representative of the riding the people are naturally desirous of knowing what their representative has been doing and to what extent he has succeeded in bringing credit to those who have returned him. I think one additional ~~is~~ that there are always enough persons who are interested in belittling and destroying the effect of any work I may seek to accomplish and it is well, therefore, perhaps, to have the actual facts brought together occasionally.

With kindest regards, believe me,

Yours very sincerely,
