THE HURON SIGNAL, FRIDAY. MARCH 1, 1889.

To the Members of the Goderich Board of Trade. This report aroused a lively and interesting discussion, the first amendment offered being a motion by Messrs Crabb and Alex Saugders to add a clause recommending to the Town Council the pedestrian and the storekeeper, and he. argued that awnings were of too fragile a character to withstand the force of the winds in our wide streets and the great expanse of our central square. He therefore moved that this clause of the committee's report to be struck out. committees report to be struck out. This was supported by Mr Drummond and Messrs J. H. Colborne, Butler and Humber, but more modern ideas pre-vailed, and the amendment was defeated by 10 to 6.

Building having materially increased in town, a greater number of mechanics were employed. The saw mill adjoining the Domion salt works is well stocked with logs, and a home market for lumber is available for the present year. There are in addition to the foundry two machine shops, where machinery has been added, capable of executing the capacity has been added to the boiler works of Chrystal & Black, and their
