

Be Wise in Time

You cannot keep well unless the bowels are regular. Neglect of this rule of health invites half the sicknesses from which we suffer. Keep the bowels right; otherwise waste matter and poisons which should pass out of the body, find their way into the blood and sicken the whole system. Don't wait until the bowels are constipated; take

CHAPTER XVII.

TWO BROKEN HEARTS.

He kissed her as he pronounced the name by which he had rechristened her, and her father entered. Chapman turned to him.

"May we have your blessing, sir?" he asked, not without emotion. "She has promised to marry me to-morrow."

"Was there ever a more heartfelt, a more prayerful one given? And the cry went up from the bottom of Lansing's soul:

"Oh, God! show me that my suffering has not been in vain! Grant them happiness!"

The sweetest of simple ceremonies took place the morning following, in the drawing-room of Meredith Lansing's own home, a ceremony that united two lives.

Also! how many times does it fail to unite two hearts as well!

But Bebe was happy! Happy with that supreme joy that comes from believing herself beloved by the man she adored, and, watching her, wondering at her pleasure, Chapman tried to convince himself that he was content, tried to make his own heart, still freshly quivering under its recent wound, believe that he was learning to love her in return.

And, as if fearful of the interposition of some hideous ghost of the past, the rising of some Banquo of retribution, Lansing watched the scene.

There were no guests, only himself, his sister Margaret, the clergyman,

TUMOR OF YEARS GROWTH

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winnipeg, Man.—"Eleven years ago I went to the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, suffering with a growth in the uterus. The doctors said it was a tumor, and could not be removed, as it would cause instant death. They found that other organs were affected and said I could not live more than six months in the condition I was in. After I came home I saw your advertisement in the paper and commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it constantly for two years, and still take it at times, and both my husband and myself claim that it was the means of saving my life. I highly recommend it to suffering women." Mrs. ORILLA BRADLEY, 284 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy—tumor. If you have mysterious pains, inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills.

he thinks, with me, that it would be better for us to be alone just at first; that is, of course, if you agree. Aunt Margaret has consented to have you already in time for the steamer to-morrow, and we will take a run to the old country. You will go with me, Angel?"

"Do you think you need ask? As if you had not arranged it because you knew it would be for my happiness! How good you are! She could not read his face, and since the terrible harm was done it was much better so. Before he could reply a messenger entered with a note.

Chapman broke the seal and read: "DEAR CHAPMAN: Can you spare me half an hour? I want to see you about something very special, and have sprained my ankle, so that it will be impossible for me to go to you. Do not refuse, old man, but come at once and help me out of a conjunctured predicament.

Yours in friendship,
"DONALD QUINTARD"

With some amusement Chapman read the note aloud.

"Dear Mr. Quintard!" exclaimed he sympathetically. "How sorry I am! He was always so kind to me! You must go to him at once, Edwin."

"And leave you to-day?"

"We must not be selfish, dear. Remember I shall have you for always now. He is in pain! Of course you must go, but—ask him not to detain you long this time, will you not?"

Quintard's own dogcart had been sent, and into it Chapman stepped fifteen minutes after, being driven rapidly to Quintard's house.

But the doctor had come during the time of waiting, and was dressing his ankle, so that Chapman was shown into the reception room to await the pleasure of the medical man.

He stopped short as the portieres fell behind him, an expression of hideous pain contracting his features. He was about to retire when a queenly figure emerged from the shadows and quickly extended her hand.

"Do you mean to cut me because of my action toward your friend? she asked reproachfully. "Did you not tell me that I was doing right? Have you no work of congratulation to offer me upon my freedom?"

Was there a hysterical sob suppressed in her voice, or was it his fancy? He tried hard to take his heart under his control, but it was throbbing too madly.

"You forget that what brings you joy is death to me," he answered wearily. "No, Duchess, I did not mean to cut you, but I feared that I had sinned beyond your forgiveness. I hope you are happy!"

"I shall be," she replied, smiling up at him. "I wonder that you can care. I wonder that you do not despise me, feeling as the author of 'The Exile' must. I should like to hear you say once again that you do not. I should like to hear you say that you forgive me for what I have done." (To be continued.)

No more Torture from Eczema.

Relief Quick and Cure Certain When DR. BOVEL'S HERB AND GUM SALVE is used.

There is no form of itching skin disease which can defy the extraordinary curative powers of Dr. Bovel's Herb and Gum Salve. This is a strong statement, and is only made after years of experience with the use of this preparation in the most horrible cases of eczema which you could imagine.

Relief from the terrible itching comes with the first few applications and then it is a question of patiently applying the salve and watching the natural process of healing which is set in operation by this great healer.

There are lots of cures to refer to, but what you want is actual relief in your own case, when you will soon realize that there is no disputing its wonderful healing power.

If you have Eczema or any form of itching skin disease don't get an hour's peace before sending for this treatment.

Dear Sirs,—I feel it my duty to make you some endorsement of the excellent healing qualities of your Herb and Gum Salve, which I have used for eczema and skin eruption. It has also been used in my household for scalds, burns, etc., and I find it unsurpassed as a curative agent for such troubles.—Yours, W. DUFF, St. Lambert, P.Q.

