

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., MAY 5, 1899.

The New Town Hall Proposition.

Scarcely anyone in the town but will admit that a new town building occupying a central position in the business portion of the place, and large enough to contain beside the usual apartments for town purposes, a department for the headquarters of the fire brigade, would be much more desirable than the building which at present masquerades under the name of Town Hall.

As we pointed out last week, and as has been stated much more forcibly and convincingly by other of the citizens, the present arrangement is about as unsatisfactory as could possibly be. The building originally was never intended for the purpose to which it is now devoted. It was built for a schoolhouse, and long before its dimensions became an objection it was declared to be utterly unsuitable for such a purpose.

Certain repairs have been made upon the building since it has been devoted to its present use. In fact almost every year it has been found necessary to make some outlay of the town's finances in this direction. But all these expenditures have been little better than a waste, and have proved the folly of inserting new "dolls" into old garments or the putting of new wine into old bottles. In fact the truth of this principle was brought out in a very literal way last winter when the policeman discovered in his charge that the old lock-up was not adapted to retain the youthful Bacchus.

Under the present arrangement the town business is virtually transacted in a corner. This interest in public affairs which is so conducive to good government meets with little encouragement. The Council assemblies in an isolated part of the town in a room not large enough to accommodate a half dozen spectators, and as a consequence few attend or take any interest in the meetings of the city fathers.

The firemen, who have rendered such sterling service to the town in their fiery combats, assert that they cannot render effective service on a really trying occasion with the present accommodations. These men have looked into the matter carefully and they ought to know whereof they speak. They have a large financial interest in the town and so they can have no motive in attempting to increase the taxes uselessly. We believe the majority of the citizens will take their ruling as final.

All, we think, will agree, therefore, that a new building is very much needed, and the only objection that can possibly be raised is the question of expense. It is well that this side of the question should be looked at, for we do not want to be in the position of the man "who after he had laid the foundation is not able to finish it."

In this connection, however, these considerations must be borne in mind. The land on which the old building now stands would make very valuable building lots and would bring considerably more than a new lot would cost. A new building could probably be erected for $3,000 or $5,000 at the outside. We will not consider the revenue which would accrue from the renting of a dwelling to the policeman or any from any other source. The undertaking would therefore cost the town annually from $120 to $240. The assessment of the town is about $500,000, so the new building would cost the ratepayers only about 2 1/2 cents for every $100 of assessment. This is certainly not a great burden, considering the benefits which will result therefrom.

It must also be remembered that the town is at present paying out money almost annually for repairs on the present town building and that it does not take any extensive repairs on an old building to amount to $120. There is, therefore, to be said. In the event of erecting a new building we will be looking to permanence, and we will not be confronted some time in the future with the reminder that while we have been expending our money annually we have at last nothing to show for it, neither safety or convenience in the past or provision for the future. From an economic standpoint merely we believe the venture will pay.

The press of the United States, a short time ago urged interferences in Cuba because of barbarities which it was supposed the Spaniards were inflicting upon the revolting Cubans. The other day a negro in the State of Georgia, suspected of committing a revolting crime, was dragged from his prison by a mob and in the presence of a crowd of sympathizers which stretched for a mile away, was chained to a tree and burned. Before the fire was lighted his ears and fingers were cut off, one by one, and after he was dead his body was cut to pieces by jack-knives and divided among the crowd. What would be the matter with Great Britain or some other philanthropic country considering that the Yankees were not fit to govern the South, and beginning a crusade to free the negro.

A. E. HARRIS, Wolfville, April 25.

Town Council Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the town council was held on Wednesday evening. When the chair was taken the Mayor, Couns. Borden, Porter and Franklin and the Recorder were present. Couns. DeWitt and Chipman took their places soon afterwards.

There were no reports from the standing committees, except a verbal one from Coun. Franklin on behalf of the Poor committee.

A communication was read from the secretary of the Wolfville Board of Trade, stating that at the last meeting of the Board a resolution had been passed asking that the Council take steps to procure a survey of the town and cost of a suitable system of sewerage.

The following accounts were read and ordered paid: Illey & Harvey $25 42, G. N. Knowles 30, T. McArthur & Son 34 37, Acadia Edison Electric Co. 49 13, Theo. Brennan 9 25, Town Clerk (postage) 2 84, E. S. Crosby (insurance) 1 23, Dr. Burns (insurance) 1 50, Capt. J. E. Eagles 40, J. N. Murphy 50, John Murphy 50, Valley Telephone Co. 5 00, R. S. Harris 25 12.

Coun. Chipman on behalf of a committee appointed at the last meeting to examine as to the condition of the clerk's rate books reported that the books had been examined and that no error or irregularity had been found. On motion the report was adopted and the rate book for 1899 was approved and passed.

Resolved that the town clerk be instructed to issue the tax papers on the 17th day of May, and that they be payable on or before the 5th of June.

Dr. DeWitt asked the council to relieve him of a bond of indemnity given by him to the town four years ago at the time of the taking over of University avenue to insure the title of those giving the land. Couns. Borden and Porter and the Recorder were appointed a committee to enquire into the matter and report at next meeting of council.

A proposal from Mr. C. M. Gormley with regard to extending the water service to his property on Maple avenue was referred to the Water Committee.

The proposal to straighten the Ferry Lane by buying a strip on the east side was referred to the Street Committee to be reported on at next meeting.

The matter of greater need of hose and other fire equipment was brought up by Coun. Porter who stated that an agent of the Gotta Percha & Rubber Mfg. Co., of Toronto, was in town with samples. A letter from the company was read stating prices of hose, hose-carts, &c. The agent who was present also made explanations.

Resolved that the Water Committee be instructed to purchase 500 feet of "Maltese Cross" hose and two hose carts and needles, adapters and other attachments required by the fire department, also 100 feet of 1/2 inch hose.

Wedding Chimes.

Miss Annie Hasselink Cohoon, daughter of Rev. A. C. Coon, of this place, and Mr. James Arthur Floyd, of Boston, were married at the residence of the bride's father on Prospect street, on Monday, May 1st, at 2:30 p. m.

A number of friends gathered in the rooms made fragrant with fresh May-blossoms, to witness the ceremony, which was conducted by Rev. A. Cohoon, father of the bride, assisted by Rev. H. R. Hatch, pastor of the Baptist church, and Rev. Dr. Trotter, President of Acadia College.

The bride's appearance was most pleasing; simply yet tastefully dressed in silk of a delicate, peary, dove shade, with neck adorned with white satin and chiffon edged with pearl trimming; at the throat a dainty diamond and pearl brooch pin, a gift of the groom; bridal veil and orange blossoms, and carrying a beautiful bouquet of rose-buds and ferns.

After refreshments had been served, and the bridal attire changed for a travelling suit of blue cloth, the newly married pair were driven to the railway station, and proceeded by p. m. train to Halifax. After a wedding trip of a few weeks, which they plan to spend in Virginia and other parts of the South, they return to Boston, which will be their future home.

A pleasant surprise came just before the party left the house, when several telegrams were handed to Mr. Floyd, bearing congratulations from friends in Boston.

The bride received many presents from friends in Wolfville and elsewhere. We are sure that some of these, from ladies of Acadia Seminary—with whom Miss Cohoon was associated for two years while teaching there—and accompanied with kindly appreciative words, will be especially valued. The ACADIAN extends best wishes.
