Bulletin News Service.
Acting on a wire from T. Ryan, C. N. R. operator at Mundare, Constable Luker, R. N. W. M. P., arrested two colored individuals by the names of Jack Jackson and William Jones, the former claiming to come from Stony Plain and the latter from Peninsular River. Assisted by J. McCusker and R. Williamson, the constable awaited the arrival of the midnight train from the west and arrested the men as soon as they landed. They came up before Magistrate H. R. M. Poyer, on a charge of clearing a ride on the C. N. R. They both pleaded guilty and were each sentenced to 30 days with hard labor. Jackson on being asked by the magistrate to plead guilty or not guilty, said he would have to plead guilty, as he was found on the train. The prisoners were taken to the Port by Constables Luker and McKenzie. When they were arrested Jackson had a Smith and Wesson revolver, loaded, and 29 rounds of ammunition, a glass cutter, four packages of cigarettes, a cup and a pair of gloves on his person. Jones had a screwdriver and a fur coat.
It seems that at Lamon, that several bartenders were committed, and on Monday night W. Fedon's store at Mundare was entered by means of cutting the glass in the front. The till was opened but no money taken. On the same night the window in the Mundare hotel was forced open, and $7.00 and some stamps taken out of the till. A glass case was also forced open and a quantity of cigars and cigarettes taken. The kitchen was entered and a quantity of food stolen. Mrs. McCallum, who lives opposite the hotel, saw two men in the night, one holding a candle. This was about 2 in the morning. She paid no attention to it as she thought they were hotel men. On the same night the school was entered and a good fire started and a note was left for the teacher that she was to be put out of the stove. The prisoners will be held in the Fort and charges of burglary for the above will be put against them. They evidently thought that they were getting off easy and that they would be free birds at the end of the 30 days.

GERMANY TO BREAK FROM ABSOLUTISM.

Von Bulow's Severest Critics Demand He Remain at Head of Government During Critical Period of Transition to Constitutional Government for Curbing of Emperor's Power.

Berlin, Nov. 9.—Many of Chancellor Bulow's most severe critics, who a week ago were demanding his resignation from office, are now anxiously urging him to remain, for with the prospect that an inexperienced and less tactful man may be named as his successor, public imagination sees the probability of perils and blunders more damaging to German prestige than those already made. Thus far nobody on the list of eligible candidates, which includes among others Prince Fürstenberg, Duke of Treuhenberg, Baron von Marbach and Gen. von Mackenzen, stands out in the public eye as prominently fitted to succeed Bulow's mentorship, especially at this critical time.

Whether or not Prince Von Bulow stays, however, is now a secondary question, for the great question to be determined at this week's session of the Reichstag is whether Germany shall now advance toward constitutional and parliamentary reform, enforcing the principle of responsibility in the relations of the sovereign to the people, or whether it is to be exposed further to such embarrassments as resulted from the Kaiser's sensational and arbitrary policy. The feeling that the nation has come to a turning-point of its history between the two alternatives is a fact which has become a mystery. The demand for such guarantees is becoming unanimous. Even the reactionary leaders of the Conservative party are publicly deploring the Kaiser's freedom of utterance as "divinely inspired" and "inspired by the Holy Ghost." A report of a suppressed interview, which was to have been published in connection with the Reichstag, is now being circulated. It is said that under the present system the ministry may not at any time be thrown into a position of peril and difficulty through the Kaiser's impulsive actions remain a mystery. The demand for such guarantees is becoming unanimous.

BRITISH GUNS MORE POWERFUL AND DEADLY.

U. S. Navy Department Confronted by Serious Problem as Result of New 50-Caliber, 12 Inch Guns Which Are Being Constructed by Great Britain.

Washington, Nov. 7.—The U. S. navy department is confronted with a problem as the result of a discovery, through secret government sources, of information that Great Britain is constructing for its new battleships 12 inch guns of 50 calibre that are more powerful and deadly than any American twelve inch gun afloat or under construction. This information was disclosed tonight to the public for the first time, along with other vital information taken by the recent conference of naval experts at Newport under the special direction of President Roosevelt. The conference, which was composed of sixty distinguished American authorities was convened to investigate the charges of British naval experts, and it is thought that the disclosure of this information will have a most important effect on the naval armament race between the two nations. The British guns now being built for ships of like character, this inferiority should be corrected in the future. The British guns now being built for ships of like character, this inferiority should be corrected in the future. MUST ABDICATE GERMAN THRONE.

Maximilian Harden Makes Bold Denunciation of Emperor William and His Interview.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—Maximilian Harden, in an article published in Die Guckent yesterday demands that Emperor William either abdicate or abdicate the German throne. Harden, speaking last night on the political situation to a large crowd, again called upon Emperor William to abdicate, saying his grandfather had thought of doing so on less critical occasions for which he was responsible. The latest denunciation of the Fatherland's ruler comes as the result of the recent interview between the Kaiser and an English retired statesman in which there was attributed to the Kaiser many statements of sentiment, which is resented both by Germany and the other European powers. Added to this is the Casablanca incident which the opposition alleges the Kaiser has stirred up because of the trouble at home.

Harden's statement yesterday were the boldest words ever spoken in Germany against the Kaiser. It is the culmination of a growing agitation against the absolutism of the Emperor. As a proof that Harden reflects the general sentiment his attack is being widely quoted by papers all over the Empire and of course, that would not have been dared were people not wholly in sympathy with the denunciation made against the Emperor.

PRESIDENT'S FAREWELL MESSAGE TO CONGRESS.

Roosevelt Has Already Under Preparation His Retiring Message. Will Leave Tariff Revision to Taft—Likely to Forecast Legislation, Which Will Keep New Administration Busy.

Washington, Nov. 6.—President Roosevelt has already completed the drafting of his farewell message to Congress, and is now engaged in the task of determining just what shall and what shall not be included in the document, which is to be taken up. It can be stated that the president will send what can be recognized as a "Charismatic" message.
In a short farewell message (the president may be expected to cut out a large task for the new administration, which will assure that there will be nothing doing for some time to come. The tariff question has been relegated to the new congress and new president. Taft will have the drafting of the tariff message and it will be his first communication to the legislative branch of the government. He is going to work on it at Asheville during the winter, in order to have it ready before the inauguration. With the tariff taken care of, Roosevelt will present the case of those various reform measures he has been pressing in the past.
Amendment to Anti-Trust Act.
The bill will include a practical and effective amendment of the Sherman Anti-Trust act with a view to establishing some sort of supervision of the great industrial corporations as the interstate commerce commission maintains over the railroads. A liberal appropriation for continuing the enforcement of uniform railroad rates designed to the protection of the shipping act. The passage of a government employees' liability act; increase of the naval establishment by the construction of two more battleships at least, and probably the renewal of the request for four; provision for the establishment of forest reserves in the Appalachian region; the inauguration of an effective Federal control over the water powers of the country with a view to preventing their monopolization by private interests; internal waterways improvement and development; and campaign fund publicity.
Whether the president will take up the income and inheritance taxes and the making of a valuation of the railroads is not yet decided.