Notes From Harbor Grace.

The wedding of Mr. W. H. Noel, of the Surveyor General's Office, to Miss Lilly, of Trinity, is announced to take place about the end of the month. Congratulations in advance.

Mr. Andrew Martin has received the appointment of Assistant Light Keeper on Harbor Grace Island. Mr. Martin removes out this week.

The Agricultural Exhibition opens on Wednesday, and we are informed that a number of St. John's people will take a run over and have a look at our exhibits. They will, we feel sure, be agreeably surprised at the many and varied agricultural products of this neighbourhood.

Mr. Arch. Munn was in town yesterday, from St. John's, visiting his many friends.

Mr. John Murray, an old and well-known citizen passed away on Thursday night after an illness extending over some time. Mr. Murray was a native of St. Malo, France, but had resided here for a number of years. He leaves a widow, who is very ill at present. Mr. M. was over 80 years of age.

Mr. D. Munn, after spending a day or two at St. John's, returned home on Friday.

The Union Wood Work Company commenced operations on Friday. Their first cargo of lumber arrived on that day, and two other cargoes are expected shortly. We wish the new firm much success.

A beautifully illuminated address is to-day to be presented to Rev. Dr. Whelan, of North River, by some of his parishioners on his return from his visit abroad. The address is printed on white satin, the work being done at the Standard Office, while the finishing touches were added by our talented young townsmen, Mr. James A. Power. It is beautifully finished, and Mr. Power is to be congratulated on the excellence of his work.

Mr. Andrew Rutherford who was compelled to remain in doors through illness for a few days is, we are pleased to note, able to be about again.

Our town was plunged in gloom on Saturday when it was learned of the death by drowning at Carbonear of one of the town's fishing skippers, Mr. G. Herald. Mr. H. was well known here and grief was general when the sad news of his death was made known. He left with our townfolk in tendering our sympathy to his sorrowing family and friends.

"Twin babies (son and daughter) were born to Mr. and Mrs. John Hart of Garland Street, last week. The Rev. T. S. Coffin, Pastor of St. Andrew's Church here, intends going to St. John's by Wednesday's train to be present at and take part in the induction of Rev. Mr. Sutherland, a pastor of St. Andrew's Church, St. John's. Saturday's morning's storm was felt very much here, but fortunately little or no damage was done. The wind blew with terrific force in the early morning, and the wonder is that much damage was not the result. A few of the trees of our branches were blown by the high wind.

Herring were very plentiful in the market this morning, and sold for 12 to 15 cents per dozen.

Damaged Banker Here

The Gloucester Banker Maxene Elliott, Capt. Patrick Shea, arrived here yesterday afternoon from the Virgin Rocks where she had been fishing the past six weeks, with 250 qts. fish. He found cod scarce and almost everywhere going to the Banks he had weather, so that for days at a time it was impossible for the men to fish. Friday night and Saturday morning the worst storm of the many she experienced was encountered while the vessel was on the Bank. In the straining, due to the high sea which ran, the Elliott parted her cable an lost 250 fathoms of it with the anchor 20 fathoms of chain and 30 fathoms of wire hawser. After she went adrift "a slop of a sea" cut the rudder awa; and she had to be nursed along to this port as well as possible. The vessel was handling and has to her credit to date 2,500 qts. fish for 39 dorics. Twelve vessels, local, Canadian and American, were in her company and all sustained some damage, losing a lot of cable with their anchors and other gear.

Capt. Shea is a native of St. Lawrence, and has been twenty-three years fishing out of Gloucester. Half his crew are Newfoundlanders.

New Boiler Installed.

The new boiler for the B. I. S. Hall which was recently installed is now in working order, and proves a great success. It is 14 feet long and 5 feet high, and is the only one of its kind in the country. At the present time it heats St. Patrick's Hall up and down stairs, and next year when the pipe connections are made it will heat the O'Donnell Wing also. The contract of putting in this boiler was performed by the R. N. Co. with the assistance of Mr. T. J. Nash who with his usual generosity and zeal gave nearly a whole week of his time in helping do the job.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"Will you please tell me how I can keep some hold upon a red-hot poker, and not be burned?"

That, in spirit, is the question a young girl has just written to ask me. No, not in just those words, of course. This, paraphrased, is her story. She is a girl of twenty, a stenographer in a large office. A handsome married man of about forty years of age continually pays her attention, writes to her, confides in her, and so forth.

At first she persistently discouraged his attentions, but lately has accepted some of them. This little story, which doubtless has its prototype in every large business office in the country, she concludes with—

"I have learned to care for him more than I should for a married man. What can I do to keep him from pursuing me so constantly, and to avoid the danger of scandal, but still retain his friendship?"

In other words, "How can I keep some hold upon a red-hot poker, and still not be burned?"

Dear lady, don't you realize that you are asking me the world-old question of weak humanity?—"Isn't there some way that I can do wrong and not suffer the consequences?"

