

There were a great many people present at the meeting. The speaker, Mr. Martin, was very eloquent in his remarks. He said that the bill was a very important one, and that it was necessary for the government to pass it. He then read a letter from the Hon. Mr. Macdonnell, in which he expressed his support for the bill. The meeting then adjourned.

THIRTY DAY.
On April 5, 1896, the Hon. Mr. Macdonnell, Minister of the Interior, presented a bill to the House of Commons. The bill was for the purpose of amending the law relating to the sale of land. The bill was read a first time.

The bill was then referred to a committee. The committee reported that the bill was a good one, and that it should be passed. The House then passed the bill by a majority of 100. The bill was then sent to the Senate.

The Senate passed the bill by a majority of 10. The bill was then sent back to the House.

claim. After final judgment had been rendered in the said case, the person or one of the persons entitled to possession of the claim, may file a certified copy of the judgment in the office of the Minister of the Interior, and after such filing and the recording of the same, the person or persons shall be entitled to the issue to him or them of a certificate of improvements in respect of the claim or the portion to which they are entitled, from the decision of the court, and the person or persons shall be entitled to the same. Provided that this section shall not apply to any claim or action to enforce the same commenced prior to the date of the coming into force, but the same shall be continued in the same manner as if this act had not been passed.

Mr. Kennedy presented a petition on behalf of the Independent Order of Good Templars, protesting against the proposed amendment to the Liquor License Act. The petition was read, and the bill was then passed.

LAND BILL.
The Hon. Mr. Martin moved the second reading of the bill, the object of which, he said, was to re-enact, almost word for word, the provisions of the act of 1884, which empowered the government to sell crown lands. He thought the bill would commend itself to the members of the house and read a first time.

It being six o'clock, the speaker left the chair, after Mr. Kitchen had introduced a bill to amend the mechanics' lien act.

AFTER RECESS.
Mr. Smith moved the adjournment of the debate on the Land bill, which was agreed to.

Mr. Turner submitted the supplementary estimates, which were dealt with in the usual manner. The Hon. Mr. Martin then presented a bill, transmitting a bill to encourage the settlement of the whole and the bill referred to the house and read a first time. Mr. Turner then explained the provisions of the bill.

Every loan made under the provisions of this act, or the portion thereof for the time being remaining unpaid, shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable yearly, and the capital sum of the loan shall be repayable and repaid in three instalments, the first of such instalments to become due and be paid at the expiration of two years from the date of the loan, and the remaining two instalments to become due and be paid at a corresponding date in each of the two subsequent years, so that the whole loan shall be paid, with interest, within four years from the date of the loan.

In respect of all moneys loaned for any purpose or purposes under this act, the Minister of Finance on behalf of the Province shall, by virtue of this act and without further deed or instrument in writing, have a first charge and mortgage upon all the property and assets of the Company or Association, including the unpaid amount of the capital stock of the Company or Association, for which both those persons who were shareholders at the time the loan was made, and also all persons to whom any of the said shares may at any time have been transferred, shall be fully and jointly and severally liable, and the company shall not at the respective periods in this act provided pay all instalments of the principal amount loaned then due, it shall be lawful for the minister of finance to take possession of and at his discretion sell, mortgage or lease all or any of such property and assets, either together or in parcels, and buy in or resell any contract for sale and to receive the moneys arising from any such sale or mortgage, and in the first instance to apply the same in payment of the costs of and incident to such sale or mortgage or taking of possession; in the next place, in payment of the moneys due the government in respect of the loan, with interest; and to pay the balance, if any, to the company or association.

A company or association which has obtained a loan under this act, shall be governed by the provisions following:—
1. The books and accounts of the company or Association shall at all times be open to inspection by the minister of finance or a person appointed by him, and the said minister of finance may give directions as to any particulars which he may deem necessary to be shown therein; and all officers of any such company or association shall furnish the minister with such information as may from time to time be requested with respect to the working and management of the affairs of the company or association.

2. No dividends shall be declared by the company or association upon its capital stock so long as any sum is due in respect of a loan made hereunder without the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor in council.

3. All butter manufactured by any creamery shall be plainly stamped so as to indicate the creamery where the same is made, and also the weight of each tub, pat or parcel.

4. The creamery shall be open to inspection by an officer of the department of agriculture, and by the provincial board of health.

The Lieutenant-Governor in council may make regulations for carrying out the provisions of this act, and for further defining the requirements to be fulfilled before the company or association shall be entitled to a loan, in such form as may be deemed advisable.

A return, in detail, showing any loan made by the Lieutenant-Governor in council under authority by this act, and the status of all previous loans, shall be placed before the legislative assembly within ten days from the opening of the session.

The bill brought down yesterday in respect of a land grant to the Columbia & Western Railway, allows a grant of 10,240 acres of land to each mile of narrow gauge line built by the company. The latter should deposit security to the amount of $50,000 in case they fail to build from Trail to Penticton within four years of the passage of the act of incorporation.

It should be the company's duty to construct a standard gauge line, the land grant will be 20,000 acres per mile, to apply only to the main line.
