Claims Dandruff Will Cause Baldness

If you have dandruff you must get rid of it quick—it's positively dangerous and will surely ruin your hair if you don't.

Dandruff heads mean faded, brittle, gray, scraggly hair that finally dies and falls out—new hair will not grow—then you are bald and nothing can help you.

The only sure way to abolish dandruff for good is to destroy the germ that causes it. To do this, quickly, surely and safely, and at little expense, there is nothing so effective as Parian sage, which you can get from good druggists everywhere. It is guaranteed to banish dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair, and promote a new growth, or the cost, small as it is, will be refunded.

Parian sage is a scientific preparation that supplies all hair needs—an antiseptic liquid neither sticky or greasy, easy to apply, and delicately perfumed.

If you want beautiful soft, thick, lustrous hair, and lots of it by all means use Parian sage. Don't delay—begin tonight—a little attention now insures abundant hair for years to come.

WEDDINGS

A wedding of considerable interest will take place at six o'clock this morning in the Central Baptist church when Fenella M. Wilson will be married to Major Andrew Robert Ketterton, D. S. O., of Montreal. Rev. B. J. McPherson will perform the ceremony, and the bride will be given away by her brother, Mr. Rudolf Wilson, of Moncton. The bride, who is a daughter of Alfred J. Wilson, was overseas as matron of the 3rd Canadian Hospital, C. C. S. Major Ketterton, who went overseas as second in command of the Canadian Railway troops, saw considerable service. He is a son of Thomas Ketterton of Gourock, Scotland, and a graduate of the Royal Engineering College of Edinburgh. He is now on the staff of the C. P. R., as bridge expert. The bride will wear a navy blue travelling suit with black velvet hat and veil, and a corsage bouquet of pink roses. Among the out of town guests expected at the ceremony are Mrs. Ida Hiltard of Boston, Mrs. H. Hunter of Montreal, Mrs. Neilson and Miss Evelyn Neilson of Montreal, and Miss Ketterton of Montreal.

Kaye-Colpitts.

Pleasant Vale, Sept. 4.—A wedding of more than ordinary interest took place at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of Capt. and Mrs. G. W. Colpitts, when their only daughter, Miss Muriel, was united in marriage to Archibald Kaye of Forest Glen, N. B. To the strains of Longfellow's Wedding March, played by Miss Vera DeBow, the bride leaning on the arm of her father, carrying a beautiful bouquet of white asters and sweet peas, preceded by the bridesmaid, Miss Muriel Colpitts of Alma, carrying a bouquet of pink sweet peas and asters, joined the groom and groomsmen, Percy DeBow in the parlor where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Gregg of Petitcodiac, assisted by Rev. Mr. Windsor of Elgin.

The bride was dressed in white satin and georgette crepe, wearing a bridal veil of orange blossoms and the bridesmaid in pale blue crepe de chene and black velvet picture hat. After the ceremony the happy pair were warmly congratulated by the sixty guests present, all relatives of the couple. After congratulations a most excellent lunch was served in the spacious dining room.

The bride who is very popular received many valuable presents in gold, silver and cut glass. The groom's gift to the bride was $100 in cash, to the bridesmaid a gold locket, to the groom a gold locket and to the best man gold cuff links. After a brief honeymoon the happy couple will make their home with the bride's parents.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING.

A conference was held yesterday afternoon between representatives of department of soldiers' civil reestablishment and the provincial vocational education board, as to the possibilities of co-operation between the two bodies in the providing of vocational training for returned soldiers. Considerable discussion took place but as neither side had a definite proposition to put forth nothing was done. Another conference will be held in the near future at which it is expected a more definite proposition will be presented. After the conference the provincial board transacted considerable routine business.

HEAVY TRAVEL EXPECTED.

W. H. Snell, general passenger agent of the C. P. R., who arrived in the city yesterday from St. Andrews, expressed the opinion that passenger travel through the port of St. John would be very heavy this coming season, as the finishing up of the transportation of soldiers left more accommodation for civilians, both to and from Europe.

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quart of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion whitener, at very, very small cost. Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands and see how quickly the freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

SPOKE IN BOSTON.

