A WORKER'S CREED.

Oh, I believe that after all the toil and stress of this earthly life has had its day, God has another life for me, And I believe that I shall rise out of my grave to meet Him, As surely as He rose out of His grave to meet me.

I believe that in the hereafter I shall be perfectly conscious of my identity, and that I shall recognize my friends and know them to be my friends.

I believe that I shall be perfectly free from sin in the hereafter, and shall never more commit sin, or even be tempted to commit sin.

I believe that I shall be perfectly happy in the hereafter, and that there will be no shadow of sorrow or pain on my spirit.

I believe that I shall be perfectly holy in the hereafter, and that there will be no inclination in me to do anything that displeases God.

I believe that I shall be perfectly pure in the hereafter, and that the thought of impurity will be revolting to me.

I believe that I shall be perfectly submissive to the will of God in the hereafter, and that I shall cheerfully accept my place as a worshipper at His footstool, or as a servant to do His bidding.

I believe that I shall be perfectly unselfish in the hereafter, and that I shall be as ready to minister to the happiness of others as I shall be to receive ministrations myself.

I believe that I shall be perfectly sympathetic in the hereafter, and that I shall enter into the joys and sorrows of my fellow-creatures as I never could in this life.

I believe that I shall be perfectly satisfied in the hereafter, and that I shall not be troubled with any unholy ambitions or any desire to be other than I am.

I believe that I shall be perfectly grateful in the hereafter, and that I shall never murmur at the dispensations of God.

I believe that I shall be perfectly loving in the hereafter, and that I shall delight in the happiness of all around me.

I believe that I shall be perfectly blessed in the hereafter, and that I shall be filled with the fullness of God.

I believe that I shall be perfectly glorified in the hereafter, and that I shall be like Christ, for I shall see Him as He is.

I believe that I shall be perfectly employed in the hereafter, and that I shall serve God day and night in His temple.

I believe that I shall be perfectly at rest in the hereafter, and that I shall enter into the rest that remaineth for the people of God.

I believe that I shall be perfectly secure in the hereafter, and that I shall never more be tempted of the devil, the world, or the flesh.

I believe that I shall be perfectly united in the hereafter to all the redeemed, and that we shall dwell together in love and peace forever.

I believe that I shall be perfectly with the Lord in the hereafter, and that I shall be ever with Him, to behold His glory and to share His throne.

I believe that I shall be perfectly like Him in the hereafter, and that I shall be a partaker of the divine nature.

I believe that I shall be perfectly rewarded in the hereafter, and that I shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away.

I believe that I shall be perfectly glorified in the hereafter, and that I shall be a pillar in the temple of God, and shall go no more out.

I believe that I shall be perfectly satisfied in the hereafter, and that I shall drink of the river of God's pleasures for evermore.

I believe that I shall be perfectly blessed in the hereafter, and that I shall be forever with the Lord.

Even so, Amen.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.
