ACCIDENT CLAIMS IN UNITED STATES

Showing How the Accident Law Works in Wisconsin Under the Industrial Commission of the State.

(Publishers Press News Service)

Milwaukee. — Instead of receiving $2000 asked by the father of Frank Windfelder for the death of his son who was killed while employed by the city of Milwaukee, the Wisconsin Industrial Commission in the first case against the city under the new law, awarded the parent $102. It was shown the father was not dependent on the son's wages.

All these accidents had been settled practically without delay or difficulty. The money came when it was most badly needed.

On the average, it takes $82 in fees and costs to get $18 to the family, by the ambulance chasing system. In Wisconsin no workmen's family in case of his accidental death in the course of his employment will receive less than $1500, and the amount in most cases will be $3000 — and lesser injuries accordingly.

Chief Justice Winslow, reading the opinion of the supreme court, said: "If experience shall demonstrate that it (the law) is practicable and workable, and operates either wholly or in part to put an end to that great mass of personal injury litigation between employer and employee, with its tremendous waste of money and its unsatisfactory results, which now burdens the courts, the long and painstaking labors of those legislators and citizens who collaborated in framing it will be fittingly rewarded by a result so greatly to be desired. That result will mean a distinct improvement in our social and economic conditions."

KILLANIN FAVORS GALWAY PORT

Lord Killanin Advocates Irish City As Trans-Atlantic Port for Steamship in New Issue of Empire Review.

London. — The establishment of Galway, Ireland, as a trans-Atlantic port is advocated by Lord Killanin in the forthcoming issue of the Empire Review. He predicts a revival of the trade of the Irish port, which was at one time second only to London as a port of the United Kingdom.

The writer argues that there are many considerations of a patriotic and sentimental nature, imperial, national and local, favoring the opening of a port there, but he contends that its commercial aspects are of primary importance. By starting from such a terminal port a "through-Ireland" route to Newfoundland and Canada from England will greatly shorten present routes, while for travellers and mails to the United States the time will be cut down considerably. In the past when Canada was undeveloped, all the requirements of the trans-Atlantic trade were met by the present service from England to the United States, but with the growth of the British Dominions in North America the necessity for a more direct service is becoming urgent. At the Imperial Conference held this year it was resolved that a more direct route to Canada and Newfoundland was necessary, and the only practicable shortening of the route is by way of Ireland.

IN THE LIMELIGHT

Crown Princess Cecilia of Germany has presented the future German emperor with another son, the fourth. Latest reports say that the mother and Kaiser Bill are doing as well as could be expected. So is the baby. But what's worrying the Kaiser most is the fear that other royal families won't have enough girls to marry his grandsons to. Princess Cecilia is one of the most beautiful of the European royal women; also she is one of the best mothers.

"What a big mouth Miss Gap has!" "Yes; I should call it a good opening for a dentist."

SMILING JOE HAS RELAPSE

Brave Little Lad Who Though Trapped on a Rack for Four Years Was Always Cheerful and Stifling.

(Publishers Press News Service)

New York. — Poor "Smiling Joe" was doomed to spend another long season strapped to the rack. For "Smiling Joe" has had a relapse. They thought he was cured for good when they loosed him from the board to which he had been strapped for four of his 10 years, but he shows signs of increasing weakness.

Little Joe was able to totter about with his brothers and sisters a few weeks ago. A few days later he was taken away to Roosevelt hospital to see what could be done for the pain in the back that has begun to bother him again.

He went away smiling still, true to the brave spirit that has given him his name.

"Smiling Joe" is known the country over by his picture used in advertising tuberculosis work. His smiling face helped to bring in $250,000 to a crippled children's hospital.

NEW WOMAN IN UNITED STATES

For the First Time in the History of the United States a Woman Speaks About Politics.

New York. — The wife of Congressman Martin W. Littleton is a great help to her eloquent husband. Recently he was unable to keep an engagement to address a political meeting. Mrs. Littleton went in his place and made the speech.

And the oratorical brilliance of Mrs. "Peggy O'Brien" Littleton, her intimate knowledge of the big political issues of the day, and her sledge hammer directness in dealing with them, forced the big audience to rise at the conclusion of her speech, and cheer her as no other woman orator has been cheered before.

Mrs. Littleton is a dainty winsome woman, devoted to her husband and to her two children, and the spotlight of publicity is the farthest thing from her thoughts.

"Am I a suffragist?" she says. "I can only say what I did in my address, that among the good things we have inherited and added to are peace, freedom, justice, education, religion, opportunity and suffrage."

"Woman is the teacher of men. Her work in politics is to teach her children the love of country, the responsibilities of suffrage, the constitution and laws of the country and how they can be preserved. Her work should begin at the cradle to make her children good citizens and should only end at the grave."

INSIST SPANISH RIGHTS

Temporary Deadlock With France Over Morocco.

Madrid. — The Franco-Spanish negotiations on the subject of Morocco are temporarily in abeyance because of Spain's insistence on the establishment of a separate Spanish protectorate over the south and west of Morocco. Spain is willing to give up the hinterland, but refuses to abandon the coast zone. Spain also claims a conditional right to the collection of customs in the Spanish zone, which France opposes, on the ground that this would destroy the French plan of reimbursing the holders of the Moroccan debt through the collection of the customs by French functionaries.

SPAIN HAVING HANDS FULL

Barcelona. — General Wyleriano Wyler, captain-general of Catalonia, in an address recently to a contingent of troops bound for Melilla to reinforce the troops there who are having hard fights with the Rifis, said significantly:

"Perhaps we shall meet at Melilla soon." This is generally construed to mean that the situation in that part of Morocco is so bad that General Wyler is going there to take the supreme command.

Amatite ROOFING

A Modern View of the Roofing Question

Tin makes a good roof if you paint it.
Canvas makes a good roof if you paint it.
Any felt makes a good roof if you paint it.
Even paper makes a good roof if you paint it.
But Amatite makes a good roof if you DON'T paint it.

On a painted roof, the paint is what gives the real protection. The rest of it has no function except to provide a smooth unbroken surface with no seams or cracks, to which the paint can be applied. Anything which has strength enough to keep the wind from blowing it away or the rain from beating it in, will be waterproof if you use paint enough.

Amatite Roofing, however, needs no painting. It is a real roofing—a roofing that can be left out in the rain without the slightest damage.

The wearing surface is mineral matter embedded into a heavy coating of pitch and never needs painting.

We shall be glad to send you a sample of Amatite free of charge if you will send a postal request for it to our nearest office. The sample will show you what the mineral surface is like.
