The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

How much this or that cost—what this one is earning, and how much that one is making—
 Do you realize, how large a part these subjects and similar ones make of our daily conversations?
 As I sat alone at dinner in a restaurant the other evening, the talk of the people at the table behind me came unavoidably to me.
 Occasionally an unfinanced remark was made, but for the most part, the fragments that broke upon my ears were something like this:
 "Did you know the M's new limousine cost every penny of $5,000?"
 "That's nothing; Charley N. is going to have a racer built especially for him, and it's going to cost $7,500." "—when his father allows him $20 just to run that car. I think it's absurd to think he can't do it on that."
 "But then, they say, it isn't the gasoline or even the repairs that cost so much in running a motor, as it is the entertaining of all kinds that a-taking people motoring entails."
 "—lovely gown? Well, no, I don't fancy it particularly. That trimming looks awfully expensive, but I saw some in a window and I priced it, and it only cost about a dollar a yard."
 "—and they say he is making $10,- 000 a year. You see, he went into business for himself. That's the place for brains, I think."
 On the way home, in the trolley, I sat in front of two women who were arguing as to whether it cost more to have one's gowns made or buy them ready-made. Each was trying to prove her side of the question by numerous price citations from her own wardrobe.
 I walked up the street with an old resident of the neighbourhood, who had come back to make a call. As we passed the house where my horsey neighbour lives, "Yes, sir, he did—a cool twenty thousand for that horse the minute he went under the wire," floated to us.

 We came to an open field near my house. In the corner of it a little plaster bungalow has just been put up.
 The old denizen regarded it with interest.
 "Yes," I ran on in explanation, Mr.
 C. put it up for his daughter. She was married last fall. You didn't know? Yes, a bank clerk in her father's bank. Artistic little place, isn't it?" And then, with entire unconsciousness, "But what do you think it cost? $4,000. Isn't that terrific for such a little place?" The old denizen of the neighbourhood passed on down a side street.
 He didn't look back. It was lucky that he didn't, for if he had he would have surely thought me insane. For in the consciousness of my own contribution to the chorus that had irritated me so all the evening, I was laughing aloud to myself and saying "Et tu, Ruthe!"
 Perhaps you think I'm exaggerating or fabricating a bit.
 I won't attempt to exonerate myself. Instead, I'll just ask you to watch your friends' and your own conversation for a day or two for such references, and I'll be willing to let that test exonerate me.
 Should one never talk of prices and wages and costs and values?
 Yes, but never and are perpetually are a long ways apart, and between them lies a golden mean.
 It seems to me that the tendency to measure success almost entirely by a financial standard is one of the worst disease spots of our twentieth century life.
 Our perpetual talk of money is one of the symptoms of this disease.
 I don't suppose you can cure a
 of the symptoms of this disease. but oh, I do wish we could do something for both.

Honored by Women

When a woman speaks of her silent secret suffering she trusts you. Millions have bestowed this mark of confidence on Dr. R. V. Pierce,

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

Milk is excellent for cleaning oil-cloth.
 Salt and vinegar will clean enameled ware.
 Salt under the pan prevents burning when baking.
 It is unhealthful to eat when fatigued, angry or worried.
 Hot pillows will sometimes serve to cure a nervous headache.
 Melted paraffin is an excellent air-tight cover for preserves.
 Dingy photographs may be cleaned with bread, rubbed on lightly.
 Lemon skins, dipped in whitening, will clean brasswork excellently.
 To remove stains from white goods, use a mixture of soap and baking soda.
 Pour a little olive oil over olives to prevent their becoming tainted.
 An impromptu mould for cream cheese is made from the shell of an English walnut.
 The addition of a few nuts to ordinary lemon jelly will be found worth while.
 The Panama or Leghorn hat may be cleaned by rubbing vigorously with a piece of bread.
 Preserves should always be kept in a closet that is not only cool but absolutely dark.
 A little vinegar added to the water in which fish is boiled will prevent its falling apart.
 Sliced pineapple, mixed with oranges and sliced cocoanut make an attractive summer dessert.
 Cucumber peel, scattered around the kitchen and left over night will drive away roaches.
 A little lemon juice poured into drinking water will cause it to quench thirst much better.
 Rapidly boiling water cooks no faster than that which barely bubbles, but only evaporates faster.
 Velvet may be freshened by holding over a steaming kettle and cleaned by dipping into gasoline.

The Late Sir
 Fleetwood Edwards.

