ANDERSON RETAINS THE BELT

There was a large and appreciative audience at the York Theatre last night when Sam Anderson, the Champion middle weight of the world, wrestled Frank Carpenter, the western middle weight, who hails from Chicago. The agreement was that Anderson was to place his championship silver belt worth some hundreds of dollars against two hundred dollars of Carpenter's for the best two falls out of three. The match resulted that Anderson won, but the match lasted from shortly after 8.30 o'clock until 10.30, and the time that the match was on there was not a moment when it was not full of excitement, strength and skill. Both men are very clever and they used all the tricks in the wrestling game that is known. The large audience were divided as to their choice and to get the belt Carpenter worked hard while the champion used all his skill and strength to save it.

Dan McDonald was chosen by the two to referee the bout but there was some dissatisfaction on the account of McDonald disqualifying Anderson after twenty-five minutes of wrestling and gave a fall to Carpenter.

McDonald then said that he was right but that if either of the contestants were not satisfied that he would discontinue to referee. Anderson said that he was not satisfied and then on the choice of the audience T. Sayre of Montreal was chosen and completed the match.

The two wrestlers went on the mat and wrestled strong for thirty-five minutes more when Carpenter was disqualified for using tactics that is against the rules. There was some talk after this decision, but the decision was right. Once more the wrestlers went at the work, each having a fall to their credit, and the final fall meant a great deal to each one. For over twenty-five minutes they struggled, showing all their cleverness with at the last moment Anderson managed to get the whirl on Carpenter and placed him to the mat and was awarded the match.

After the match, which lasted until after ten o'clock, both Carpenter and Anderson made addresses to the audience. Carpenter said that he was not satisfied, and that he felt sure that he could beat Anderson. On the other hand Anderson stated that he was not only satisfied that he could beat Carpenter, but he was not satisfied with his bout with Dan McDonald a couple of weeks ago, and said that he was able to throw both McDonald and Carpenter in the one night, but that the match would have to take place quick, as he had to return to Boston and teach the wrestling class in Harvard next week.

Carpenter said that he was quite willing to meet Anderson again, and would remain over in the city for the purpose, if the match could be arranged.

After the bout Dan McDonald was induced to return to the mat and take up Anderson's challenge, and Carpenter was also pleased for another chance, with the result that Anderson will have his work out for him when on Friday night he will have the two huskies opposing him, viz, Carpenter and McDonald, and if he fails to throw the two he loses.

COPELAND MAY GO TO AUSTRIA

Boston, Nov. 25.—Al Copeland, former athletic trainer at Princeton, coach and trainer of Henri St. Yves, the French Marathon runner, and other well-known athletes, has not yet been selected by the Austrian Olympic Committee to coach the Austrian athletes for the Olympic games in Berlin in 1916.

An American trainer will be chosen, however, and Copeland is one of those considered, but the selection will not be made until Dr. Otto Herschmann, president of the Austrian Olympic Committee, has completed his visit to America and has returned to report to his associates.

Dr. Herschmann arrived in Boston yesterday and will be the guest of the city today in a tour of the playgrounds and gymnasiums as well as paying a visit to the American Olympic Committee. He is expected to be given an informal dinner at the B. A. A. as the guest of the officials of the N.E.A.A.U. and will witness a fencing exhibition here.

Dr. Herschmann said last night that the report that Copeland was selected as coach was untrue. "There is some foundation for the report, however, for Mr. Copeland is one of the American trainers I have in mind for the position. But no decision can be made until I return to Vienna and consult with other members of the Austrian Olympic Committee and with Prince Otto von Windisch Gratz."

Dr. Herschmann is a lawyer in Vienna and has represented his country in two Olympic meetings. He was a member of the Austrian swimming team at Athens in 1896 and in 1904, and last year was a member of the water polo team at Stockholm. He is one of the best water polo players in the world and his team was sent to Hungary at Sweden. He finished second in the 100-meter swim at Athens, in 1896. Dr. Herschmann married a New York girl about seven years ago and is the guest of James E. Sullivan of the A. A. U. while in New York, and who was shown about the city yesterday by Edward E. Walsh, Charles E. Carter and Joseph B. Macchese, is the founder of the largest athletic club in Austria, which is in Vienna, and he is also president of the Austrian Olympic Committee.

NEWS OF THE BIG WRESTLERS IN THE STATES

A majority of the wrestlers, who will appear at Mechanics' Hall, Boston, on Thanksgiving Day night, will not be familiar to the local followers of the sport. Lemie, of course, has been seen in action in Boston, but Aberg, Lenhardt, Fristensky and Matloff are all fresh arrivals with the highest of European reputations. The match between Lemie and Aberg, who will wrestle in the Graeco-Roman style, is certain to arouse the keenest interest, as this is the European method with which the average foreign wrestler is most familiar and able to show at his best.

Speaking of wrestling, there is Jack Johnson, somewhat notorious as a boxing person. Just why Johnson should desire to become a wrestler is a dark mystery, but if the European wrestling is so terrific, it is not particularly the members can go ahead and do whatever they desire with the man without a country.

Karl Lemie, the "perfect man," is training as he never trained before, to be in the pink of condition for his match with Alex Aberg, the unbeaten Russian-Finnish, whom he will meet under Graeco-Roman rules in one of the three final matches which will mark the big carnival in Mechanics' Hall on Thanksgiving night.

