broadcloth suit with hat to match. On their return they will take up their residence in Edmonton, Alta. Thru the kindness of Mrs. Macrae a sale of fancy work, children's clothes, books, etc., will be held on her veranda, Orincoy Cottage, 282 Centre, Monday, on Wednesday, June 17, from 3 p.m. till 10 p.m. Miss Downing will give several solos on the harp and Miss Brenda Spittle will sing. THREE-FIFTHS CLAUSE FRIEND OF TEMPERANCE Advocate of Prohibition From Nova Scotia Sees Strong Points in Favor of Existing Measure.

(From Sunday World.) ST. CATHARINES, June 6.—(Special)—William R. Geldert, deputy most worthy patriarch, Sons of Temperance, Truro, N. S., visiting in this city, says that from personal experience in local option centres in Ontario, he has been led to believe that the three-fifths clause in the Local Option Act is most commendable and worthy of endorsement of all who earnestly desire of abolishing barrooms and all legalized traffic in intoxicating drink. Mr. Geldert has been a temperance worker 14 years, and has in that time induced 37,000 persons to sign the abstinence pledge. The girl, Craigie Moffatt, whose deportation by the immigration department was prevented by Mayor Campbell, who aided in hiding her from the authorities, is still in the city, and is again living with her brother-in-law, named Shaw, who resides on Court-street. The mayor explains the statements credited to him to the effect that he had told the authorities and newspapers that the girl had gone to Montreal Wednesday night by saying that he purposely misled them in the girl's interest. The mayor this morning visited the Shaw home and left a ticket from St. Catharines to Glasgow on the steamer St. Athens, sailing on the 11th, and $8 balance remaining from the girl's money after purchasing the ticket. The mayor stated that he would have nothing further to do with the matter.

YOUTH STEALS KISSES AND MAY GO TO JAIL

Bold Young Man Fails to Prove Osculation is General Custom Around Chatham.

CHATHAM, June 7.—A unique kissing case affected the risibilities of the county court Saturday morning, and Alvy Provost, 20 years old, who fished two kisses from Miss Clara Zeach, 18 years old, while out driving with her last Thursday evening, will get some "reasonable" punishment meted out to him Monday morning. Both young people live near the eighth concession, Dover Township, and on the night in question the young swain called for his lady love in a rig. They drove around the country for a short period when the young man's free arm began to twine her shoulder, to which the maiden objected, so she stated in court. Suddenly the young fellow gave her a resounding kiss, to which she also objected. Then followed another equally objectionable. When the girl arrived home she told her mother, who averred her daughter must be "protected" and had the young man arrested, charging assault.

AT THE THEATRES

BOOKMAKERS ARE SORE ROBBED BY PICKPOCKETS. Expert Thieves Take Money From Them in Hundred and Two Hundred Dollar Notes. (From Sunday World.) If ever there was a sore bunch it is the makers of the books who held the lawns at the Woodbine during the past week. A none too profitable meet, where the talent was only moderately stung, was had enough, but when a week ago Saturday five expert American pickpockets walked down the line and lifted the cold cash in $100 and $200 chunks out of the bookies' satchels it was too much. About 10 of the one best artists were touched. Valentine lost $318; J. Munroe was minus $200; "Klondyke" L. Allenburg was relieved of $60; Aloucher of $75; Rod McMahon was shy $55, and various others lost like amounts. Many of these have developed a pessimistic view of Pinkerton police protection. ARREST CAME TOO LATE. James Kelly Wanted in New York Taken at Woodbine. (From Sunday World.) James Granger, alias James Kelly, alias James Ennisson, wanted in New York for forgery and grand larceny, was arrested at the Woodbine track Saturday afternoon by Detectives Archibald and Tipton. He was taken just after he had made a losing bet. "Why didn't you put me in at the beginning of the meet; you would have saved me $1000," he said. He says, too, that he lost $2000 at New Orleans just before coming here. If Granger had stuck to his Christy hat, which he wore until yesterday, he would have got away, as the detectives have been looking for him since Wednesday. But yesterday he donned a cap like that worn in the photo in the hands of the police, and he was immediately recognized. He was registered at the King Edward Hotel under the name of James Ennisson. ROYAL YACHT BREAKS BLADE. First Mishap of Meeting Between the British and Russian Monarchs. (From Sunday World.)
