panies Says That They Will Have to Limit the Amount of Their Loans.

New York, October 26.-The question of limiting oans on life insurance policies is growing in import-nce in Germany because of the financial pressure of the war, according to advices received in insurance and financial circles. Advices in various quarters give conflicting information as to whether or not loans have been cut down to the minimum figure. The demand for loans from policyholders in Germany is re-ported as large.

It was reported in an authoritative quarter yesterday that the Association of German Life Insurance Companies has reached the conclusion that a rigid