Lemie will be joined today by his countryman, Gustaf Fristensky, who is to face Karl Lenhardt of Germany in one of the other events under catch-as-catch-can rules. Fristensky will be the guest of the United Bohemian Society while in Boston, and will train at a private Back Bay gymnasium.

SPORTOGRAPHY "GRAVY"

Practically every baseball world's series develops some youthful hero, who, like David of old, becomes famous in a day. The series of last month was no exception, and Joseph Bush, although a beardless youth still in his teens, has won a niche in the baseball hall of fame. Incidentally, this is Joe's last day in his teens, for on the morrow he will celebrate his twentieth birthday.

It was on the ninth of last month that Connie Mack uncovered his surprise party, and sent Bush out to face the Giants. And Bush walloped the Giants in little more time than it took David to slay Goliath. The old-time eleven-foot giant Goliath. The boy pitcher held the Giants down to five hits.

Bush's first name is Leslie, but he wisely adopted the middle moniker, Joseph, as a diamond name. He was born on Nov. 27, 1893, at Brainerd, Minn., the small little city that gave to the world that other famous Athletic twirler, "Chief" Bender. In his caddy days Bush played on school and amateur nines, and covered every position except that of "catcher."

As a pitcher he made quite a local reputation, and he was given a chance to play professional ball with the Missoula, Mont., club in the Union Association. There he was discovered by Connie Mack's scouts, and Mister McGilchrist decided to give him a chance in fast company. He reported to the Athletics at Chicago in the middle of September, 1912, but a bum arm prevented him from displaying his pitching prowess that year. In his first game, which was against Detroit, the Tigers swatted him all over the yard. This year he made good, and baseball prophets were disappointed if he doesn't shine as a star next season. He has a speedy curve and unlimited confidence and nerve, and in the world's series he was as cool and steady as a veteran. He is a good singer, has a keen sense of humor, and is a favorite with his teammates. He is five feet ten inches in height, and weighs around 175 pounds. With both Bush and Bender claiming Brainerd as their native town, that little Minnesota city is certainly on the base.

WANTS TO BE THE WORLD'S CHAMPION

THIS DATE IN RING ANNALS

Nov. 25. 1908—Stanley Ketchel knocked out Billy Papke in 11th round at Colma. This bout was for the middleweight championship of the world, which had not been fought for since the McCoy-Creedon fight in 1897. Papke had knocked out Ketchel the previous September, and demanded $12,000 of the $20,000 guarantee offered by Jimmy Crofford. Ketchel accepted this division. A big holiday crowd was on hand to see the fight, and money was vied freely, with Papke the favorite. Jack Welsh was the third man in the ring. The first three rounds were even, both men fighting furiously, but from the fourth round Ketchel had the best of it, and won by a knockout in the 11th chapter. At one time both men tumbled out of the ring, but crawled back and went at it again.

1906—Jack Johnson and Joe Jeannette fought 10-round draw at Portland, Me.

1910—Owen Moran knocked out Bat Nease in 11th round at San Francisco.

LIVE TOPICS ABOUT LIVE RING STARS

Terry Martin On Job.

Terry Martin of Manchester, the old warhorse of the welter division, called in yesterday to state that he was still very much on the map. I am feeling just as young as ever," said Terry, "and nothing would suit me better than to meet all of the New Englanders in the 145-154 pound class. I can whip a lot of them, despite the fact that I am not so young as I used to be, for in my day a boxer had to learn the hard way and I certainly learned."

Terry was accompanied by Tommy Connolly, well known to boxing fans, who after a year out of the game because of a death in his family, states that he is now open to meet all comers in the welter division.

Kilbane Pleads Guilty.

Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, after being potted by the basic writers, with the exception of Cleveland, finally acknowledges that he is a lightweight, and will box in that class in the near future. He states that after Jan. 1, 1914, he will be ready to take on either Joe Magdoff or Charley White. For a year or more, probably more, Kilbane has been clearing up in fine style by coming in over weight against 125 pounders, but now he has been forced to step up to the next division, things won't break so easy for knock. At that, Johnny's foot work and cleverness is going to keep him out of a whole lot of trouble.

Langford-Watkins Bout Off.

New York, Nov. 25.—The 10-round bout between Sam Langford, the colored heavyweight of Boston, and Bill Watkins, scheduled to take place at the Twyford C., Brooklyn, tonight, was declared off.

WICKBORO MAN WAS PUGILIST NOW MINISTER

Kittanning, Pa., Nov. 25.—From pugilist to preacher in one year, was the step made by Mark Beer, of Wickboro, who preached his first sermon in the Brethren Christ Church in Wickboro Sunday. A year ago Beer was an amateur boxer in towns in the Allegheny Valley. He was successful and finally went to New York. There he substituted for another man in a bout and was beaten decisively. Disheartened he wandered about the streets until he visited a mission meeting. Beer was converted before the meeting closed. He returned home and began studying for the ministry. The Wickboro church is his first charge.

One man, B. J. Laidly, reported a buck shot by Edward Luthardt, and added that the latter could not report it because he was shot himself, while carrying the animal.