As far as I can see, you can do one of two things—

You can save yourself from being burned by letting go of that poker right off quick.

Or you can keep hold and prepare to be burned.

But you CAN'T do both. Maybe things have come to pass where you think you can't do the first.

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

DR. PIERRE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgement.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medicinal roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrappers. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proven remedy of known composition. Ask your druggist. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighbourhood. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierre, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Chanteleur now turns his attention towards china. Cups and saucers decorated with the lord of the manor will delight children as well as grown-up-ups who like the latest novelties.

A laundress says that one cannot be too particular to rinse the soap out of garment in the washing, for if it is so soap that causes the bluing to appear here and there in the garment.

Put a good-sized lump of salt into a cup of vinegar and put it into a vessel that is discolored and let it stand or half a day. Wash well with hot water and soap and the sediment will come off easily.

A little melted paraffin was poured around the corks of homemade pickle jars will prevent air from entering between the cork and the glass and keep catsup and chutneys fresh and free from mould.

An economical housewife has discovered that if lemons are heated by being plunged into hot water before squeezing the amount of juice obtained is surprisingly increased. The same is true of oranges.

When making collars for thin waists you will find that they will fit much better if a perfectly fitting collar is sewed on the waist first and the strips of lace and insertion are basted on it.

If wash goods are scorched, soak at once in lukewarm water. Sprinkle with salt and lemon juice, lay in the sun and squeeze on fresh lemon juice as it dries. When the stain disappears, wash thoroughly in cold water.

When sewing lace at the top of collars hold it against the wrong side of the collar so that the stitches will come on the right side, drawing the thread moderately tight. This will make the lace stand up neatly around the neck.

If moths get into carpet, wet a clean towel with clear water and lay it over the spot that has been attacked. Then iron the place with a hot iron until the towel is quite dry. The steam will kill the moths and their eggs and will not injure the carpet.

Unless cake tins have been well greased, it is often difficult to dislodge the contents when baked. The experiment should, however, be tried of wrapping the tin for a moment or two in a cloth wrung out in cold water and then giving it one or two sharp knocks.

Now that colored embroidery is popular, it is well worth one's while to know how to take care of it. Great care should be observed in washing silk embroideries. Even the best silk

This Home-Made Cough Syrup will Surprise You

Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply at Small Cost.

Here is a home-made remedy that takes hold of a cough instantly and will usually cure the most stubborn case in 24 hours. This recipe makes sixteen ounces—a family supply. You couldn't buy as much or as good ready-made cough syrup for $2.50.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir twenty minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a 16 oz. bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste—children like it. Braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

You probably know the medical value of pine in treating asthma, bronchitis, and other throat troubles, sore lungs, etc. There is nothing better for the most valuable constituent, Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualic acid and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this inexpensive remedy have made friends for it in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated, often, but never successfully. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

No Separation for Mr. Redmond.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Tribune's London correspondent cables:

—The remarkable political somersault performed by Messrs. Redmond and O'Connor during their tour of the United States and Canada, by which they formally recanted their demands for Irish National independence and avowed themselves staunch devolutionists and Imperialists, has given rise to much speculation as to the causes which can have induced this astonishing volte face.

It is significant in this connection, that Mr. O'Connor, who has been the go-between in all the Government's negotiations with the Irish Party, paid a visit to Downing Street just before sailing for Canada. He then had a long interview with the Chief Liberal whip.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 12.—Mr. Redmond to-day said: "The statement I have abandoned the Irish independence movement is absurd. I stand just where I always stood, and Mr. O'Connor stands with me." "I stand for the absolute government of all Irish affairs by Ireland. Of course Home Rule for Ireland does not mean severance of all interests with England. It could rightly mean a federation of the British Isles."

Across America By Flying Machine.

New York, Oct. 12.—Wm. R. Hearst offers a prize of $50,000 to any aviator using a heavier than air machine who within one year flies from the Atlantic seaboard at Boston or New York to San Francisco, or, reversing the direction, flies from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast, starting and finishing at either of the cities named.

The contestants may be American or foreign and may use any type of self-propelled aeroplane which is heavier than air, not a dirigible balloon. He may choose his own time, season, and route, but including Chicago on the way, he may stop where and as often as he pleases, and may make any necessary repairs and replacements of parts of his machine, but the flight must be accomplished within thirty days of the start. It is not necessary that there shall be a race. If only one contestant for the prize appears and achieves the flight, the prize of $50,000 will be paid; if more than two contestants start, the one that accomplishes the feat first will be awarded the prize. There are no other conditions.

Crushed to Death At Blast Furnace.

SYDNEY, Oct. 11.—Maurice Boyd, an employee at the blast furnaces of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company was instantly killed this morning by being crushed beneath the weight of an ore bucket, which dropped from one of the cranes.

The accident happened about eight o'clock. Boyd, it appears, was climbing over an obstruction, and had been warned to look out for the bucket, but paid no attention to the warning and continued his climb, when without warning the heavy bucket, filled with ore, dropped suddenly crushing him beneath its weight.
