The all-absorbing question just now is, "What wheel are you going to ride this season?" The roads are at present in beautiful condition for riding.

A grateful Acknowledgment. DEAR ACADIAN.—With heads bowed down with sadness and hearts full of grief at the loss of our loved ones, we would ask you to extend our warmest thanks to the dear friends in Wolfville and vicinity who so kindly sympathized with us in word and deed, in this our day of trial and great sorrow. Our hearts are full of overflowing grief at the thought that here we shall see no more our darlings. Yet there is room for gratitude, sweet gratitude, for those who comforted us by word, by letter, and by more material aid.

It seems at times as though our hearts would break, but knowing that we have some dear friends who are mingling their tears with ours, and remembering the Proverb, "If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is small"—we take courage again.

Our hearts are full of gratitude to the citizens of Wolfville for their munificent and most generous donation. We can assure them, Mr Editor, if ever a gift was well placed and highly appreciated, this one to us has been.

Indeed our hearts are sore and sad, but we are looking away from our tears to that "Better Land" where, in a few more years shall roll, we hope to meet our lost ones.
