SEVEN BILLS INTRODUCED. Railway Crossings Act Introduced

in House. Mr. Ralph Smith on British Columbia Election.

The French Treaty Signed af Paris -New Deputy Speaker Elected.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.-If the pace set at the opening of to-day's sitting of the House of Commons can be mainthe House of Commons can be main-tained, then assuredly the session will lead be a short one. Of a list of nine bills standing on the order paper no fewer than seven were introduced and red a first time. It is true that sev-eral of the measures were old friends, but the fact that their sponsors were ready to move them at the first op-portunity was a sign of activity that caarried jits own commentary. The honor of introducing the first bill of the session fell to Dr. Reid, who is again in charge of the measure which came before the House last session to amend the passenger ticket act. PROTECTION OF CROSSINGS.

PROTECTION OF CROSSINGS.

PROTECTION OF CROSSINGS. Mr. Bickerdike caused a flutter in the Conservative benches by moving a bill to amend the railway act by providing for the elimination or pro-tection of railway level crossings. This, he frankly explained, is substantially the bill which was introduced last ses-sion by Mr. Lancaster, passed by the House, but killed in the Senate. Public opinion, he claimed, had been arous-ed to the extent of demanding that something should be done to meet the something should be done to meet the dangers of the level crossings, and the bill proposed that in cities, towns and villages there must at least be gates, and that the Railway Commis-sion have adequate powers to deal with the evil.

with the evil. With the evil. Mr. Lancaster seemed somewhat aggrieved that his pet measure had been appropriated, and showed that he was not disposed to give way by moving his own bill.

moving his own bill. It was next the turn of Mr. E. N. Lewis to be surprised. Last session he introduced a bill striking at the practice of carrying daggers, knives and revolvers, and imposing severe penalties for wife-beating. This ses-sion he also has been forestalled by Mr. Bicketdike, who to-day introduc-ed a measure along the lines of that of the member from West Huron. The latter was more gracious, however, ed a of the latter

An important qualification is that neither of the parties attesting must be an agent parties attesting must be an agent he applicant. It was explained that

It was explained that e legislation has been asked for by me of the Judges in the west, who we experienced difficulty in adminis ring the act as it now stands. ave experienced difficulty in adminis-ering the act as it now stands. Another familiar bill was that moved by Mr. Clarke, of South Essex, to am-maly as to the liability of railway com-uming for firms enough by railway companies for fires caused by sparks from locomotives This bill passed the Rail-way Committee last session, but got no further urther Finally Hon. Mr. Oliver submitted a bill to restore a few paragraphs which had been inadvertently omit-ted or displaced in the Dominion lands act. These, it was explained, would not affect the principle or scope of the act.

"I have had the honor," he said, "of being returned for the City of Hali-fax and the County of Carleton, and it becomes necessary that I should elect to sit for one or the other of these constituencies. Accordingly I declare my election to sit for the electoral division of Halifax, and I re-sign my seat as member for the Mr.

pointed out that it was created by the Conservative party twenty-five or thirty years ago, when they appoint-ed a commission, who reported that Oriental labor was a necessity in Bri-tish Columbia. In spite of repeat-ed representations by the people of that Province, the Conservative Gov-ernment did nothing, but as soon as the Liberal party got into power they increased the head tax upon Chinese, and subsequently restricted the im-migration of Japanese. Mr. Smith quoted figures showing conclusively that the Lemieux settlement had had the effect intended, and that the Japan-ese authorities were earrying out their agreement. THAT FORGED TELEGRAM.

THAT FORGED TELEGRAM.

THAT FORGED TELEGRAM. Then in scathing terms he dealt with the forged telegram. That mes-soge, he said, was distributed broad-cast throughout British Columbia and was never repudiated. That it had a great effect upon the electors could not be doubted, and he put it to the members from British Columbia that the Oriental problem would not be settled by forged telegrams. Get-ting to closer quarters, he exposed the inconsistency of the Opposition repre-sentatives from the western Province. These noble gentlemen," he declar sentatives from the western Province. "These noble gentlemen," he declar-ed, pointing to Mr. Cowan and his associates, "stand for a white British Columbia, but employ yellow men. They preach what they do not prac-tice. I have preached against Orient-alism, but I have been consistent. I have never spent a dollar on yellow la-bor." With this bombshell planted in the midst of the Opposition, Mr. Smith resumed his seat. NO YELLOW FOR GOODEVE.

NO YELLOW FOR GOODEVE

NO YELLOW FOR GOODEVE. Mr. Goodeve, of Kootenay, followed with a maiden speech, in which he suggested that if Mr. Borden's tele-gram did not declare for the absolute exclusion of Asiaties it should have done so. He also gave a back-hander to Premiers Whitney and Rob-lin by declaring that the conference of Provincial Premiers was not an im-partial body. partial body. Mr. Taylor, of New Westminster who also made his debut, took the somewhat peculiar position that there was very little difference between the was very little difference between terms of Mr. Borden's telegram, terms of Mr. Borden's telegram, as printed, and those of the original, and in the very next breath admitted that if his leader had committed the party to a policy of absolute exclusion it might have been regarded as offensive by the Japanese nation. Mr. E. N. Lewis furnished an amusing interlude by a plea for shorter speeches and shorter sessions, "If," he said, "a man cannot strike oil in 30 min-utes he has either got a very poor auger or he is boring in the wrong hole." The joke was that in previous ses-sions Mr. Lewis has been one of the greatest sinners in the matter of long greatest sinners in the matter of long speeches.

Over 50,000 people in Westmount, St. Henri, St. Louis, Outremont and St. Denis were without water or light. Power for the pumping stations for these places is sup-plied by electricity, but with the break-ing of the wires the supply was cut off, and they have had nothing but melted snow for the past two days. The C. P. R. admits damage of $100,-600 and the Grand Trunk of $75,000. The train service is disorganized; trains are being sent out without despatching, and have to feel their way along from sta-tion to station. The general verdict is that the storm was the worst in the his-tory of the city.

to be Investigated. Fort William, Jan. 25.—An inquest will be held to-morrow night on the body of David Fraser, aged 24 years, who was killed while working on a primary wire this afternoon. Just what caused the current to pass through his body has not been ascertained. De-ceased was a competent wire man and knew all the wires at the point he was working at. He was not wearing rubber gloves, but had them in his pocket. The rapid spread of local option during the past two years has so ma-terially cut down the work of several of the local boards of license commis-sioners that it is predicted that the Government, in its amending legisla-tion to the license act, may consider the question of centralization of license-granting authority. Fifteen immigrants of an undesirable class will be deported from Winnipeg this week. Included in the number is a German family of seven people.