The death has been recently announced, by cable, of this distinguished official. He was Private Secretary to Queen Victoria, one of Her Majesty's most intimate friends and confidential officers. He held the same position under King Edward, and His present Majesty. Forty-three years ago he was an Engineer Lieutenant, quartered in Bermuda. There he became A. D. C. and Private Secretary to the Governor. Edward's was a great friend of the Harvey's, and when Mr. and Mrs. Eugenius Harvey paid their annual visit to St. John's, they brought the young Engineer Officer with them. The late Hon. A. W. Harvey was an enthusiastic yachtsman, and he gave Edward's many a pleasant cruise. In those days there was very good shooting about our neighbourhood and a young barrister friend of the Harvey's, who was a keen sportsman, gave the Lieutenant many good days on the barrens. Edward's was a capital walker and a good shot. He thoroughly enjoyed the mixed sport.
 His lawyer friend had lost sight of Edward's for nearly forty years. We can judge of his surprise when, on a visit to Windsor Castle, he found his old companion transformed into a great official who received him with all the kindness in the world.

New Cruiser Lion is a Naval Marvel.

She Exceeds All Existing Dreadnoughts in Size, Speed and Armament—Has Speed of 30 Knots.

London, Aug. 10.—The gigantic battleship cruiser Lion was launched last week at Devonport. It is the greatest battleship afloat, exceeding all existing Dreadnoughts in size, speed and armament. The Lion is officially described as an armored cruiser. She is superior to every battleship in the world and is the naval marvel of the year.

The Lion is the first naval vessel to be armed with eight of the new 13.5 inch guns, which are arranged in four barbettes on the centre line of the ship. The two middle bar-bettes are raised, which permits their guns to be fired over the other bar-bettes, which system will allow the whole of the main armament to be trained on either broadside.
 The guns will fire projectiles of 1,250 pounds a distance of 5,000 yards.
 These projectiles will penetrate twenty-two inch armor. The Lion will have a displacement of 26,000 tons. The length will be 700 feet and the beam 83 feet. The horse power of the Lion will 70,000, developing a speed of thirty knots. She will be fitted with Parsons' turbines and will have forty-two water tube boilers, situated amidships, and will be protected with nine-inch armor plating.
 The Lion is the fifteenth British Dreadnought to be launched. She was constructed in eight months and cost $10,875,000.

Burin Notes.

A few days ago a very successful garden party was held at Burin in connection with the Methodist Church. The grounds were tastefully decorated for the occasion with hundreds of flags and an arch was erected over the entrance gate. The beautifully fine day helped to enhance the brightness of the scene. About 600 people of all denominations were present, including several visitors and a number of men from the Nova Scotia vessels which were in port at that time. During the afternoon ice creams and candy were sold and later a substantial tea was provided by the Ladies' Aid. After tea various games were indulged in and on all sides there were evidences of good feeling and satisfaction. One of the most pleasing features was an impromptu concert followed by a splendid display of fireworks. Great credit is due to Mr. C. F. Bishop who lent the grounds and who spared himself no trouble or expense in his efforts to make the event a successful one.

The Methodist Parsonage, which is being rebuilt, is steadily progressing and when completed will be a very substantial and well appointed house.
 The members of the Ladies' Aid are working hard to meet the expenses of the scheme. The proceeds of the party mentioned above go for that purpose.

We understand that the contract is completed for the building of a C. O.
 E. Parish Hall and the work is about to be commenced by Messrs. Davey Bros., of St. John's.

The Merchant's Association is holding its picnic at Salmonier this week, and about one hundred and twenty are anticipating an enjoyable time. CORRESPONDENT.

Nutritive Hypophosphites

When a person feels "blue" "all tired out"—doesn't feel like doing anything—cannot concentrate his mind on his work—feels weak mentally and physically—doubts his powers —complains of poor appetite and sleeplessness—suffers from headaches—then his nervous

Fish and Game Protection.

A new departure, but one that should receive the approval of all sportsmen, marks the August issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Ltd., Woodstock, Ont. The greater portion of the reading pages is given up to the reproduction in full of the Interim Report of the Ontario Fish and Game Commission. As a rule Government publications receive only scant attention and have but a limited circulation. In this instance, however, the Report, through its appearance prominently before the attention of sportsmen, not only throughout Canada but also in the States, and the many suggestions and recommendations contained therein can scarcely fail to have some effect in a much wider field than the Province. The interest taken in Fish and Game protection is now general throughout North America and this document will be studied and quoted for a long time to come. The statement of existing conditions and the many recommendations for improvement will bear much consideration from sportsmen. Through their organizations they should let the Government know their views on these matters in order that legislation may be based upon at least some of them. The interesting experience gained in "Canoeing on Lake Superior" is concluded and the story told of Mr. Vance's Pet Fox, while the capture of a big fish is related. For trapshooters the number is fascinating as it gives interesting accounts of many big meets and numerous smaller ones, showing the importance attached to this branch of sport throughout the Dominion.