Rev. Allan A. Rideout was the chief speaker at the gathering of the Old Fellows in Fenway Park, Boston, Sunday. According to the Boston Post he paid a glowing tribute to what England had done in the great war. The speaker also delivered a scathing indictment of Bolshevism.

Rev. Mr. Rideout is a graduate of the University of New Brunswick and was formerly pastor of the Baptist church in Fredericton.

SOME DETECTIVE.

Nick Carter, Old King Brady and Sherlock Holmes have made the opinion that a sleuth must wear a disguise and do uncommon things to make a success of his calling, but one chap, who spent last night in the station house, pulled off an original stunt. He is a full fledged member of the International Detective Agency according to his credentials, but at the time of his arrest he was accused of being drunk and getting more so in a small alley-way off Horsfield street. At the time of the police strike this man was signed on as a member of the force.

LABOR FAIR.

There was a fairly good attendance at the Labor Fair last evening, and the various booths did a rushing business. The door prize, a ton of coal donated by the Consumers Coal Co., was won by ticket No. 6957. Tonight will be a grand closing and a bumper house is expected. Music will be furnished by the Temple Band, the door prize will be an electric iron valued at $9.00. At ten o'clock the big auction will begin and everything not disposed of otherwise will be sold to the highest bidder.

Mrs. Herbert E. Berry with her daughter, Dorchester, Mass., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McDonald, 31 Hillyard street.

Live Canadian Political Views

Items Cleaned from Leading Journals of the Day—What is Said in Different Parts of Canada.

Mr. Fielding and the Quebec Bosses.
Toronto Mail and Empire—It Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie-King is not soon supplied with a seat the leadership conferred upon him at the recent "National Liberal" convention may be captured by his chief rival. Mr. Fielding was outvoted at the convention, but he is not sulking or taking a back seat on that account. On the contrary, he is sitting close to Mr. King's elbow, and Mr. D. D. McKinnon, but looks upon him as a competitor rather than a coadjutor of that temporary chief. It looks, too, as if Mr. Fielding were bent on removing from the minds of the Quebec members the idea, which seemed to govern them at the convention, that he is out of sympathy with their views. His questioning of the Prime Minister as to what would happen if the Peace Treaty with Germany should not be ratified by the Parliament of Canada seemed to be understood by Quebec members as a return to the old tactics.

Canada Need Not Be Slow to Sign the Peace Treaty.
Toronto Telegram—Terrible if Clause 10 of the Treaty of Versailles requires Canada to guarantee the territorial integrity of France and other European countries.

Canada may put this country's signature behind the guarantee, but the conscientious objectors to the treaty will never be called upon to put their bodies in front of that guarantee. Britain's guarantee for the territorial integrity of the shores of the St. Lawrence was supported by the manhood of the Canadian nation. Britain was supported by the territorial integrity of Quebec and other provinces of Canada as Canada will ever be called upon to do to support the territorial integrity of France or any other European nation.

Quebec anti-conscriptionists, aided by the anti-dreadnought, Hon. W. S. Fielding, would not hesitate to pledge Canada's signature to Clause 10 of the Peace Treaty. Canada's signature is all that ever will be pledged if the anti-conscriptionists of the east have their way.

The Federal By-Elections.
New York Sun—Unusual interest attaches to the by-elections soon to be held in Canada, as they will be the first to take place since the formation of the wartime coalition with its restraint upon party politics. There are vacancies to be filled on October 27, in several districts, such as Prince, Prince Edward Island; Carleton Place, New Brunswick; East and West, New Brunswick; St. John's, Newfoundland; Glengarry, Stormont, North Ontario and Kingston, Ontario; Assiniboia, Saskatchewan, and Victoria, British Columbia. These scattered districts may give a remarkably representative expression of the present trend of political opinion, though most of the candidates are undoubtedly agricultural sections, and comparatively minor towns. But they are examples from all but three of the nine provinces.

"Nearly all of them have sent in their names as Liberals, though Kingston and North Ontario are Conservative. In North Ontario and Glenora, the Conservative candidates have already been nominated, and in Assiniboia a farmers' convention has been called for this month. The general election seems to be the Liberal, if not radical, ideas will gain greater representation. The war has naturally held down experimentation in politics, but reconstruction purposes may be more than likely to stimulate it.

