

The Daily Gleaner

SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1901.

THE GLEANER will not be issued on Monday, Dominion Day.

DOMINION DAY.

The Dominion of Canada will celebrate its first birthday in the new century under general conditions of prosperity. It has been well remarked that the superabundance of good things now enjoyed by the United States as compared with Canada is partly due to the fact that the preceding period of depression was greater in the Republic than in the Dominion, and so the reaction has been greater. But in spite of a somewhat unprogressive though not inglorious government Canada is enjoying a fair degree of prosperity, and the anniversary of her natal day will probably be celebrated with more unanimity than in the old days before a change of government had made the Liberals loyal.

The farmers have so far nothing to complain of, and can take a day's breathing spell between planting and haying without any feeling of uneasiness. Though the weather is apt to be hot, it is also generally fine on the first of July and so it makes an excellent occasion for public and private picnics and excursions. To the employees in town every holiday is welcome, and every day of rest and recreation well spent tends like early rising to make them "healthy, wealthy and wise."

BRITISH EMIGRATION.

The British Board of Trade returns on emigration and immigration, recently issued, supply some light on two questions—first, the way in which the United States is building up a nation, and secondly, how far the Anglo-Saxon character of Great Britain's population is being diluted by foreign paupers. As to the first point, 180,000 of the emigrants who left the Motherland in 1890 went to the United States. That was 63 per cent. of the total, while 50,000 came to Canada, 15,725 went to Australia, and 25,000 to the Cape and Natal. But the serious fact is that there were 31,000 foreigners, and only 18,000 British and Irish among those who came to live under the British flag in this country, while 12,000 British and Irish went to the United States.

Not only the Irish but the British emigration to the United States has been steadily increasing of late years. Between 1870 and 1879 the majority of the emigrants from the United Kingdom to the United States were Irish or Scotch. The English emigrants were not more than 24 per cent. of the total, and their influence on the mixed population of the United States was small. In 1870 the English emigration to the United States began to exceed the Irish, and between 1880 and 1900 it averaged 90,000 a year. In the next five years it fell to 74,000 a year, and in 1898 it had gone down to 42,000. In 1899 it was 45,000, and in 1900 it was 49,000. The Irish emigration to the United States has been increasing too, since 1888, and is now 41,000. But they differ in one respect—that the Irish figures show an enormous proportion of single females. There were 18,000 of these potential Irish servant girls in last year's returns, against 7000 single English women. Only 3000 of the Irish emigrants to the United States were married, while nearly 16,000 of the English were in that condition.

It is not surprising that the English and Irish emigrants appear likely to be a source of social trouble. There are 15,000 general laborers and 1,100 miners, and 1,100 shopkeepers in the United States. It is interesting to note that the trades of the British emigrants to the United States were the trades of the Motherland. The number who were "not stated to be en route to places abroad" was larger than in 1898 or 1899. It included 25,000 Russians and Poles, 7,700 Scandinavians, 5,700 Germans, 7,700 Italians, 3,000 Austrians, 300 Roumanian Jews, 4,800 French, and the total was 92,000. If from this is deducted the foreigners who are known to have taken passage abroad at British ports it will appear, (says the Board of Trade, that the net addition to the foreign population of the Motherland was about 14,000 persons. Reports show that the aliens have about all located in the poorer portions of London and Manchester. It would be interesting, as an English contemporary suggests, to learn why a country so free and well governed as Great Britain, should repel Anglo-Saxons and attract Roumanian Jews.

LUSITANIA WRECK.

HALIFAX, June 29.—The steamer passengers of the wrecked Lusitania arrived this morning by steamer Bruce and left at 5:30 a. m. on an intercolonial special previously arranged for. They are mostly Russian and Polish Jews.

BAD FOR SPORT.

Present Conditions Under Which Yacht Races is Conducted Not Conducive to Anything Good.

LONDON, June 29.—The Field publishes to-day an editorial on the history of the cup contest, and reiterates the complaint that cup racing has reached a phase in which time honored interests of sport have been thrust aside, and the moment has arrived when British yachtsmen should guard against the interest of irrelevant issues and spurious sentiments. The Field attacks the New York yacht club's rating rules as tending to produce a bad and unseaworthy type of boat, and protests against the interference in the sport of ignorant and wealthy laymen. The Field concludes its editorial by saying: "In bygone years the Americas cup had a beneficial influence, but now it is doing more harm than good to yachting."

VISITS DALHOUSIE.

Premier Tweedie Transacts Important Business With Chief Commissioner Lablanc.

DALHOUSIE, N. B., June 28.—Premier Tweedie arrived here last night by accommodation train to pay Restigouche county an official visit. He was met at the station by Hon. C. H. Lablanc. During the evening he attended a tea given by the ladies of the Church of England, and was given a hearty welcome when he entered the hall, the Dalhousie Band playing "Hail the Conquering Hero Comes." This morning, the provincial secretary made an examination of the county records and transacted some important business with the chief commissioner of public works. The premier took advantage of the new steamer service established between Campbellton and Dalhousie and sailed to Campbellton by steamer Mary Odell, which is owned by the enterprising firm of A. & R. Loggie.

"A SPOKE IN THE WHEEL."

The physical machinery of most people often has a "spoke in the wheel." That is, they have the disorder which either impedes their progress or creates nerve friction in some portion of their delicate mechanism.

Piles is a tedious and persistent disease which wears out the patience of its victims. It has several forms of torture. Sometimes it's a maddening itching sensation. At other times it's a knot, offending tumors highly inflamed. The only way to cure the disease permanently is to use a remedy that has the power to permeate through the delicate membranes and tissues and remove all traces of inflammation. The Pyramid Pile Cure possesses this power to perfection. It is formulated on scientific principles by specialists who understand the nature of the disease thoroughly.

Thousands have been permanently cured by it and the manufacturers have come to look upon it as a "remedy that never fails."

You need not go through an inconvenient course of dieting and supplementary treatment while using it. It is a complete cure requiring nothing on your part but a strict observance of the printed directions which go with each package.

It is manufactured by the Pyramid Drug Co., at Marshall, Mich., and may be had of all first class druggists. Don't experiment if you are afflicted with this troublesome disease. It may lead to serious complications if allowed to continue. Get this remedy and check the disease before it becomes chronic; don't allow it to drain your best energies and weaken your constitution.
