How Exchange in European Countries Helped Dutch Traveler.

Venice, Nov. 8.—A Dutchman, who has been making a tour of Europe, visiting Venice among other places, gives the following curious account of his travel-following curlous account of his traveling expenses.

He left his home in Maestricht to go to Paris with 20 florins. Those he changed into French money, getting for them 126 francs. His ticket cost him 24, so he arrived in the capital with 102. He then left for Turin, the journey costing him 44 francs.

At Turin he changed the remaining 58 francs into Italian money, getting for them 84 lire. Of those he spent 21 going to Venice, and other 18 in going to Munich. There he changed the balance of 45 Italian lire into Austrian marks, of which he got 225. A ticket Berlin cost him 100 marks and anher to Aix-la-Chapelle 110.

He was now within a dozen miles or of his starting point, Maestricht, and ad still remaining his 20 florins, 15 ustrian marks. Those he had changd into Dutch money getting for them nly 65 centimos (18 cents). The are was 78 centimos. So his 20 florins, lus 18 centimos (less than 5 cents), hanks to the amenities of the exchange, arried him round a large part of Euope.

JIX-YEAR-OLD TOT COMES ALL ALONE FROM LONDON, ENG.

(Toronto Globe)

Mary Appleby, six years old, arrived at the Union Station last night afor making the journey from London, England, alone to the "great and new country." Mary was hungry and sleey, and was taken care of by the Traveler's Aid workers. She had missed her connection, and had to stay overnight in Coronto. This moraing she will start he last lap of her journey.

Ittle girl's mother died recently, as she said herself, "daddy is still drance, and will never come back," thad been sent by some kind friends her aunt who lives in Merritton. She are a tag showing her name, where e came from and her destination. Although overjoyed with the possesn of a huge red apple, Mary fell aspin the Travellers' Aid office last wht, unaware of the greatness of the liventure upon which she has bravely abarked.
