

FORT FRANCES LOCK—*continued.*SUTHERLAND, H.—continued.

character of engineering supervision, 332.
 probably not present one day a week, 333.
 in engineer's absence foreman superintended engineering work, 333.
 witness inspected other public works in North-West, 333.
 witness had had no practical experience on locks or canals, 334.
 paymaster John Logan, 334.
 his cheques countersigned by witness, 334.
 accounts for supplies sent direct to the Department, by whom they were paid, 334.
 manner of requisitioning for supplies, 335.
 paymaster also acted as store-keeper, 336.
 expenditure made at Fort Frances chiefly wages, 337.
 James Sutherland chief book-keeper, 337.
 general financial arrangements, 337.
 as to alleged misconduct, 338.
 speculation in lands, 338.
 and supplies, 339.
 no public moneys passed to witness's private credit, 339.
 transactions with Wilson, store-keeper, 340.
 refers to Dr. Bown's enquiry, 341. all transactions shown in James Sutherland's books, 341.
 which books are available for investigation, 342.
 further as to alleged misconduct, 342.
 comparison between amounts paid for supplies and wages, 343.
 supplies generally purchased by tender, 343.
 transport of supplies a considerable item, 343.
 witness's relations with Nixon and Alloway, 344.
 nitro-glycerine sold to Whitehead, 345.
 will produce books, 345.
 denies Litle's assertions, 330.
 as to establishment of newspaper by Government money, 830.
 as to employing workmen to seek for timber, 830.
 certain unpaid accounts, 832.

WILSON, G. M.

engaged in Government store in 1876, under Logan, 412.
 system on which managed, 412.
 monthly accounts rendered, 443.
 spring of 1877 purchased stock at Logan and Thompson's appraisalment, and supplied men as a private undertaking, 413.
 explains alleged misconduct, 443, 535.
 offers to produce private books, 447.
 produces books and explains various entries, 525—534.

SUTHERLAND, J.

engaged as book-keeper from spring of 1875 to end of 1878, 452.
 separate account kept for Government store, and for transport, 452.
 store account charged for transport of goods, 454.
 balance of stock handed over to Fowler, 456.
 stock transferred to Wilson paid for by supplies, 457.
 system of drawing moneys to be subsequently accounted for by vouchers, 458.
 moneys paid by Hugh Sutherland revised by Logan and vice versa, 459.
 articles disposed of to Thompson, 460.
 all cheques signed by Logan countersigned by Hugh Sutherland, 461.
 produces stock account of goods handed to successor and complete set of double entry books, 578.
 goods handed over to successor $25,327.10, net value, $20,261.76, credited in his store account, 607.
 loss on store account, $233.40, 807.

BROWN, G.

manager Ontario Bank, 508.
 as to manner of keeping Nixon's bank account, 509.

THOMPSON, M. M.

foreman in charge of works, 619.
 responsible in Sutherland's absence, 619.
 checked wages and time; pay-rolls carefully investigated and certified, 620.
 at times half the employés were Indians, 621.
 when paid by goods, amount so paid appeared on pay-roll, 622.