Brotherhood Movement.

HOW TO SAVE THE COUNTRY.

Evidence of increasing interest was manifest by the attendance at the Brotherhood Service last night. The ladies are beginning to find out that this Brotherhood secretary has a message also for them and they are coming out in large numbers. The Song Service was heartily taken up by the congregation, and the solo entitled "Drifting," composed by the son-in-law of the late Rev. J. E. Hunter, the well-known evangelist, was greatly enjoyed. Rev. Mr. Williamson is a host in himself, and his voice has marvellous staying power.

The story of the rich young ruler as recorded in St. Mark's Gospel, 10; 17-22, was the preacher's theme and the sermon was heard with an interest that was intense. There was much to admire, much to love in that young man, said the preacher. I like him, I love him. He was wealthy, he was great, he had this world's possessions bestowed upon him in large measure, and yet he was not satisfied; no one ever can be satisfied with material things alone. The soul was made for God, and only He can meet its needs. This young man came to Jesus for help; came running, kneeling, enquiring the way of life, and Jesus put up against him the law of God. It was a severe test, but the young man met it, for he looked into the all-seeing eyes of Jesus and said, "All these things have I kept." That was a great thing to do. It meant that the young man had lived a clean life, and that is worth much. How many stand at the marriage altar who could not say as much as that? It meant that he had obtained his wealth honestly, and not all rich men can say that. It meant that he had done his duty to his father and mother, and how many fail in this respect? The preacher spoke in words that burned upon neglect of aged parents by those who owe everything to them. No wonder Jesus loved him and gladly undertook to supply the need in his life. "One thing thou lackest." Mere morality, even of the highest kind, is not enough. Surrender your possessions and follow me, was his demand upon that young man. It may be something else that Jesus demands of us, but whatever form it might take, it always implies submission to Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord. It always means giving Jesus Christ the first place in our lives. It always means having Him upon the Throne as our King and Sovereign Lord, and Jesus Christ will take no other place. He must be supreme or He will have no place at all. How many are trying to satisfy their conscience by something far different from this and will have a rude awakening by and by. How many of you, enquired the preacher, have submitted to the supreme claim of Jesus Christ in your lives? And his appeal for that surrender there and then was urgent and powerful.

The Rev. gentleman announced that this evening he will tell the people of Newfoundland how to save their country. He had been listening to blue ruin speeches in the House of Assembly; he has been reading pessimistic statements in the press. Now he is going to be sufficiently daring to tell us a way out. All are cordially invited to hear him at 8 o'clock this evening.

Woman Suffrage.

Are we, the Women of Newfoundland, less intelligent, less capable of clear thinking and right action, and less worthy of the confidence of our men than our sisters in other parts of the world? Women have the same stake in the country, that men have, the same interest in industrial and economic legislation, and there is no sense nor justice in preventing them from expressing their convictions through the vote—which is the only effective expression of opinion. To-day the question of Woman Suffrage is an acute one. Women feel that they are capable of using the vote wisely and intelligently and they are going to have it. The sooner politicians realize this the better, for just as surely as day follows night it has to come. In other countries where women have established their cause, it has been with a determination so great that they have never drawn back, so it is here. —COM.