Another new thing is that these elections will be the first at which the full force of the women's vote may appear. The result will be of no small interest to us, as well as to Canadians, as an indication of probable currents of popular opinion."

The Party of Progress.
The British Columbian—The Toronto Times regards the name Conservative for one of Canada's historic parties as not only unpopular in the progressive age, but an absolute misnomer which is impossible to carry in the Canadian West. "The simple fact of the matter," says the Times, "is that the so-called 'Conservative' party has long been the party of Canadian progress, while Liberalism has long stood and still stands for reaction on many of the important issues of the day."

The Sad Awakening.
Toronto Telegram—H. Harley Dewar, K. C., M. P. P., has awakened to the sad truth that the U. F. O. is a menace to his political ambitions rather than to the future of the Hebert government.

"The U. F. O. has risen to smite the hand that helped it," quotes the eminent K. C. at Fergus. And as he raged at President Hebert you could distinguish in his dulcet tones the age of a father whose reasoning has failed to affect an ungrateful child.

For in smashing his way into politics the farmer finds the Liberal constituency the easiest to smash. Sad is the Liberal leader and cloud.

Couldn't Leave House For Year

Hamilton Tells of His Wife's Remarkable Improvement Since Taking Tanlac—Now Able to Take Long Walks.

"Last Sunday my wife was able to be out of the house for the first time in almost a year, and she wouldn't have been out then if Tanlac had not put her on her feet," is the remarkable testimony of William Hamilton who resides at 149 Preston street, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Mrs. Hamilton had Spanish influenza over a year ago, she continued, "and had never been able to overcome the effects of it. Her appetite was gone completely and she fell off in weight and strength until she was frail and thin as anybody could be and still get around. Her nerves were all torn up and the least little noise would make her jump and quiver like a leaf. Many a night she has lain awake until daylight in nervous misery. She complained of dull throbbing headaches, and it has made her actually suffer at times to see her so weak and run down and in so much pain. Somebody else had to attend to all the housework, as she could just barely creep about the house and hadn't been able to go out-of-doors for nearly twelve months. She was confined to the bed most of the time, and even when she would get up in her room for a while, she really ought to have been in bed.

"It sure was a surprise to me to see her build up the way she has since she started taking Tanlac. Her appetite is just fine now. Why she told me the other day that if she kept on she would eat us out of house and home. Every day she seems stronger and more like her old self, and she never complains of being tired and weak and run down any more. Last Sunday she went out for a long walk with me, the first time she's been out of the house in nearly a year. She seems like a different person and is beginning to feel that her troubles are all over. Tanlac is the only thing that ever did her any good, and we are both as happy as the day ever was. The way she has covered her health since she has been taking it, and we are glad to recommend it to all the time."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co., and F. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Advt.

Norma Talmadge At The Imperial

In H. H. Van Loan's Russian Story "The New Moon"—A Splendid Attraction.

Drizzling rain outside with the first portions of fall in the air only served to accentuate the coziness of Imperial Theatre last evening when the powerful Russian drama "The New Moon" received its initial presentation, featuring Norma Talmadge and Pedro de Cordoba in roles quite unlike anything else they had before attempted.

The entertainment was much above the average for class and distinctiveness, the music rich and classically beautiful, the picture, while the single reel pictures, such as the British Weekly, Topics of The Day and Mutt and Jeff gave balance and variety to the bill that made the whole evening a delight. It was a personal triumph for Norma Talmadge, who essayed the role of a Russian princess during the late troublous times when the mark of royalty was a sign to kill. Much money seemed to have been lavished in making the production truly artistic, the scenic and costume design, the lighting, the music, the acting, the acting cast was extraordinary, with Pedro de Cordoba, Marc MacDermott and others supporting the star.

This same programme will be shown at the Imperial today and this evening. It is well worth seeing. For the mid-week May Allison, who has attained to fame in late months for her delightful Metro stories in lighter vein, will be seen in E. V. Darling's bubbling fiction "Almost Married." There will be a Burton Holmes travelogue, the Gaumont Weekly and comedy numbers.
