

USED W. C. T. U. AS BEANS FOR COLLECTING NEARLY $400 FROM ST. JOHN MERCHANTS

Clever Woman Represented That She Was Acting for That Worthy Organization—Merchants Gave Liberally as Appeal Was Made Largely on Behalf of Campbellton Fire Sufferers—Names of Prominent Ladies Connected With W. C. T. U. Work Taken Advantage Of.

What is declared by W. C. T. U. officials to have been a daring attempt at fraud was successfully worked during the last few days by a woman...

Wednesday, Aug. 31. Pedersen, and many others. Inquiry at some of these houses showed that the woman told that she was a stranger here...

Mrs. Grey Astonished. When the matter was brought to her attention last night by a Telegraph reporter, Mrs. Gray at once repudiated the whole thing on behalf of the W. C. T. U. and expressed amazement that the name of the organization should have been used for such a fraud.

BUILDINGS PRACTICALLY READY FOR EXHIBITION

Executive's Work There Completed and Exhibitors Are Getting Things Into Shape—Still a Demand for Space—Women's Council Met Yesterday to Discuss Final Plans.

Everything is in readiness at the Dominion Exhibition buildings so far as the responsibilities of the executive go, and it is purely a matter of expediency on the part of those who make the arrangements...

fact, Mr. Heans has been official architect for the executive throughout, and his work has seemingly been thoroughly done.

LOCAL NEWS

There was a fairly heavy frost on Monday night at Hampton and several points along the Intercolonial Railway, but no serious damage was done.

John Pender, brother of James Pender, of Pender, Nal Works, who left on his return to the States by the Dominion night, will visit Montreal and Chicago, sailing from Vancouver on the 9th.

Willard S. MacIntyre, of this city, left last evening for Boston. He is a 1910 graduate of Acadia, and has received the appointment of head of the mathematical department in a school at North Adams (Mass.).

Much sympathy will be felt for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Orchard in the death of their eldest son, Robert Edward, who passed away Wednesday morning.

Charles F. Williams, of the Berkshire Fertilizer Company, Bridgeport (Conn.), is in the city on his way to Gagetown, where he will spend some time shooting. He was graduated from the University of New Brunswick in 1888 and comes to Gagetown for a brief vacation each year.

J. W. Fleming, of New York, has arrived in the city and will spend a few days renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Fleming is the husband of the late Mary E. Fleming, the well known author, whose books are still favorites. He is now inspector of steamers in the metropolis.

The two-story brick building on the corner of Duke and Charlotte streets has, it is understood, been sold to E. E. Williams for his lease, $10,000, and $18,000, as for his lease expires, Aid. Vanwart will probably move his grocery business into the store on the opposite corner, which he owns, and which is now occupied by a dry goods firm.

The following ticket stations for the exhibition have been selected: The Royal Pharmacy, 47 King street; Landry's Drug Store, 47 King street; Reicker's Drug Store, 47 King street; the new building, 637 Main street; Queen and Carmarthen streets; Coupe's Drug Store, 637 Main street; Hawker's Drug Store, Paradise Row corner; E. O. Parsons, King street, West End.

The season for shooting smaller game, such as ducks, geese, woodcock, etc., will open today, and on the 15th the season will open for big game, such as moose, deer, caribou, and also that for partridge will begin. Indications point to a season from the sportsman's point of view, and it is expected that quite a number of Americans and others from outside places will visit this province. Game is said to be very plentiful.
